

McKittrick's stock of spring and summer shoes is now complete.

McKittrick's gents' $2.50 vici bal tan or black are world beaters.

McKittrick's ladies' tan turn balmorals at $3.00 are perfect dreams.

McKittrick's infants' red sandals at 75c are the cutest little things in existence.

McKittrick's Misses' tan sandals at $1.25 are just the thing for summer.

McKittrick's youths' and boys' tan vici bals at $1.75 and $2.00 are full dress.

McKittrick carries a full line of ladies' French heel shoes in balmorals or oxfords. See our display windows.

McKITTRICK The Shoe Man Next Door to Oregon City Bank. OREGON CITY

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

PERSONAL MENTION.

Chris Tellefson was in from Logan Saturday.

J. W. Loder spent the Fourth of July at Albany.

H. S. Gibson visited Corvallis Friday and Saturday.

Deputy Sheriff J. E. Jack attended the celebration at Hubbard.

Charles Bitzer was in from Scott's Mills to celebrate the Fourth.

Dr. J. H. Miller and A. M. Griley spent the Fourth at Silver Falls.

J. R. Shaver, a prominent Molalla farmer was in town on the Fourth.

J. O. Brown, a prominent citizen of Viola, was a visitor in town Monday.

Mrs. Louise Strauser and son went to Turner Tuesday, for a short visit to relatives.

Ara McLaughlin has completed the census for Milwaukie and Abernethy precincts.

Mr. and Mrs. Presley Welch, of Clackamas precinct, were visitors in the city Tuesday.

George A. Harding and his son, Lee, were among those who went to Astoria on the Fourth.

William Dickey was over from Cecil, Wash., to spend the Fourth with relatives here.

D. S. Moore and daughter, who live six miles out on the Molalla road, were in the city Monday.

Cherter and Harry Muir and Mrs. M. E. Case and daughter went on the excursion to Seaside.

Mrs. A. V. Davis, of Marquam, was visiting with visitors Mrs. W. H. Van Wey, during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Swope spent the Fourth at Seio, Linu county, where he delivered the oration.

Mrs. Emma Miller and son, Jack, and W. H. Backer, of Portland, were visiting relatives here Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Stewart, of Woodburn, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. Farr, during the week.

Mrs. John Spangler, of Corvallis, came down Monday, and is visiting her daughter, Mrs. L. L. Porter.

Miss Mabel Thayer left yesterday morning for Seaside, where she will remain for a couple of months.

Roy Cole went to Corvallis Tuesday to visit his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Mulvey, for a few days.

Misses Celia and Zedla Goldsmith expect to leave today (Friday), for a short visit with relatives at Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. George Marr and children spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Wright at Liberal.

Andrew Greisshaber and two daughters, the Misses Greisshaber, of New Era, were visitors in the city Monday.

Postmaster Gus Schuebel and daughter were in from Stubei Tuesday. He reports a sorry outlook for the wheat crop.

Frank C. Loomis came down from Eugene Monday to spend the Fourth of July with his father, Special Land Agent C. E. Loomis.

P. G. Wells, who is mining in Skamania county, Wash., was exhibiting some fine gold-bearing and copper ore in the city Tuesday.

Mrs. G. A. Heinz and child returned Tuesday from a visit to her parents at Noble, and was accompanied home by her sister, Miss Inez Adair.

L. Heinz and Chris Wyman were in from Mackeburg Monday. Mr. Heinz says that the crop prospect appears better than it did a few weeks ago.

Frank Jagger and family were in from Carus Monday. He stated that a portion of the wheat crop was the poorest that he had seen for 28 years.

ings last Sunday. It was the closing day, and they reported an attendance of about 500. R. v. Luce was the principal minister.

Miss Elsie Taylor, of Marquam, is visiting Mrs. W. H. Van Wey, and attending the teachers' institute.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Smith, of Needy, were visitors in the city yesterday.

Howard Brownell has been stopping on the J. K. Graham farm at Beaver Creek.

