CLACKAMAS COUNTY NEWS

MOUNTAIN VIEW

The 4th of July, 1900, is a date of the past.

Two dozen of the Elyites drove out to the Clackamas hutchery and had a fine picnic dinner for the amusement of the children, 10 in number, and the older people according.

Improvements still go on here. P. D. Currin is making a number of improvements on his premises. Mr. Frost is erecting a house for Frank Welch.

The Falls City Belgian Hare Company (George C. Ely, manager), sold a fine pair of hares to Dr. Norris at a fancy price.

Miss Myrtle Currin spent Sunday evening at Shible with Eletha Cummins, who returned home with her Monday morning to spend the Fourth and attend the Clautauqua.

E. H. Cooper and family have moved from Mountain View addition down to near the central part of town.

Miss Eletha Cummins has a new wheel of the latest style.

Misses Retta Pierce, Myrtle Currin and Eletha Cummins spent the Fourth in Portland.

George V. Ely and wife went on the excursion to Bonneville yesterday.

LIBERAL.

Still cloudy weather, and the wheat aphid is destroying the spring grain.

Jack Dodge has returned home from Washington and will remain for a couple of months.

Lots of hay spoiled by the late rains.

John Viek is cutting a lot of fall wheat for hay, as it is no account for anything else. Such is the state of affairs with lots of farmers in Clackamas county. It is my opinion that we will reap the poorest crops Oregon has ever had.

Silas Wright has a field of fall wheat that will soon be ready for the binder.

T. S. Stipp is hauling ties for Bagby Bros. to Canby.

John Akin returned home from Washington today, and looks well and hearty.

George H. Himes, of the Historical Society of Pioneers of Oregon, was in this vicinity gathering old relics and Indian mortars and pestles.

Miss Bertha Allen, of Monmouth, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. H. White, for few weeks.

Dee Stehman left today for Portland to spend the Fourth.

All in this vicinity are going to the Sunday-school picnic in Kammer's grove, on the Molalla.

The dance at Smith's hall tonight promises to be a grand affair.

Ray Cook left for Eastern Oregon today.

DAMASCUS.

Miss Joeie Haslewood was visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Hall, last week.

Albert G. Derry and Mess Lena Derry were the guests of their sister, Mrs. Clara Buckman, Sunday.

Miss Lavinia Steel is visiting at her uncle, J. Card's.

Walter Heiser has returned home from Eastern Oregon, where he has been working for three years.

August Matthias is improving his old house with rustic and new doors and windows.

J. C. Elliott is having his house newly painted.

Miss Ingle is visiting her parents a few days.

Rosa Higgins was the guest of Mrs. Hall Sunday.

Mr. Kirkley, our butcher, has moved to Lents, but will come out here once a week with meat.

Miss Eula Strange completed a very successful term of school at Union last Friday. The exercises were excellent and well attended.

H. Theissen passed through here on Tuesday.

If the rain continues, I fear the farmers will have to go to the poor house, for it is cracking the cherries, rotting the hay, keeping the aphid alive on the oats and wheat and helping the weeds to grow so that they can't find the potatoes.

July 3.

REDLAND.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Warner were up from Stella, Wash., one day last week.

Mrs. May Kurtz was down from Woodburn the past week.

Miss Hattie Gaskell came up from Portland on a few weeks' visit to her sister, Mrs. L. Funk.

Charles Cutting and daughters, Lyda, Rosa and Mabea, are up from Portland, visiting friends and friends and will celebrate at Union park.

E. M. Brock has bought 75 acres of land joining his place from Mr. Reilly.

McKinley prosperity has struck in at L. Funk's and left a 10-pound girl. All parties interested are doing well.

R. Ageter is going to move onto the place back of William Sprague's place.

Miss Anna Hicinbothem is going to celebrate at Sandy.

A subscription list is in circulation to raise more funds to finish painting the grave yard fence.

Miss Gussie Funk is up from Portland on a week's vacation.

Clover is rotting. Both that which is shocked and that which is standing will make very poor hay.

Jacob Hany is going to move to Milwaukie this fall, where he has rented a place for three years.

July 3.

MEADOWBROOK.

Last Friday Miss Minnie Trullinger closed a three month's term of school at Union Mills, giving the patrons and pupils most excellent satisfaction.

Mrs. Ike Trullinger is visiting relatives and friends in Southern Oregon.

There is some prospect of having a camp meeting at Meadowbrook in the near future. We only beg of the managers to await the time when the hay crop shall be under roof.

Mrs. H. E. Carr is going to Washington to cook in the logging camp where her husband is at work.

George W. Williams is hauling mutton to Portland and investing the proceeds in stock sheep, having bought a band of fine sheep from Mr. Woodside, of Mulino.

Miss Mary Edgecomb has gone to Oregon City to work for the summer.

Budd and William Smith made a trip to Oregon City Monday.

