fortunate. While trying to manage the animal, the horse fell on him, injuring one leg.

Frank Holloway, of Highland, who went to Walla Walla last March, returned Monday. Recently he had been working in the harvest fields, and stated that a part of the wheat crop was very good. Harvesting had been in progress for the past three weeks, and help was scarce. Hands with the threshers were receiving $2.75 to $5 per day, owing to the skill required for the different kinds of work.

Charles F. Wagner, a prominent farmer of Wilsonville, was in town Monday. With the unusual growth of weeds, several new varieties having appeared, until the whole aggregation is almost crowding the wheat out of existence. Mr. Wagner says that the weeds appear to thrive best on the land that is most thoroughly cultivated. As a consequence of the ravages of the weeds, etc., the yield of fall wheat will be very small.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS.

Born, in Oregon City, July 20th, to H. C. Coffey and wife, a son.

Born, in Oregon City, July 20th, to William Bluhm and wife, a girl.

Dr. M. C. Strickland has had a new sidewalk built along his property on Upper Seventh street. This is a move worthy of a following by other property holders.

Mrs. I. J. Luce, of Oakland, Calif., will preach at the Evangelical church next Sunday evening. The services will be conducted in the English language.

Mrs. Luce is an enthusiastic Christian worker. A good audience is anticipated. Bring gospel hymns.

Lost—On Main street last Monday, an envelope addressed to A. R. Sprague, box 368, Oregon City, containing a deed and some insurance papers of no value, except to owner. Finder will please return to Courier-Herald office, and receive reward. Mrs. A. R. Sprague.

Edward A. Wright, a well known resident of Meadowbrook, was married last Saturday evening to Miss Ollie Whitney. The ceremony took place at the Cliff House in this city, and was solemnized by Rev. A. J. Montgomery. Mr. and Mrs. Wright left Sunday morning for their future home at Meadowbrook.

Following are the new officers of the Spiritual Camp Meeting Association, who recently closed very satisfactory annual session at New Era: President, George Lazelle, of Oregon City; vice-president, Heman Lee, Canby; secretary, Mr. Haines, Silverton; corresponding secretary, Alfred Luelling, Oregon City; treasurer.

The barbers of Oregon City are desirous of crossing bats with the lawyers in a game of baseball. A novel game like this is always appreciated, and proves very entertaining. No one is allowed to practice before the game. This notion is printed by request of several barbers in the city. Should the game materialize, it might be called a barberous affair.

Henry Miley, the former well known Wilsonville merchant, was in town Monday. He is now employed as a watchman on one of the large docks in Portland where the Chinese vessels unload, and was off for a short vacation.

Ex-County School Superintendent H. S. Gibson, who has been teacher of the Russellville school in Multnomah county for the past two years, has been elected principal of the Rainier school. This school has an average attendance of 160 pupils.

O. P. Sharp, of Tualatin, and John Moser, of Stafford, two well known farmers, were in town Friday. Mr. Sharp stated that the fall grain was ripening very rapidly, or rather it was drying up. The outlook for fall wheat is not in the least, encouraging.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bard, his sister, Miss Lydia, and the Misses Shibley were visitors in the city Saturday. Mr. Bard was crippled, the result of an accident that occurred on the day previous. He was driving a team on the road, and his sister, Lydia, was riding on horseback. The horse she was riding, became unmanageable, and threw her on a log, but she escaped without injury. Mr. Bard, however, was not so badly hurt that he could not be sent to jail.

R. L. Russell, the wood contractor, came near losing 1300 cords of wood on the Tualatin river last Sunday. The wood was cut for the Crown Paper Company, but had not yet been delivered. The wood caught on fire in some unaccountable way, and the Crown paper mills sent over several men to keep the fire from spreading. About 250 cords were destroyed before the blaze could be checked.

Leighton Cook, aged eight years, had a hearing before Justice McAuley Monday, on a charge of assaulting Fred Powell, a boy of about the same age, and son of Dr. J. W. Powell. The justice imposed a fine of $10, but suspended sentence pending good behavior.

Boys can only be sent to the reform school between the ages of 10 and 15, and this lad was too young to be sent to jail. Nevertheless, he is liable to be sent there, unless he treads in the straight and narrow path.

Several new buildings are in process of construction in the city, and more will be erected. Rasmussen Bros. are putting the finishing touches on George T. Howard's new 7-room cottage at Gladstone, and will soon begin work on a 5-room cottage for L. Capen at Willamette Falls. G. A. Heinz and family expect to move into their new cottage on the West Side, the last of the week. James Wilkinson's new cottage is nearing completion. Young Bros. expect to complete the excavation for Steven's new building this week. Other improvements will be noted next week.

There was a formidable array of business in the police court Monday. Prince Henry Yelcus, of the royal house of the Molallas, now deposed, was fined $20 for being drunk and disorderly. Joe Sew Sap, another Indian of more plebian ancestry, was fined $10 for the same offense. Both are serving out their sentences in jail. An individual giving his name as Sherman Staley, also was arraigned in the same court on a charge of drunkenness, but pleaded not guilty. His trial was set for the afternoon, when he was adjudged guilty. Police Judge Curry gave him the alternative of either working five days on the streets, or to pay a fine of $10. He accepted the latter.

There is an unprecedented rush for homestead claims at the local land office this month. Especially has the rush been on this week, almost a total of 140 homestead applications having been filed during the month, the greater number from the Siletz reservation.

There is about 50,000 acres of government land on this reservation, not included in the lands allotted to Indians, which is subject only, to location as homestead claims.

The greater part of this land is valuable for its timber, and it is for this reason, that locators are now extremely anxious to take the lands.

Under the provisions of the act of 1885, homesteaders were required to pay 50 cents per acre, when the filing is made, and $1 upon the completion of final proof, which could be accomplished after three years occupation.

A part of this act was repealed last winter, referring to the 50 cents and $1 per acre, but the filing and final proof fees remained the same as heretofore. These lands had not been subject to entry as school lands, timber lands or anything except homesteads. A few days ago, when the state land agent desired to file on 12,280 acres of government lands in this reservation, the attempted filing was rejected by Register Moore and Receiver

Galloway, as they held that the repeal act did not affect the kind of locations to be made on the lands, and therefore did not consider that indemnity school lands could be located on the reservation.

The state land agent has 30 days to appeal to the general land office.

In the meantime, settlers are locating homesteads on the probable-to-be tested lands.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty, of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver Remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by Geo. A. Harding, druggist.
