Charles Miller, who graduated from the Saginaw, Mich., Theological School, with honors, filled the pulpit of Zion Lutheran church last Sunday. Next Sunday, he will preach at Macksburg, and on the 26th will be ordained as pastor of the congregation at La Camas, Wash.

H. J. Miller, the Anrora hop buyer, was in town Monday. He says that he occasionally buys a lot of hops at prices ranging from 8 to 11 cents per pound. He said that hops not worth eight cents per pound, were hardly worth buying. Many hops were not worth buying at all on account of the mold.

Postmaster Gorbett, of Colton, who was in town Wednesday, complains that the papers leaving here on Saturday, do not reach Colton and El Hood until the following Wednesday. Formerly, the mail carrier from Oregon City reached Clarks in time to connect with the mail carrier, going to Colton, but it is different now.

J. G. Pillsbury returned Friday from a several month's sojourn in the Baker county mines. He reports finding several Clackamas county men there. T. Campbell is clerk in the Capital hotel, E. Sadie White is prospering in a racket store, Harley Wood is in the saloon business, and John Hill recently opened up in the same line. Harry Ralston has also secured a position there.

W. P. Hawley, formerly superintendent of the Crown paper mills, has returned to San Francisco with his household effects. He says that the new mill the Crown Company is erecting at Floriston, Calif., is one of the largest of its kind on the coast. E. J. Dalton, who has succeeded Mr. Hawley, as superintendent of the Crown, expects his family here from Brookville, N. Y., within a month, and they will occupy the dwelling recently vacated by Mr. Hawley.

W. H. Counsel, roadmaster, who has charge of the Molalla road improvement, was in town Monday. He reports that the new rock crusher is doing excellent work. It grinds up rock at the rate of 80 yards per day, although they have been unable to get rock pounders enough to keep the rock crusher running only a short time each day. Already about three-quarters of a mile of road has been graveled since the rock crusher started up.

A little daughter of W. Boylan fell and struck a rock on her head last Sunday afternoon. She was unconscious for awhile. Dr. Strickland was summoned, and the little girl was soon out of danger.

Houses and housekeeping rooms to rent are exceedingly hard to find in Oregon City at this time. One man said that he had looked two days, and had been unable to find either houses or rooms vacant. This order of things has not existed for several years.

Mrs. M. M. Charman entertained the members of her family and immediate relatives last Sunday in honor of T. L. Charman's 40th birthday. Those present were: Major and Mrs. Thomas Charman, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Charman and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Charman and son, Mrs. M. Diller and Mrs. M. M. Charman.

The name of Mrs. Ed. A. Sheahan was unintentionally omitted from the program of the A. O. U. W. entertainment printed last week. Mrs. Sheahan ranks high as a singer, and has a cultivated voice of rare sweetness of tone. Robert Warner's illuminated club swinging was an example of dexterous skill. Miss Nina Caples played the accompaniment on the piano.

The following is from the McMinnville Transcript: The consecutive number of boys at the Oregon state reform school is gradually climbing up. The first boy received at that institution was on November 6th, 1891. He was No. 1. A boy was received Thursday. He is No. 381. There are now 102 boys at the institution. Where are the 279 to make up the difference between 381 and 102? They are out on parole, mostly. Some of them have attained the age of 21 years and so passed beyond the jurisdiction of the school. Four or five have died. The paroled boys are scattered throughout the country. A number are holding good positions. Others are not doing so well, according to reports that reach the school. About 20 of the paroled boys were with the Oregon volunteers in the Philippines. One was a sergeant. Two were with Dewey when he sunk the Spanish fleet in Manila bay. The name of the boy received Thursday is Fred Yelkes. He is from Oregon City. His age is between 15 and 16, and he comes for pilfering. He has a father and a mother some where in Clackamas county, and he shows evidence that one or both of them have Indian blood.

The educational classes at the Y. M. C. A. are now doing excellent work. General Secretary H. W. Stone, of Portland, gave an excellent talk on class work Monday night. The class instructors are Frank Weed, N. M. Moody, J. W. Leder and E. E. Cumpston.

Conrad Essig, of Hillsboro, aged about 63, who was a passenger on the south-bound morning train between Portland and Salem, died near Willamette, Coroner Strickland held an inquest, and the jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes—probably heart disease.