Eugene Cumins returned last week from Yakima to Highland. He states that 4000 men are waiting for the government to open the Colville reservation.

President W. C. Hawley, of Salem, who is one of the instructors at the teachers' institute, gave the oration at Grant's Pass on the Fourth, and reported good weather there.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Kinnaird and Albin Meinig came down from Cottage Grove this Tuesday morning. Mr. Kinnaird was inspecting a government survey near the Bohemia mining district, and stated that the country in that section was a very rough.

H. F. Gibson, justice of the peace at Eagle Creek, was in town Monday. He stated that his brother, Harvey, who is census enumerator for a large district, had completed Springwater precinct, and was getting fairly started in the Harding neighborhood.

Harry Draper, of Huntley's drug store, is now a full-fledged licensed pharmacist. The other day he passed an examination before the state board his average per cent. of answers rating 97 per cent. This is one of the highest ratings ever given an applicant before the state board.

Miss Nellie Younger was visiting Miss Hattie Monroe in Portland early in the week. It was then Miss Monroe's intention to visit the City of Mexico in company with another young lady, and spend the summer vacation there, the former having relatives in the capital of the Mexican republic.

J. F. Clark, the abstractor, on Monday received a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Henry Cromer, of Logan, who has been under the doctor's care in the South country for some time past, on account of a broken leg, returned Saturday. He was taken out home by his brothers, Winford and Jonas. When the accident occurred he was 40 miles from the nearest physician, and suffered greatly before getting relief.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Agnes Washburn, aged 60, was held at the family residence at Parkplace Friday, the services being conducted by Rev. E. S. Bollinger. The funeral was largely attended by many friends, who gathered to pay the last sad tribute. The deceased was born at Augusta, N. Y., and had been a resident of Oregon for the past 18 years. Her husband, the late Andrew J. Washburn, died about three years ago. The deceased left an only child, Mrs. George A. Hamilton. A tribute by the Chautauqua circle printed in another column, in which she was held in the highest esteem in which she was held.

It is well that only two celebrations of the Fourth of July were planned to be held in Clackamas county, for it was a wet national holiday. Senator Brownell spoke at Union Park, and G. R. Miller was the reader. At Sandy Meinig's hall was held to hear Judge G. E. Hayes' oration, and the reading of the Declaration of Independence by Miss Gibbons. Many Oregon City people, who intended to attend country celebrations and picnics, changed their minds when the rains continued to fall all the forenoon. Many left town on the steam boat and railroad excursions, and more went to Portland to see the illuminated parade. The dancing parties throughout the county were successful functions.

An interesting place is Herman Anthony's berry farm at New Era. He has 150 stands of berry, many of them thoroughbred Italian. He probably has the largest aggregation of berry in any dealer in the state. He also breeds Himalayan and Belgian hares. Another noticeable feature about his place, is the method of trimming Evergreen blackberries, which contrasts strongly with the usual almost impenetrable mass of thorny growing in most places. The bushes are planted along the fence, and two or three carefully trimmed runners are trained to grow each way on the fence. Cultivated in this way the berries grow very large and are easily gathered. This plan of raising blackberries is worthy of a trial by others.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Henry Cromer, of Logan, who has been under the doctor's care in the South country for some time past, on account of a broken leg, returned Saturday. He was taken out home by his brothers, Winford and Jonas. When the accident occurred he was 40 miles from the nearest physician, and suffered greatly before getting relief.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Charles Deaver, aged 37, until recently a valuable relic by express—the sword that his grandfather, Captain J. F. Clark wore through the revolutionary war. Mr. Clark's father, P. F. Clark, of Polk county, is now visiting in the East, and sent this valuable heirloom to his son.

Where to Drink

You ought to drink the best soda water you can get—ought to go out of your way if necessary to get it. Why? Because there is as much difference in the making and service ice cream soda as there is in making coffee. We put as much thought and care in the making of our soda as we do in the making of our best selling preparation. That's why it's the best and worth going out of your way to get.

