Who Makes the Best Extract of Vanilla?

Two things are absolutely necessary in the preparation of Extract of Vanilla.—The first and most important one is to have the very best Vanilla Bean to start with—Not Tonka at $1.00 a pound, Tahiti at $3.00 Bourbon at $6.00, but the genuine Mexican at about $12.00 per pound. Then an Extract cannot be made in a day or a week, but should take 30 to 60 days in the preparation and after that should be allowed to stand and ripen three or four months.

50 Per Cent Less

Heretofore we have been giving a two ounce bottle for 25 cents the same price you pay your grocer for the dark heavy Tonka Extract. But today we have turned over a new leaf and are now putting up a plain one ounce bottle of the same quality we have always sold without increasing the price. We believe every housekeeper within reach of our store will use our Extracts altogether when they have once tried it, and by making it better as well as cheaper we hope they will all try it.

What we want to do is to prove the superiority of our Extracts and then throw in 50 per cent extra for good measure. At another time we will have something to say about our Lemon Extracts, our pure spices and our kitchen supplies.

The county commissioners have again granted a street car franchise over the county road between Oregon City and Canemah. At this writing we have not heard whether they expect to change their mind before another week passes or not. This time the board gets $50, which is to be expended in seeing that the railway company do as they agree. We don't blame the company for getting all they can, but think the board could have done much better for the taxpayers and citizens using the said county road.

LOCAL COMMENT.

The mill employes mean business in the matter of a co-operative meat market, and the matter will no doubt be carried to a successful issue. At least, the business will be given a thorough trial. Wage earners cannot be blamed for organizing for self protection against the combine. Wages have not been advanced while the the commodities are steadily advancing.
It is now an assured fact that Canemah will soon have another line of railroad to connect it with the outside world. One transcontinental line alone did not satisfy the residents of Canemah.
Oregon City is slowly becoming an important shipping point. The establishment of commission houses, and produce-purchasing agencies are already having their effect. A fact evidenced by the recent shipments of car-loads of potatoes and onions. The business is growing too.

Jill senator porter has introduced a bill to tax the inheritances and legacies left widows and others. Why don't he get his bill through to tax the earnings of corporations?

Potatoes is the crop that is adding to the golden harvest in Clackamas county this year. In fact, it is believed that the potato product is bringing in more money than any article raised here. The crop is sure, and a profitable price is always assured sooner or later. It pays to plant a field of potatoes one year after another, in addition to the other crops. Hops and potatoes were the money producers during the past year.

He Doesn't Like Aquariums.
Why any one should ever have desired to own or to visit an aquarium is a mystery. The view of fish, except when nicely grilled or when suspended at the end of a fishing line, is one of the most uninteresting of sights. The other animals when in confinement display traits which are more or less interesting. The lion has a sense of humor and displays it in the most pleasing way when he devours the lion tamer who has entered too often into his cage. The bear in his thirst for buns seems so much like the human boy that the spectator of his antics frequently feels an irresistible desire to hit him with a stick.
But the fish has not a single interesting trait. He will swim around the tank in which he is confined with a persistence which is maddening to the nervous spectator. He never engages in a genuine fight, but contents himself with an occasional surreptitious bite of an enemy's tail, which gives no true satisfaction to the beholder. If he happens to be a large snake thinly disguised as an eel or an octopus or some other alarmingly ugly fish, he will sometimes swim directly at the glass through which the visitor is looking at him and thereby give the latter a momentary sensation of horror, but the average fish cares nothing for the public and treats his visitors with calm contempt. An aquarium without fish, like a seashore resort without the sea, is unobjectionable, but an aquarium with real water and real fish is the dreariest object in nature.—W. L. Alden in Pearson's Magazine.

Fields Gets Practically a New Franchise.

The Oregon City and Southern Railway Company was practically granted a new franchise. Under the new amendments granted by the board of commissioners the order rescinding the franchise is practically set aside. The Railway Company, under the new conditions will lay a track along the retaining wall of the river basin, instead of in the middle of the road, as formerly, and to be at no place more than 18 inches from the outer edge of the wall, except such places as will leave 16 feet or more clear wagon road. The entire county roadbed, including that part occupied by the rails, is to be planked with four-inch lumber, and the company is to construct and maintain a good, strong handrail on the side of the road next to the river, and to make all necessary repairs without cost to the county. Cars are to be run at a speed not exceeding five miles an hour.
By the new terms the road shall be completed by April 3, unless delayed by legal proceedings.
The Railway Company further agree to pay a superintendent $3 per day to look after the county's interest in the construction of the new road between Oregon City and Canemah. In fact, the Railway Company has already paid into the court the sum of $50 to be applied on the salary of such superintendent. The county board of commissioners will appoint such superintendent. It is understood that considerable of the opposition to the road has been withdrawn.
