

CLACKAMAS COUNTY NEWS

Macksburg.

A Socialist Club was organized at Macksburg with 16 members. The following officers were elected: J. M. Cox, chairman; A. W. Reynolds, vice-chairman; Charles Knoxberger, secretary; George Schoer, treasurer; F. M. Mathews, organizer.

Comrade J. D. Stevens, of Canby, made a very interesting speech on Socialism, which was much appreciated by all present.

A committee was appointed by the chairman to have a constitution and by-laws formed for the club at the next meeting, which will be held on Tuesday, May 7th, at 7:30 p. m. Another committee was also appointed to secure, if possible, a hall for our meeting.

Comrade Stevens, of Canby, will deliver another lecture on Socialism at the evening meeting. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

CHARLES KNOXBERGER,
Secretary.

Meadowbrook.

More rain, more rest, that's what I like. Fall wheat looks well.

C. H. Looney is farming on a big scale.

Grandma Ramsby has been sick, but is now considerably improved.

A. D. Larkins is improving the appearance of his place by building a new picket fence.

I. V. Trullinger has a smile on his face. It's a girl.

T. R. Orem is building a new fence.

Messrs. Cooper and Bonacher are farming on a large scale.

O. T. Kay has gone to Washington to work in a logging camp.

Frog Pond.

This spring has been all that anyone could ask for.

Most of all the spring grain is sown; also some potatoes planted.

Mr. Aden, our road boss, is making preparations to do some more work this spring.

J. L. Kruse went to Corvallis to a stock sale last week. We can not say whether he made any purchases or not.

Peters & Co have been doing some baling here for the past week.

Miss Anna Aden left for Portland today, where she has secured a position.

Seven of the boys of this place went for a ride to Wilsonville Saturday evening.

Professor Liesman will close a term of school in Skunk Hollow next Friday with a social in the evening.

Our school picnic will be held in the May grove near the schoolhouse. A program is being prepared, and a general good time is anticipated.

Tualatin Grange will hold its next meeting in the evening on the fourth Saturday in May.

James Turner will commence hauling wood next week at the mountain camp.

A prosperous farming community should not raise grain so foul that a man needs to fan three days to get the dirt out of a bushel of oats.

In reply to a few lines that Lengthy, of Stafford, has caused to be written we feel it our duty to make a few notes. We suppose that if he could have found words adequate to have thanked our most worthy editor of the Courier-Herald for granting us, the learned ones of Frog Pond, space in his paper, which he says we ask for, but did not. He would not have dared to utter them on account of their unfitness. We, the "learned ones of Frog Pond," may have some book learnin' but have not reached the state that our foreheads reach almost to the back of our head, and we don't evade our contradictions by nearly saying a thing is so. You still hold that there was no exaggeration in regard to the building referred to, you said it was to be two stories high. Is it? Further, that our friend gave a very nice list of those named on the printed program, but as few of those were present, it was stated that the meeting would be wholly informal and all present requested to take part. Why did the superintendent say that the program would be informal? Because the Washington county teachers who were on the program were some other place instead of where they should have been. The printed programs also asked friends and patrons of the school to be present and take part, so he was merely making a restatement. Well, if Lengthy has never cut down a cherry tree, he formed on important factor in planting one on Arbor Day. He also holds the truth about as sacred as the people he has heard of.

In regard to the former notes you referred to it should have read nine days instead of one day.

You seem very anxious to accuse us of cutting down cherry trees.

Currinsville.

Katie Currin, who has been very ill with pneumonia, is improving under the care of Dr. C. B. Smith.

Mrs. Frost, of Harrison, Idaho, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Pogue, of this place.

A few of the young people of this place met at the home of Mr. Bowen one evening last week and spent the time in crokinole.

Miss Martha Kitching has returned home after a two weeks' stay in Portland.

Sim Heiple was a visitor at Mr. Kitching's home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Haydon, of Pueblo, Colorado, have come out to D. F. Warner's place, and intend living there this summer. Mr. Warner is thinking of going to California.

April 29.

M.

Stone.

