

Swindling a Bank.

A few years ago a well dressed man presented himself at a certain national bank and laid down a check for $3,000.

It was signed by a well known wholesale whisky house, and upon the back were the words, "Identification waived."

At the same time a well dressed man entered the office of a live stock firm at the stockyards and asked if he could wait in the office, as he expected a telephone message.

When it was discovered that the check was a forgery, there was an awful kick, as Smith said Brown was as good as gold.

The man addressed looked dubious, and his friend, who was not acquainted with the would be borrower, moved away, apparently to be out of earshot of the conversation.

"I don't think I can lend you the money today," said the clubman.

"Come on, there's a good fellow," coaxed the other. "You'll get it back tomorrow, sure."

"No; I won't lend it to you," was the reply, "but I'll tell you what I will do. If you're so devilish hard up, I'll give you $5."

"All right; give it to me," was the unblushing rejoinder.

"You've got it already," said the clubman. "Do you remember the five you borrowed from me three months ago? Well, don't bother about paying that back.

"The origin of Phoenix Park. The origin of the name of Phoenix park has puzzled many scholars unacquainted with the Irish language.

It has been said that the Scottish dialect is peculiarly powerful in its use of vowels, and the following dialogue between a shopman and a customer has been given as a specimen.

The Fourth has been a day of abundant feeding. At Mr. Kuerten's bakery four men kept working continually going from Monday morning at 3 o'clock until last night, and yet the demand for eatables was far too great for the supply on hand.

White Man Turned Yellow. Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty, of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was yellow jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver Remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by Geo. A. Harding, druggist.
