The suit brought by Edward Grosser against W. R. Slyter to recover wages for cutting wood through the operation of a labor lien, was heard in the circuit court Tuesday. J. F. Clark appeared for plaintiff, and George L. Story for the defendant. The defendant argued a demurrer to the cause of suit, which was in effect that according to the statute of Oregon cordwood was not timber, and therefore not subject to be sold under the forced sale of a labor lien. The court sustained the demurrer.

It is stated that two men begun work yesterday preparatory to resetting the old fishwheel below the falls, notwithstanding the last legislature passed an act making it unlawful for such structures to exist in the Willamette.

NEWS OF THE WEEK

Friday, April 13.

German, French and Belgian bankers are occupied with the opening of the valley of the Euphrates in Asia Minor by railroads, where are 60,000,000 acres of rich bottom land that can be sown to wheat, thus becoming the granary of Europe. A similar speculation took place in developing Argentina, with disastrous results.

Germany has spent $3,000,000 marks on her East African colony, the trade with which amounts to only 3,000,000 marks. A main source of income is the hut tax, 4.20 marks per hut, in collection of which sometimes 2000 natives are killed in one year. The natives are also enslaved. In this colony as well as in the Cameroons, the German officers are relentlessly cruel and inhuman. The German occupation of African territory is a wretched, costly fiasco.

The Boers are using thousands of cartridges which, according to the wrapper, were made in the Kynoch Factory, Birmingham. This factory is owned almost entirely by the Chamberlain family, of which Joseph Chamberlain, British colonial secretary, is a member.

The average annual earnings of female sweatshop workers in Chicago are $77. Some of them, says the Tribune, work hard for two-thirds of a cent an hour.

H. H. Rogers, a Standard Oil magnate, J. P. Morgan, Senator Clark of Montana, etc., are forming a billion-dollar copper trust.

Ralph James, who has been mining in Siberia and China for nearly five years, and has placed orders for nearly $400,000 of mining machinery in New York, says Russia will never take Manchuria nor permit others to take it. She wants it left as a buffer province between the two empires. The Boers damaged the Russian railroad in Manchuria to the extent of $30,000,000.

John A. Skoog, the counterfeit of paper money arrested at Williamsburg, N. Y., was known there as Albert Brown, the pious church-member, liberal to the poor; the strenuous republican politician, a power at the polls.

Captain John A. Hassel, formerly in the Boer army, now in New York, says the Boer cause is brighter than that of the British. The Boers will take full advantage of the opportunities for inflicting damage on the British which the approaching winter season gives them. Daily recruits struggle into the Boer lines far more than the number killed. The Boers are at present avoiding a big pitched battle, but about August and September we may look for a resumption of general action on a large scale. In the mean time, disease will fight the British soldiers.
