Lauston L. Moore dead

L. L. Moore, a well-known teacher of the north end of the county, died at the Salem Hospital Saturday evening after several weeks' suffering and undergoing general operations for an abdominal tumor.

Mr. Moore was born near Marquam, in this county, December 15, 1873, and married in September, 1899, to Bertha Jones, daughter of S. W. Jones, of Books. Deceased was a member of Aurora Lodge of Knights of Pythias, which order he has been very attentive to his needs since he was brought to the hospital six weeks ago. The funeral was held at the residence of Mrs. S. W. Jones, Monday at 11 o'clock, conducted by the Aurora Lodge of Knights of Pythias.—Salem Capital Journal.

Until the latter part of the summer months, Mr. Moore was a well known Clackamas county school teacher, serving as principal of the Milwaukie school for two years. He received 44 votes in the republican county convention last March as a candidate for school superintendent.

NEWS OF THE WEEK

Friday, Jan. 4. Lord Kitchener discussed peace with the burghers at Pretoria. He promised leniency to the Boers who would quit fighting; but as the majority of them are of the opinion that peace would put them in a condition but little better than the present one, their wateiword will continue to be, "Victory or Death."

That Kitchener is at all disposed to make concessions to the Boers, may be because he fears for the outcome. In the course of an investigation in the French parliament it was divulged that the course of the French West African expedition was marked by massacres and ruin. In one case a native city of 10,000 had been laid waste. The Russian czar has begun an inquiry into the wholesale butchery of unarmed Chinese by Russian soldiery. The London Daily News advocates stopping the war and coming to terms with the Boers.

Paul Kruger will probably come to the United States next month, accompanied by Mr. Stead, the noted London journalist. At Doyle's, 40 miles north of Reno, Cal., a railway train was hurled off the track by a terrific gale. At Reno the storm did much damage and the snowfall was heavy. C. P. Pierce, the Boer consul-general at New York, says the Boers have a force of 18,000—against 210,000 English—5000 of whom are invading Cape Colony.

Aguinado is reported to have died six weeks ago. He is said to have done that before. W. C. Whitney, one of the New York gold democrats, gave a ball this evening at his costly magnificent Fifth Avenue palace in the Italian style. Saturday, Jan. 5. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R. R. has passed into the hands of J. J. Hill, J. Pierpont Morgan and J. D. Rockefeller. Senator Hoar has introduced in the senate a measure whose object is to stop fighting in the Philippines.

The Canadians are constructing another trans-continental line north of the Canadian Pacific. Kitchener calls for 5000 men to guard the Rand gold mines. In his message, Gov. Stephens, of Missouri, advocates a franchise tax on corporations. The Boers have looted Ficksburg, in Cape Colony, the inhabitants fleeing.

The Russian government has issued decrees stating that the province of Manchuria will be evacuated by the Russian troops when peace has been restored. Heavy snowfall and severe storm in Southern Oregon. The steamer Inagua was wrecked just outside San Francisco harbor last night and two people drowned. She struck a reef.

A gang of counterfeiters, making silver coins, has been nabbed in New York. They had a five-ton screw press in their outfit. The firm from which the Dagoes bought their sheet-silver gave them away. Peter Curran, Fraternal Delegate of the British Trade Unions, stated in a speech in New York that "the manner in which employes are rushed in this country would not be tolerated for a single moment in England; your manufacturers are dumping their commodities into our market cheaper than they can be made over there."

Ben Bridge, white-haired and stalwart, for nine years a god among the black cannibals of Northern Australia, has arrived by steamer at Vancouver. Boston is hard hit by a corner in beans. Kitchener offers $1 25 and "found" to Cape Colonists who will enlist to assist in repelling the Boer invaders.

Sam. M. Murphy of Tennessee became acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Felder of New York 18 months ago. Being childless, he adopted them. Murphy and his wife died, and the Felders inherited their $3,000,000. Sunday, Jan. 6. The British admiralty will build two new battleships which will be the largest in the world.

English millers kick because their government buys American flour for South Africa. Carnegie has promised Seattle $200,000 for a new public library. General McArthur has banished to Guam a number of captured Filipino leaders. The natives of Manila are holding political meetings. The state of Washington wants to annex northern Idaho.

At Naaupport the British killed or wounded 20 Boers, and near Lindley the Boers killed or wounded 39 Englishmen. For himself, J. J. Hill, and J. D. Rockefeller, J. Pierpont Morgan has bought control of the New Jersey Central Railroad, paying $240,832,800. This deal also includes the Reading, the B. & O., and the Lehigh Valley. About two months ago, the same trio, for $507,650,800, secured the St. Paul, Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Erie railroads. Morgan's roads carry twenty-four million tons of coal a year, half the output of the anthracite region. As to the particulars of his Wall Street operations, Morgan says: "It is nobody's business."

Tuesday, Jan. 8. By the burning of the Rochester (N. Y.) Orphan Asylum, 27 persons were killed and 25 injured. In a speech in the senate, Senator Lodge predicted that the United States would attain the economic supremacy of the world, a dazzling position carrying dangers with it which to meet she should be prepared both on land and sea. Moran Eros, of Seattle have received contract for building a $3,511,000 battleship, with a 4 per cent. bonus added. First-class board at reasonable rates can be obtained at the Red Front House. At the White Horse Tavern. While "At the White Horse Tavern" by no means pretends to be a musical comedy several drifty little songs are introduced during the action of the play. The comedy is an adaptation from the German, "Im Weissen Roessli," which ran for over a year in Berlin, and "The Song of the Kiss," which is sung as the curtain rises, became as popular there as was "There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" in this country not long ago. The words of the song are: "A kiss is such a dainty dish, The best of all our food. 'Tis not to eat, nor yet to drink, But my, it tastes so good. And when the hundred thousand words Have vainly gone amiss, Your meaning you can make so clear With just one little kiss! And when you've said all that you can To the girl that you love best, Just press a kiss upon her lips. And she can guess the rest." "At the White Horse Tavern" will be the attraction at Shively's Jan. 12, where it will be presented by a strong company under King & Norcross' management. In the cast are Minerva Dorr, Frank M.