Mrs. Amanda Hodson, of Roseburg, is visiting her nephew, Jasper Trullinger, and family. Mrs. Hodson presented Mrs. Trullinger with an old family heirloom, a clock that the Hudson Bay Company imported into Oregon territory in 1845. All the works, dial, and even the hands, are made of wood, yet it has been running and keeping correct time for 55 years, and today it is ticking as merrily as though the flag that sheltered its infancy was not today drooping in shame from contamination with that political debauchee, Mark Hanna.

Ye gods! Is there no manhood, no sense of honor, left in the republican party? Read the accounts of how the Philadelphia office holders' ratification meeting cheered that vile wretch, Taylor, of Kentucky, whom a jury of his fellow citizens had charged with murder! No one who has followed the Kentucky contest as reported in the papers of that state can for a moment doubt that Taylor is more guilty of the blood of Governor Goebel than is the poor, ignorant fanatic who fired the fatal shot. A political, social or fraternal association of men that will harbor a cowardly murderer who dare not show his Cain-marked face in his own state, and even applaud him, should be buried in oblivion's darkest pit so deeply that no future historian would give amongst its mouldering bones for even an epitaphic whiff of its unholy stench.

A Convincing Answer.

There are many people who do not care for libraries who pride themselves on having "only the books they read" about them, but the answer made by a distinguished scholar to one of those persons very well illustrates how valuable is this idea as to what a library should be. The scholar was connected with an institution of learning which had been greatly helped by a liberal man of the neighborhood, but the liberal man was not much of a sympathizer with the idea of increasing the library. When appealed to in the matter, he replied:

"More books? Dear me, it seems to me you've got more than you can read now. Have you read all you have already?"

"No," returned the scholar, "and I never expect to read them all." "Then why do you want more?" "Let me ask you," said the scholar, "did you ever read the dictionary through?"

"Certainly not," was the reply.

"Well, sir," said the scholar, "a library is my dictionary."

The answer was convincing, and the merchant provided the professor with the funds he wished for.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

It Can't Be Done Now.

"An increase of salary!" exclaimed the pompous manager of a small omnibus company to a clerk who had just made that request. "I am afraid, sir, that you are too extravagant!" He toyed with his heavy watch chain and looked severely at the young man, who returned his stare boldly. It was the set phrase on such occasions, and the applicant had heard it all before. He meant to have that rise or go somewhere else.

"Excuse me, sir," he replied respectfully, "I haven't any chance to be extravagant on what I earn."

"Young man," continued the pompous gentleman, "I have risen from the monkey board. How? By being careful. When I was young I made money by saving 'bus fares.'"

"Ah, that was in the old days," said the young man, with a knowing wink. "But with the bell punches and the present system of inspection, you would find you couldn't save sixpence without being collared, however careful you were."

The manager nearly fainted, and the young man had to seek other employment.—London Standard.

Getting Rope Sense.

A peculiarity about roping horses or steers with a lasso is that after getting a hard fall a few times they quickly get "rope sense." I have often seen them, in a corral, stand stock still when the rope falls across their backs—even when, as a matter of fact, they are not caught. If any reader has ever encountered a clothesline while running at full speed in the dark, the line stretched at about the level of the throat, he will notice that he doesn't run across that lawn any more after nightfall. He's got "rope sense," in fact.—Wide World Magazine.

Why She Enjoyed It.

On Sunday, as a certain Scottish minister was returning homeward, he was accosted by an old woman, who said: "Oh, sir, well do I like the day when you preach!" The minister was aware that he was not very popular and answered: "My good woman, I am glad to hear it. There are too few like you. And why do you like it when I preach?" "Oh, sir," she replied, "when you preach I always get a good seat"—Scottish Nights.

Queer Lot.

Stranger—I have heard that you have a good many queer people in this town.

Citizen—As odd a lot as you'd find in a year's travel. They are a queer set, the whole of 'em, outside my family. And my wife is almost as bad as the others. But then, you know, she wasn't originally of my family.—Boston Transcript.

A peculiar clock of the time of Charles I was the lantern, or birdcage style, which hung from the walls high up, with its works exposed.

Submarine volcanoes are constantly being discovered, and are at times, owing to their sudden appearance, a great danger to navigation.

Quicksands Hidden Under Clay.

Curious but dangerous freaks of nature frequently found in the deserts of Arizona are called quicksands by the Mexicans and Indians. They are masked pitfalls of quicksand that occur in the dry plains and are covered with a treacherous crust of clay that has been spread over them in fine particles by the wind and baked dry by the sun.

The peculiar properties of the soil retain all the moisture drained into them after the infrequent rains and allow it to be filtered to unknown depths, so that a man or a horse or a cow or a sheep that once steps upon that deceptive crust instantly sinks out of sight beyond hope of rescue. The quicksands are on a level with the surface of the desert. There is no danger signal to mark them, and their surface cannot be distinguished by the ordinary eye from the hard clay that surrounds them. They occur most frequently in the alkali covered flats and are often 15 or 20 feet in diameter. Sometimes they are only little pockets or wells that a man can leap across, but the longest pole has never found their bottom. A stone thrown through the crust sinks to unknown depths, and no man who ever fell into one of them was rescued. They account for the mysterious disappearance of many men and cattle.—Chicago Record.

