W. E. Bonney, clerk of school district No. 72, Elwood; J. W. Watts, school clerk at Stone, and H. F. Gibson, holding a similar position at Eagle Creek, were callers at the county superintendent's office Saturday. Miss Emma Kleinsmith is the successful teacher of the Elwood school.

The funeral services of the late John Page were conducted by Rev. J. H. Beaven, Friday. The deceased was 78 years old and a native of Pennsylvania. He emigrated to Iowa in an early day, and came to Oregon 13 years ago. His son, J. L. Page, of Gladstone, was the only relative here. Other children live in Iowa.

A. Noltner, publisher of the Portland Dispatch, was in the city Friday, and attended the funeral of the late John Myers. Twenty-nine years ago Mr. Noltner planted the seed of the locust tree, now growing in Mrs. Stafford's yard on Main street. At that time Mr. Noltner published the Enterprise, and picked up the locust seed, while going home from the office, and has at times gazed admiringly on the tree, watching its development until it has become one of the attractive shade trees on Main street.

Theodore Clark, manager of the Bandon woolen mills, arrived from San Francisco Sunday, and visited his family for a few hours, before proceeding to Bandon. While in San Francisco Mr. Clark sold enough cloth to keep the mills running steadily for six months. He secured good prices for the product, and could have easily contracted the product of the mills for a year ahead, but hesitated to do so on account of the uncertainty in the future price of wool. Mr. Clark purchased 50,000 pounds of wool, while there.

The Japanese are now manufacturing their own paper, and operate their own plants by the aid of a few skilled workmen from this country.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS.

G. B. Dimick will give an address before the Wilhoit republican club, on the evening of Feb. 12th.

Dr. A. Tilsner, formerly of this city, was married to Miss Carrie L. Beary in Portland, last Sunday.

F. A. Miles has purchased the post-office cigar store from C. A. Nash, and will carry on the business at the old stand.

R. R. Bratton, of Barlow, left a sprig of raspberry bush at this office during the week, that contained green and ripe raspberries and fully developed blooms, all on the same stem.

The seven-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Criteser, has recovered from a severe illness, lasting three weeks. The child was very low with diphtheria, scarlet fever and other complications. Dr. Powell attended the case.

John Duffy, the wood contractor, has secured a three-year's lease for 150 acres along the West Side of the Willamette river, from the Portland General Electric Company. Mr. Duffy is fencing the land, which he will use as a pasture for his horses.

A young man who has been cutting quite a dash in certain circles, is in a fair way to get into trouble, unless he mends his ways, if reports are true. It is said that he recently carried away a woman's watch, but gave it up when approached by the chief of police. Sheet music is said to be missing from several homes. He claimed to have taken the watch as a joke.

Myron Babler, of Logan, was in town Monday. For some time past he has held an important position in a cannery at Fairhaven, Wash., but may conclude to go to Alaska in the spring, where he has been offered a lucrative position. Jacob Babler, a brother of Myron, is superintendent of a salmon cannery at Fort Wrangel, Alaska, on a salary of $3,000 per annum. His brother, Henry, is foreman in the same cannery. When the two brothers return to Alaska in April, Myron may accompany them.

The funeral of the late John Myers was largely attended in this city last Friday. The services at St. Paul's Episcopal church, were conducted by Rev. George B. Van Waters, of Portland, assisted by Rev. P. K. Hammond. The services at the grave in Mountain View cemetery were conducted by Multnomah Lodge, No. 1, A. F. & A. M., J. E. Hedges, worshipful master. The ball-bearers were Penumbra Kelly, Charles R. Frazier and John Becker, of Portland, Judge T. A. McBride, George Harding and J. P. Lovett, of Oregon City. The floral offerings were tastefully arranged and of appropriate and tasty designs. For many years Oregon City and Clackamas county was his home, and no man was ever held in higher esteem or respect.

Charles Reber, the Parkplace butcher, left Oregon City last Saturday night for his home at Parkplace. Upon reaching the railroad crossing below town, one of these bold highwaymen, that have been striking terror into the souls of late-at-night pedestrians, standing at or near the cattle guard at this point, ordered Reber to throw up his hands. Instead of complying latter reached for his revolver and began shooting, firing three shots, the non-explosion of a cartridge stopping a fourth shot in its inciency. Reber, supposing that he had killed the man, returned to town and informed Officer Shaw of this fact. The officer told him to go to the scene of the attempted hold-up, and if it should be found that the man was dead, they would inform the coroner. Constable McCown and a party also went to the scene of the shooting. No trace of the highwayman was found, except the imprint of his tracks in the mud, made while getting out of the way over the fence. The robber evidently dropped down in the pit at the cattle guard, and escaped injury from the shots.

The county board of commissioners held an adjourned term Monday, and made the tax for the year 1899, as follows: County, 11 7-10; state, 6 3-10; school, 5; road, 5; total, 28 mills. A bicycle tax of $1 25 was also levied. In the matter of the delinquent tax on railroad overlap lands, the sheriff was ordered to make an assessment of said lands in accordance with an order of court made and entered of record at the June term of the county court in 1895, and in accordance with a petition there-in at said time. The clerk was ordered to refund all district attorney fees paid since the salary law went into effect, except where reporter's fees had not been paid, and to hold the same for such fee. On account of a remonstrance filed, the appointment of John Barth as road supervisor was reconsidered, and A. H. Reynolds was appointed supervisor of the Macksburg district. W. H. Smith, who was appointed supervisor of the Abernethy district, resigned, and J. E. Smith was appointed in his place. The matter of changing the boundaries of Needy precinct, was again brought up, but laid over until the February term. The voting place in Beaver creek precinct was changed from the school house to the grange hall.

There was a one-sided game of basketball at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Friday night. The home association played the Salem association team, and defeated the latter by a score of 48 to 5. Spectators say that the game was too much one-sided to be interesting. The personnel of the Salem team was as follows: Eorwards, Charles Zanker and C. Ryman; center, Deke Buckingham, who was also captain; guards, Schram and Bird. The Oregon City team consists of the captain, George Case, and Dave Williams, forwards; Frank Montgomery, center, and Nick Humphrey and Will Peters, guards. Dave Williams as a forward, is said to have made some brilliant plays. Much of the star playing of the Oregon City team is due to the scientific training of Secretary A. M. Grilley. The Milwaukie team, who were out of practice, put up the best game of the season against the Oregon City team. A team from the Willamette university, will play the home team here Friday night.
