The total cost of the sewer system, including extras, is about $15,000.

A successful effort was made last Friday to cut down the state printer's graft, by referring a bill relating to the compensation of state printer to the commerce committee. Porter, who is chairman of the committee on printing vigorously protested, and was the only member of the senate, who voted against taking the bill from the printing committee.

Bert Jewell, of Parkplace, was examined before Justice McAnulty Saturday and bound over on the charge of stabbing Charles Smith with a knife. The affair occurred a couple of weeks ago, but Smith was unable to appear in court until Saturday. The result might have been fatal, had not a rib impeded the progress of the knife.

F. O. Brown, superintendent of the Coos river salmon hatchery, took 40,000 fry to the Coquille yesterday and planted them in the river near Myrtle Point. A week ago he started for the Coquille with a consignment, but before getting away from the hatchery it was discovered the fry was dying and in order to save them it was necessary to deposit them at once. The fry taken to the Coquille were in good condition.—Marshfield Sun.

The Informal Whist Club gave a very delightful valentine party at the A. O. U. W. hall. Twenty-three tables were filled with whist players. The musical program consisted of selections by Mrs. E. E. Williams and Miss Draper. Miss Hazel Pillsbury won a ladies' first prize while Miss Mark was awarded the booby. R. L. Holman won the gentlemen's prize, and Sheriff Cooke captured the booby. Dancing and singing followed.

J. H. Turney's masque ball at the armory Friday night was a highly gratifying successful affair, nearly 100 couples being in attendance. It was one of the very pleasant events of the season. The following were awarded prizes: Best dressed lady, Miss Birdie Jones, a gold watch; best dressed gentleman, Ed Soules, camera; most comical dressed lady, Mrs. Frank Munson, umbrella; most comically dressed gentleman, Frank Conter.

The publishers of the Anoka Herald recently sued a delinquent subscriber and recovered judgment for seven years' subscription and costs that amounted to $20. The paper had been ordered stopped and returned from the postoffice as refused, but the subscriber had not paid up the arrearages and his name continued on the books and the paper regularly mailed to his address. The decision of the court was, a subscriber could be held for subscription until arrearages were paid.

In addition to the above named Hon. William Galloway, also made an address. An elaborate dinner was served.

Bound for the West.

Editor Courier-Herald: Following up the advice I gave you last week with reference to the large number of homeseekers leaving St. Paul last Tuesday and Wednesday on our train No. 11, I have now to say that I am today in receipt of a telegram from Charles S. Fee, general passenger and ticket agent of this company at St. Paul, saying that our train left there at 8:55 this morning with over 400 homeseekers for the Pacific coast, and that every indication points now to there being between 600 and 700 on the train leaving tomorrow morning bound for Washington and Oregon. The great number of homeseekers taking advantage of the low rate of $25 from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and $30 from Chicago, warrants the conclusion that thousands of people have their eyes turned to the west and will undoubtedly settle among us, and every assistance and aid within our power should be given them in order that we may secure them as permanent settlers in this territory.

INJUNCTION DISSOLVED.

Oregon City & Southern Railway
Will Take Steps To Condemn
Right of Way Across Southern Pacific Railway Tracks.

On Saturday a motion to dissolve the injunction, brought by C. W. Ganong and others, against the construction of the Oregon City & Southern Railway to Canemah, was argued in the circuit court. W. W. Cotton, attorney for the O. R. & N. Co., and C. D. Latourette for the Oregon City & Southern, argued in favor of the motion, and W. D. Fenton and F. T. Griffith, for the Southern Pacific and C. W. Ganong, argued against dissolving the injunction. On Tuesday Judge McBride convened an adjourned term of court, and announced his decision in the premises. It simply dissolves the injunction. The court also denied the application of the Oregon & California Railroad Company for a restraining order against the Oregon City & Southern Railway Company, constructing a line of road from Oregon City to Canemah. The company, also asked that the franchise granted the Oregon City & Southern, be annulled and set aside. Among other things the Oregon & California alleges that the Oregon City & Southern would cross its tracks twice, thus rendering traffic exceedingly dangerous.

It is learned that the Oregon City & Southern Railway will not begin extension operations until after condemnation proceedings for crossing the tracks of the Oregon & California Railroad Company at Canemah. The last complaint of the Oregon & California Railroad Company, is signed by W. D. Fenton, Hedges & Griffith and Gordon E. Hayes, as attorneys.

A Surprise Party.

A delightful surprise party was given Willie Wilson at the home of Mrs. G. W. Grace, Friday evening. Music and games were interesting features, but the most attractive event were cake walks by Allan Cooke, Nellie Wood, Rhea Cole and Florence Graco. Essie Block played some excellent selections on the piano. Misses Gertrude Fairclough, Laura Randall and Alice Kirk assisted the hostess in serving dainty refreshments. Those present were: Misses Laura Randall, Nellie Wood, Pearl Wood, Essie Block, Maude Cooke, Nettie Bradley, Clara Koerner, Mabel Tower, Bessie Doll, Georgia Grace; Messrs. Allan Cooke, George Hankins, Walter Muir, Norman White, Clayborne Williams. Rhea Cole, Willie Wilson.

High Scoring Birds.

The Mountain View Poultry Yards sent only two birds to the state fair and won first prize on pullet. At state poultry show in Portland against hot competition from high-price birds imported from the East especially for the show one of our cockerels tied for second prize, score 92, only 1-2 point below first prize-bird. We also won third on cock, only 1-2 point below first prize winner. Eggs for sale at $1.50 per setting. A few cockerels left at $2.00 each.