Four Courtship Sundays.

The four Sundays of November are observed as fete days in Holland. They are known by the curious names Review, Decision, Purchase and Possession and all refer to matrimonial affairs, November in Holland being the month par excellence devoted to courtship and marriage, probably because the agricultural occupations of the year are over and possibly because the lords of creation from quite remote antiquity have recognized the pleasantness of having wives to cook and cater for them during the long winter.

On Review Sunday everybody goes to church, and after service there is a church parade in every village, when the youths and maidens gaze upon each other, but for fear to speak. On Decision Sunday each bachelor who is seeking a wife approaches the maiden of his choice with a ceremonious bow and from her manner of responding judges whether his advances are acceptable. Purchase Sunday the consent of the parents is sought if the suit has prospered during the week. Not until Possession Sunday, however, do the twain appear before the world as actual or prospective brides and grooms.—Denver News.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Clackamas.

Matilda Charman, Plaintiff.

vs. W. T. Whitlock, guardian, Delbert Newman, Bertha Newman, Bertie Newman, Minnie Newman, Emma Newman, Max Newman, heirs of H. F. Newman, deceased, and Eva Newman, Defendants.

State of Oregon, county of Clackamas, ss.

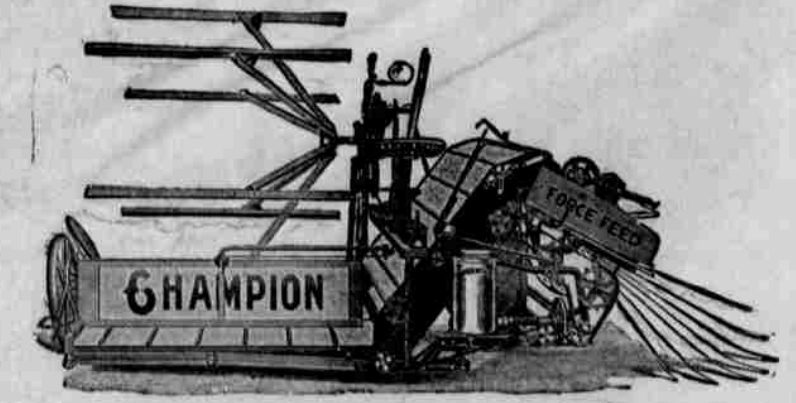

By virtue of a judgment order, decree and an execution, duly issued out of and under the seal of the above entitled court, in the above entitled cause, to me duly directed and dated the 20th day of June, 1900, upon a judgment rendered and entered in said court on the 25th day of November, 1898, in favor of Matilda Charman, plaintiff, and against W. T. Whitlock, guardian, et al, defendants, for the sum of $200.00, with interest thereon at the rate of 10 per cent per annum from the 23d day of September, 1891, and the further sum of $5.00 costs and disbursements, and the costs of and upon this writ, commanding me to make sale of the following described real property, situate in the county of Clackamas, state of Oregon, to-wit:

The southeast quarter (sec 1) of section six (6), in township four (4) south of range five (5) east of the Willamette meridian, containing 160 acres, together with all the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances to the same belonging or in any wise appertaining. Now, therefore, by virtue of said execution, judgment order and decree, and in compliance with the commands of said writ, I will on Saturday, the 4th DAY OF AUGUST, 1900, at the hour of 11 o'clock a. m., at the front door of the county court house in the city of Oregon City, in said county and state, sell at public auction, subject to redemption, to the highest bidder, for U. S. gold coin, cash in hand, all the right, title and interest which the within named defendants, or either of them, had on the date of the mortgage herein, or since had, in or to the above described real property or any part thereof, to satisfy said execution, judgment order, decree interest, costs and all accruing costs. J. J. COOKE, Sheriff of Clackamas County, Oregon. Dated Oregon City, Ore., July 2, 1900.

CHAMPION BINDER

IT BEATS THEM ALL

THE ONLY BINDER with force feed elevator wasting no grain at top of elevators

THE ONLY BINDER having an eccentric sprocket wheel or any other device that does absolutely give a gain of 16 2-3 per cent in power at time of compressing, tying and discharging the bundle. The time when other Binders choke.

THE ONLY BINDER with a relief rake for keeping inside end of cutter bar clear. We have other points that no others have and besides having these features the Champion has all essential features found on the best of other machines such as roller and ball bearings, etc.

Here is a sample of the letters we get from Champion users:

MITCHELL, LEWIS & STAVER CO., Portland, Oregon, Amity, Ore., June 3, 1900.

GENTLEMEN: I bought of your agent J. J. Putnam in 1899 one of your Champion Binders and will say I handled the McCormick, Esterly and Woods but the CHAMPION is the "BOSS." It gave me less trouble than any machine I ever handled and would heartily recommend the CHAMPION BINDER to all wishing to buy a machine. Yours, etc., (Signed) J. L. LADD.
