SOCIAL NOTES.

Several Interesting Events During The Week.

Last Saturday night was one of the notable eventful occasions in the history of Falls City Lodge, No. 59, A. O. U. W. Grand Master Herren was present, and made a persuasive, practical plea for the good of the order after the Junior and workman degrees were conferred on two candidates. Then followed a social session, when hot coffee, sandwiches and cake were served. After dinner speeches were made by G. E. Hayes, A. S. Dresser, Judge Ryan, C. H. Dye, and Herman Anthony, of New Era. A vote of thanks was extended to Myrtle Lodge, Degree of Honor, for the artistic and dainty manner in which the hall was decorated, and to Peter Nelson for the excellent lunch served. Credit should also be given W. B. Wiggins for active work in assisting in the details of preparing and serving the lunch; also for assisting Mr. Nehren to wash the dishes on the following morning. The women of the Degree of Honor deserve special mention for the tasteful manner in which the hall was decorated. There was a good attendance of the home members, and several members of Gavel lodge at Canby, were visitors. Mrs. A. S. Dresser gave a delightful church social at her home last Friday evening. About 40 persons were present. The principal feature of the entertainment was guessing at advertisements. The guessing contest will be continued at socials held each month, and at the close prizes will be awarded. Refreshments were served, provided by the guests. Mrs. Bert Allredge gave a delightful quilting party at her home last Thursday afternoon to a number of her steady friends. It was a successful social occasion—lively conversation combined with needle work. The hostess served plenty refreshments. Miss Nina Caples entertained her Sunday-school class at her home Monday afternoon. Mrs. Mary Jane Dickerson was the recipient of a very pleasant surprise party at the home her son at Maple Lane last Monday in honor of her 80th birthday. An excellent dinner was served by the ladies at the noon hour. Those present were: Mesdames Dickerson, Davis, A. H. Finnegan, Painter, Shortledge, Dixon and O. Dickerson; Misses Mary and Birdie Dickerson; Messrs. Fred Painter, Ray Finnegan, Carl Dixon. Grandson Dixon was the recipient of and valuable presents.

The Modern Woodmen gave an excellent program and a successful dance at Willamette hall Wednesday evening.

The crowd at the dance part of the program was said to have been the largest that ever gathered at a similar entertainment. The musical part of the program previous to the dance was an instrumental duet by Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Turney, a piano duet by Miss Nina Caples, a vocal solo by Miss Mary Miles, an instrumental duet by Mrs. Turney and Miss Smith, and a solo by Miss Rebecca Reynolds.

Johnson-Cheney Wedding.

A very pretty home wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Cheney on Main street, on the evening of April 5th, the ceremony being the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lelia Grace Cheney to Willis L. Johnson, of Clackamas. The solemn and interesting ceremony was performed by Rev. A. Mulligan, pastor of the Mount Tabor Methodist church. The bride and groom entered the room from opposite directions following the minister until the bridal couple met and took their places under the floral bell, where the wedding ceremony took place. The floral bell was artistically arranged with white flowers festooned with evergreens reaching to the corners of the parlor. The bride was dressed in white organdie, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and smilax. A splendid lunch was served. The only guests present outside of the relatives of the bride and groom, were Miss Echo Samson, and Mrs. Blanche Hulbert, of Portland. Miss Cora Johnson, of Clackamas, secured the nickel in the cake, and Miss Mollie Hinz, the ring. A number of valuable presents were received by the bride and groom, some of them coming from Chicago and Wisconsin. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will reside at Clackamas.

Spreads Like Wildfire

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, run-down man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by Geo. A. Harding, Druggist.

Copley-Harrington Nuptials.

A very pretty informal wedding occurred at the Evangelical church of Oregon City, on Sunday morning, April 8, at 8 o'clock, when Miss Minnie Harrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harrington, of Oregon City, was united in marriage to Mr. John S. Copley, of San Francisco, by Rev. S. Copley, uncle of the groom.

The altar was prettily decorated for the occasion with flowers and potted plants.

Promptly at 8:30 o'clock, to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Miss Pearl Copley, the bridal party passed up the aisle, led by the little ring bearer, Wava Harrington. They were met at the altar by the minister, who, with an impressive ceremony, soon joined two hearts as one.

After congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Copley entered a carriage and were driven to 8th street, where, amidst showers of rice, they boarded the car for Portland, from whence they departed on the 11:15 train for Seattle. A short time having been spent there and at Victoria, they will go by water to San Francisco.

The bride looked charming in a traveling suit of delicate pearl gray with pink silk waist and white chiffon tie, with hat and gloves to match.

They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents. Miss Harrington graduated at the Monmouth normal school in 1895, and has since been one of Clackamas county's most successful teachers. She leaves among us a host of warm friends, who unite in wishing her a happy voyage on life's sea.

Mr. Copley is an enterprising business man, associated with the firm of Kimball & Co., of San Francisco, and an extensive mine owner.

These two young lives together wrought, New years begin, a new home given, Transfused in mind, in heart and thought: 'Tis a sweet type of heaven.

Dear Lord, oh keep them near to Thee; To them a deep, sweet peace be given; So living here that each shall be The spouse of Christ in heaven.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. E. Harrington, Rev. and Mrs. S. Copley, George Harrington, the Misses Pearl Copley, Ivy, Pearl and Wava Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Story, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Story, Mr. and Mrs. F. Welsh, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Heckart, the Misses Bessie Hamilton, Alice Kirk, Myrtle Taylor, Anna Story, Jennie Tate, May, Jessie and Ora Young, Madge Hill, Aileen Hutchinson, Bessie and Allie Grout; Mrs. J. C. Taylor, Mrs. Harrington, Mrs. W. C. Young, Mrs. E. B. Walker, Mrs. J. Grout, Mrs. C. A. Frost, Charles Rutherford, William Peltzer, A. Chapman; Miss Calla Hornshuh. Mrs. E. F. Story.

Another of L. L. Porter's Dirty Jobs.

The republican county convention, as all remember, passed a resolution endorsing A. S. Dresser for joint representative with Multnomah county, and also one agreeing to give the county printing to the lowest bidder. Porter, being past master in knavery and fearing the county commissioners to be elected will be stubbornly honest, has been promised the contract for two years' printing (remember, the tax payers to pay Porter for his dirty work) if he will down Dresser and secure the nomination of R. Scott in his stead for representative.

For the last two days Porter has been working teeth and toenail trying to deliver the goods for Scott. Does Porter or Scott think they are the whole county and the whole board? We are satisfied the other members of the board are upright and men of sense, and would not permit such a trade if they knew the promises of Scott.

This goes to show, as the Courier-Herald has always said, that Porter will not do anything that is fair. He evidently believes that trickery and deception form the golden rule of business dealings.

New walking hats and sailors just opened. Miss Goldsmith.