C. G. HUNTLEY Oregon City, Ore. Proprietor.

Randall, J. C. Bradley, W. H. Howell, H. W. Trembath and G. W. Ward went to Oswego Monday night and installed the newly-elected officers of the Odd-Fellows lodge. All the names of the officers installed, that could be secured, were as follows: Noble grand, P. T. Outright; vice-grand, G. W. Risley; secretary, John F. Risley; treasurer, George W. Prosser. After the ceremony a banquet was served.

Oregon Lodge No. 3, I. O. O. F., of this city, pays out on an average of $120 per month for sick benefits.

EDUCATIONAL.

Matters of Interest To School Districts and Teachers.

County Superintendent Bowland opened the annual teachers' institute yesterday morning with upwards of 100 in attendance, and the enrollment has been steadily increasing. It already gives promise of being the best institute ever held in Clackamas county, as the instructors are the most talented that could be secured. The musical part of the daily program is conducted by Professor Oumpton; President W. C. Hawley, of the Willamette university, instructs in history and civil government; President A. B. Coffey, of the Washington, primary matters; Professor Jarvis, grammar and geography, and Professor H. S. Gibson, arithmetic. A. M. Griley gives physical instruction.

On July 2nd, County Superintendent Bowland made an appropriation of county school funds of $1.25 per capita for each child of school age.

The following Clackamas county resident, and former resident teachers of Clackamas county were re-elected teachers in the Portland schools. The Portland school board, however, has made an order that any teacher who marries during the time that she is elected will forfeit her position: Hattie Monroe, Central school; Mary E. Barlow and May Kelly, Felling; Lorene Ackerman, Harrison; Margaret Dolan, Park; Ana G. Baird, Stephens; Kate Porter, Thompson; Fannie Porter, North Central.

BOARD OF TRADE WILL PREPARE A COUNTY EXHIBIT.

It is now an assured fact that Clackamas county will have a very creditable exhibit at the coming state fair to be held in Salem.

The board of trade have taken the matter in hand, and the personnel of the committee appointed by President H. E. Cross is an assurance that the work will be carried to a successful issue. The members of the committee are: Thomas F. Ryan, chairman; E. B. Charman, O. W. Eastham, of Oregon City; Richard Scott, of Milwaukie; and J. M. Tracy, of Logan.

Last Monday President W. H. Wohlwend, of Hillsboro, and Secretary D. M. Wisdom, of Portland, were here and conferred with County Judge Ryan, ex-County Commissioner Richard Scott, of Milwaukie, and prominent business men in reference to the advantage of a county exhibit at the state fair, and a unanimous sentiment was expressed to turning the matter over to the board of trade, President Cross calling a special meeting with the result as above given.

The members of the board were enthusiastically in favor of efforts being made to present an exhibit that will show off to advantage Clackamas county's wonderful variety of farm and horticultural products, fine stock, manufactured papers, wool pulp, cloths, fancy leathers, iron and steel manufactures, coal, gold copper and innumerable other articles of export in Clackamas county.

The state board of agriculture have offered a first prize of $200, a second of $100, a third of $75, and a fourth of $50 to the counties making the best exhibit. If Clackamas county don't win the first prize, it will be no fault of the committee. The board of trade voted an appropriation of $25 as a starter for the exhibit and a meeting of the committee will be held Saturday.

The citizens of every section of Clackamas county should do everything to swell the proposed display of home products, and the exhibit should be kept here as a permanent advertisement of the products of this section.

In Memory of Mrs. Agnes Washburn.

Whereas, The Abernethy Chautauqua Reading Circle has lost in the death of our beloved sister, Mrs. Agnes Washburn, an efficient and faithful member; her family, its strong support, and its community, a true and devoted woman; Therefore, Be it resolved that we tender the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy in this, their hour of bereavement.

Be it further resolved that these resolutions be made a part of the records of this circle, and that copies be given to the local papers for publication.

It is not sweet to think henceafter, When the soul shall leave this mortal, Love, with deathless wings, shall wait her.

To those she hath mourned for here? Hearts from which 't was death to sever,