Mrs. Nelson Lawrence will commence an adult dancing school next Tuesday evening at Armory hall. Terms: Thirty-five cents for beginners; twenty-five cents, general dancing. Private lessons at residence fifty cents. Young people's class at Willamette hall every Saturday evening.

About 15 members of Company I veterans met at the armory Monday night, and made preliminary steps toward the organization of a Philippine veteran's club. The following committee was appointed to report on a plan of permanent organization next Monday night: Lieutenants J. U. Campbell and G. W. Martin, Quartermaster-Sergeant J. W. Moffatt, John B. Finley, Joseph H. Bleck and William B. Logus. In the meantime all the members of the Second Oregon in this vicinity, will be notified to be present, and will be asked to become members of the new organization. It is the intention to fit up neat club rooms, where the boys can spend social evenings together. The organization is certain to be a success.

Some boys found the body of a dead man near the electric line opposite Willsburg, last Sunday. The body was partly decayed, and had evidently lain there three or four weeks. The authorities at Portland were notified, but it was determined that the body was in Clackamas county. Coroner Strickland and G. B. Dimick, deputy district attorney, held an inquest on the body. The jury returned a verdict of death from alcoholism or heart failure. There was nothing on the body by which he could be identified. He was apparently an Irishman, well dressed in laboring clothes, about 5 feet 9 inches in height. There was no evidence of foul play. Around his camp were several empty bottles and several heads of cabbage. The body was interred by the county authorities.

Clare Campbell and Leighton Kelly left the first of the week for Sumpter, Baker county. Clare will go into business with his father, but Leighton will return after a short visit.

J. H. Revenue, of Sandy, who was in town Wednesday, stated that $2,000 worth of volunteer road work had been in his district this year. Five and a half miles of plank road was laid.

J. M. Turner, of Stafford, was in Oregon City Wednesday. He was accompanied by C. N. Wilson, recently of Eastern Oregon, who has traded for 40 acres of land in that neighborhood.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for year by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George B. Williams of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to be her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run-down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by Geo. A. Harding Druggist.

He Rode With the Dead.

Louis Young had a thrilling experience Monday night. He rode a dozen miles with a stiff, and didn't even have the satisfaction of knowing his earthly name. The coroner had been unable to ascertain the identity of the dead man, and the task devolved upon Young to drive alone with the unknown to Oregon City. The night was dark; the rain pattered on the box containing the corpse, ghostly shadows flitted across the roadway and were lost in the dense, brushy undergrowth, the owls hooted dimly in the big fir trees, graveyards were passed in silence. "Ge' lang, git up," and the cayuses trotted over the rocks, causing the stiff to roll uneasily from one side of the wagon bed to the other, and occasionally the water from the mud holes splashed high. Young, however, was not afraid. As his horses trotted over the county road, he was heard singing, "Rattle his bones over the stones; He's only a pauper whom nobody owns."

Beach and Bowers' Minstrels.

The fifth minstrel company this season occupied the Grand last night. It is related Uriel Acosta, the great scholar and philosopher, that he should have said "There is nothing new below the sun!" Well, that was not the case last night, for a Galveston audience attended for the first time a minstrel "show." That was surprise number one. Number two; the minstrel show did not perpetrate "Break the News to Mother" in any manner, shape or form. Number three; the company had no song folio for sale and hence the happy and unsuspecting auditor no one to buy. No 20-cent folios for 10 cents! And surprise number four, the most surprising and agreeable of all; the audience, which seemingly did not expect to witness much of a performance, were treated to a good minstrel performance, a production decidedly better than that given by similar organizations traveling on the strength of "passed" reputation. It was "first rate" at "half rate," and more in the line of genuine old minstrelsy without modern trimmings.—Galveston News. Tickets on sale at Huntley's, Rows 3, 4 and 5 on the flat and the first six rows on the raise, 75 cents. The rest of the house, 50 cents. Children, 25 cents.

CHURCH GOSSIP.

The evening revival services at the Congregational church are being well attended, and a number of conversions have already resulted.

The Young Ladies' Congregational Club is a new auxiliary of the church just organized. The club will look after certain of the church work. The officers are: President, Mrs. E. S. Bollinger; vice-president, Mrs. K. H. Gabbert; treasurer, Mrs. W. B. Wiggins; secretary, Miss Jean White.

Mrs. L. E. Bailey, national lecturer of the W. C. T. U., gave an interesting address to a large audience at the Presbyterian church last Friday evening.
