Proctor & Beers, who conduct a sawmill, are doing and extensive business, and also conduct a store. An effort also is being made to secure a grange hall at Cottrell. Several parties have given out oil leases on their lands, and the promoters are now staking a well. Mr. Wagner states that considerable attention is being paid to dairying, and everything points to a prosperous future in that section.

Our motto: "High quality and low prices." Miss C. Goldsmith.

Eighth Grade Examinations.

Many pupils in the Clackamas county public schools take the eighth grade examinations, and if successful, are awarded diplomas by the county superintendent. A large per cent of those who took the examination several weeks ago, failed to pass, although some of them did not take all the branches. Amendments have been adopted to the rules governing these examinations, which give the applicants a better chance to get through. The examination shall be held in such places in the county as the superintendent may designate, on the third Wednesdays of February, April, May and June, continuing three days. The superintendent shall grade the papers, or call to his assistance one or more teachers in the county, provided that the superintendent shall not grade papers of any applicant until the teacher has certified in writing that all the branches in the state course of study has been completed. Pupils who shall reach an average of 80 per cent in all branches, and shall not fall below 70 in any one branch, will be considered as having successfully passed the examination. However, when two branches be failed in not more than two branches be failed in which he failed at the following examination, and shall then, if he has secured the required percentage, receive an eighth grade diploma in accordance with the results of the two examinations.

Fishing Tackle

Was a new feature with us last year. We started out with the knowledge of what a fisherman wanted and are pleased to find our customers are satisfied with our new goods and new prices. Four separate orders for supplies already this season attest the popularity of our goods and prices. While many people like to fish with a split bamboo rod they do not always want to pay a fancy price for highly colored wrapping and pretty finish. For these customers we have a three-joint, split bamboo rod, with extra tip at $1.00 and $1.25, which answers every purpose and will land any trout in the creek. We have still better ones for $2.00 and $3.00, and fancy ones at $5.00 and $6.00; also some handsome lance wood, as light as a feather, at $4.75. Some people will have steel rods; we have them from $4.00 up. The same thing may be said of fine lines as of fine rods. We have elegant tapered oil-silk lines at $1.50 each, which make a fisherman's heart glad, yet one of our 5-cent lines will land a 15 inch trout as safely. Our fish baskets, reels, bait boxes, snell and plain hooks, fly hooks, etc., are in our window with prices in plain figures. Look them over.

The marriage of Miss Lena Goldsmith, of Oregon City, and formerly of Eugene, to Mr. Wesley Wicks, of San Francisco, occurred in Portland last Saturday, April 6th, 1901. The young lady's friends, who are legion in Eugene, are happy to hear of her marriage, and tender hearty congratulations. Mr. Wick is coast agent for Scribner's Magazine and is a first-class gentleman. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Goldsmith and has lived in Eugene most all her life.—Eugene Guard.

An individual, with a foreign brogue, was to work the hill residence district the first of the week with the smuggled Irish linen racket. He went from house to house with a bundle under his arm, claiming that the goods were contraband Irish linen—the genuine article, which he offered at a very low price. It is learned that he made but few sales, as his appearance was not prepossessing. The Eastern paperstall of a man of genteel appearance, who recently worked New York, selling a cheap glazed linen to many families, alleging it to be the genuine article, smuggled across the Atlantic, thus escaping the duty.

Last Friday the water commission sent samples of filtered water to the state agricultural college, at Corvallis, and to Professor E. L. Washburn at the University of Oregon. A sample filter has been in operation on Main street for the past four weeks by a firm, which proposes to put in a plant for the city water works with a capacity of 1,000,000 gallons daily. The water has a remarkably clear appearance after being run through the filter, but it is yet to be seen whether it will take out the offensive germs supposed to impregnate Willamette river water. The water is run through ground quartz, and alum is used as a clarifier to cause the bacteria to settle in the sand sediment.

J. Tierney, aged about 35, was killed by the north-bound passenger train about two miles south of town last Friday morning. He was sitting on the end of a tie in a drunken sleep, and was struck by a cylinder attachment causing instant death. Coroner Strickland held an inquest in accordance with the above facts. Tierney had been employed on the construction of the trolley line between Oregon City and Canemah, but nothing is known of his previous history. On the previous evening he sent a bundle of clothing to Roseburg, stating that he intended to work his way there—that he was a miner and bound for Coos bay. He was seen at the Schmidt place previous to the accident, in an intoxicated condition, and the coroner found a part of a bottle of alcohol in his pocket, with a greater portion of the contents gone.

The wedding of Charles Roeder and Miss Freda Hatch took place at the home of the bride's parents in Portland Thursday afternoon, April 18th. Mr. Roeder is a prominent young business man of Eugene. The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Hatch, and niece of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Kelly, and was formerly a resident of this city.

The young man who stole $32 from a fellow workmen at the paper mills the other day, had a narrow escape from going over the road. He threw the purse in the river, but was made to disgorge by Chief of Police Burns. The wronged man declined to prosecute him as he had received his money back. The young man who tried to get away with the money does not work at the mills any more.

Miss Daisy Berdine and Jacob Ream of Willamette Falls, were married at the home of the bride's parents Wednesday afternoon in the presence of about 40 invited guests, Rev. R. A. Atkins being the officiating clergyman. The best man was a brother of the bride, and the bridesmaid was the groom's sister. An elaborate wedding dinner was served. The bride was tastily and elegantly dressed. Mr. and Mrs. Ream made a bridal trip to Portland. A special car went up from Oregon City to carry the guests to the wedding. They will make their home at Willamette Falls.
