People, who are anxious to have items in this paper, must remember that they are not wanted after appearing in the Oregon City edition of the Evening Telegram. This paper has 600 subscribers in Oregon City to that paper's 200. The Oregon City department of that paper is put in carelessly, without the proof being read, and is not printed in the Portland edition.

There is plenty of time for naturalized citizens, who have lost their papers, to take out new papers in season to be permitted to register. The act would arm such citizens with a clear title to citizenship, a fact that in the hereafter might be of untold value to them. Several foreign-born citizens, now without papers, will follow this course.

"Above the Clouds" will be given at the West side school Friday and Saturday nights, March 16th and 17th. Following persons will take part: T. J. Gary, Will Silver, Chris Kelly, Chas. Smith, Chas. L. R. Stockwell, the inimitable comedian, is the star of "In Paradise" and has a part that fits him better than anything in which he has appeared for some time. The comedy itself is the most laughable that has been produced for years. It is full of ridiculous situations, and the fun is fast and various from the time the curtain goes up on the first act until the end of the play. While Mr. Stockwell is a whole show in himself, he is supported by an excellent company of recognized comedians. In Paradise at Shively's opera house Wednesday, March 21. Seats on sale at Huntley's at 50 and 75 cents. Don't forget the date.

Roake-Utter.

One of the eventful weddings of the season was the marriage of Miss J. Utter and Samuel Roake, which occurred at the home of the latter at 5 o'clock last Sunday afternoon, March 11th. Rev. A. J. Montgomery was the officiating clergyman, who solemnized the ceremony in the presence of a few invited relatives. The home was daintily decorated for the occasion, and seasonable refreshments were served. The bride is an accomplished woman and prominent as a professional nurse. The groom, Mr. Roake, is one of Oregon City's solid citizens and is prominent in fraternal circles. Many friends extend congratulations.

A Silver Wedding.

Some one has said this is a day of wonders. Evidently Mr. and Mrs. Joe Alldredge believe it to be a day of surprises. Monday, March 12th, 1900, was the 25th anniversary of their wedding, and a few of their friends concluded to give them a little surprise. The evening was spent in singing, instrumental music and games. The guests lingered until the wee sma' hours and then departed wishing the bride and groom, of 25 years, many happy returns of the day. A number of beautiful and useful presents were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Alldredge. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Wood and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Green and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Green and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Eses and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Alldredge and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Tomlinson, Snyder and Dyer.

A quintette composed of Mrs. Wm. Green, Mrs. Ben Doolittle, Grandma Alldredge, Mr. John Alldredge and Joe Alldredge, sang a number of musical selections in a very pleasing manner. Miss Annie Smith and Mrs. Della Green played several selections on guitars and Messrs. Snyder and Alldredge rendered some very good music on the mandolin and guitar. A Guest.

Your Life May Depend Upon It

When your prescription is handed over my counter to be prepared, it is treated as sacredly and confidentially as it is by the physician who wrote it; no comments, no publicity, nothing but the strictest attention to business in my prescription department.

I think there is no physician in Oregon City who will say there is any fault to be found in my method of conducting the prescription department of my store. I believe they will all say my double-check system comes as near making the compounding of your prescription absolutely correct as is possible to make it. I believe, too, it is generally admitted that my prices are just and fair. There are many grades of chemicals to be obtained for prescription work. Some MAY be as good as the best, even though they may be cheaper, but it always has been my policy to take no chances with the MAY BE'S.

Take, for instance, muriate and carbonate of ammonia which go into many a cough mixture—they are probably ALL GOOD, but your physician will tell you that you may be absolutely sure it is the best if made by Squibb. The same may be said of many things made by Merck & Co., and so on through the list. All the better class of preparations will be found on my shelves and each one used where it should be. If you have never had your prescriptions filled on these lines, why not begin now?

When a first-class bicycle, fully guaranteed, can be bought for $25. No better, stronger or neater bicycle than the Crescent is on the market today. The immense Crescent factory turns out 125,000 bicycles each year, over 500 per day in the busy season, and twice the output of any other single factory. That's why they can furnish a first-class wheel for $25. Look at them at Huntley's book store before you buy a wheel.

Another Road Meeting.

The board of trade road committee will go to Eagle Creek to attend a rousing, big road meeting to be held in the afternoon of March 20th, at Wilbern's store. It is expected that George and Garfield will be represented by large delegations at this very important gathering. The convention will convene at 2 p. m.

The object of the meeting will be to interest the people of that section in extending the proposed road improvement from Oregon City and Logan to that part of the county. The people of Logan and vicinity have already raised their share of the subscription, and the Oregon City list will be raised by April 1st. The people of that portion of Clackamas county should turn out to a man and investigate something that is vital to their interests. Money put into roads is well spent. It gives employment to hundreds of people, and gives the producer thoroughfares that enable them to haul heavy loads to market, besides the saving in the wear and tear of horse flesh and vehicles.