As your correspondent has been absent he will try and give some items from these parts again.

W. E. Mumpower made a flying trip home from the logging camps last Saturday and returned Monday evening.

J. J. Hattan has a barn to raise this week.

L. D. Mumpower is to have a log rolling and a ragtacking Wednesday.

G. G. Hess is courting this week and will also next week.

The creamery building will be built this season, and the plant will be started as soon as possible.

Crops are looking fine so far.

Nat Bowen was buried in Pleasant View cemetery last Sunday.

J. L. Stewart went up the valley last Saturday, where he has contracted to build a barn.

Mrs. J. A. Mumpower is expected home this week from Crescent City, Cal., where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Underwood.

Stone is to have a new schoolhouse, a new church and a new creamery.

Liberal.

A good many farmers will finish seeding this week.

This rain is a good thing for most of the farmers here, as the ground in some places was too dry to plow.

Clover and timothy are making a fine growth this spring. Early fruit was killed by the frost.

William Morey, formerly of this place, now a real estate agent of Portland, was in this vicinity with several land buyers the last of the week.

Mrs. Timmer was taken to Oregon City yesterday by Sheriff Cooke, and she will be taken to the asylum again.

Grandma Preece is very low again. She has dropsy of the heart, and her many friends are afraid she will not recover.

Carl Kinsey, of Canemah, bid his many friends here farewell. He has gone to Wardner, Idaho.

Ira Phillips, who is very feeble, is stopping with E. Austen.

William H. White has sown 25 acres of China peas. They are the peas for the farmers, as they have no bugs or worms in them.

Squib, you must be nearly right, for the Molalla boys are coming this way at a lively pace now to get good looking partners for dancing school.

Edith Wiles is visiting in Portland, where she will remain a week.

E. Austen, our sawmill man, is placing an edger in his mill.

William Husband is going to plant eight acres of potatoes this spring.

SYLVIA.

Eagle Creek.

We have resolved to be more prompt and write every week, whether there is any news or not. We think that we are capable of fabricating a little, if the occasion absolutely demands it.

We had, other people might have had too, some very cold days last week. On Thursday it snowed and hailed, to say nothing of the rain.

Some of the farmers are in grave distress, thinking the cold weather injured the fruit trees.

The Eagle Creek Sunday school is improving steadily. Misses Pearl Smith and Maggie Smith were appointed teachers of the intermediate classes, and Miss Holmstrom, of the Bible class, and Mrs. Gloyer was appointed superintendent.

Spelling school is the same as ever, but the attendance last Saturday night was not as large as usual.

Mrs. L. Glover and Mrs. J. P. Forrester were the guests of Mrs. Simpson Wednesday.

A lodge organizer for the Modern Brotherhood of America, spoke at the hall Saturday night, but only a few seem to be impressed or take much interest. The Artisan and Maccabee lodges of this place are prospering and seem to be all the people desire in that line.

A subscription paper gotten up for the benefit of Rev. Pogue, of Currinsville, who preached at Eagle Creek regularly, is being circulated. A goodly number have already subscribed, and it is hoped others will follow. J. E. Suter was the originator.

Gus Winesett, who has been in Oregon City for some time, returned home Thursday.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Duly died Saturday morning, April 27, and was buried at Sandy Ridge Sunday at 2 o'clock.

Myrtle Winesett and Ben Forrester were the guests of Miss Lucko Sunday.

George Wilson made a trip to Oregon City Sunday.

Mrs. Huggins is reported to be on the sick list.

Henry Epperson was seen in these parts Sunday.

We are pleased to hear of Mr. Smith's improved health.

Mrs. Maud Flemming, of Portland, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Wilbern, of this place.

Mr. Foster and wife are recovering from their late illness.

Dr. S. Smith, of Portland, was the guest of his son, Dr. C. B. Smith, last week.

Mrs. Robert Divine, of Currinsville, was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Burnett, Friday.

Will Bell, of Kelso, was visiting here Sunday.

Mrs. ILLUSIA.

New novelties in trimmings and flowers. Miss C. Goldsmith.

Barlow.

C. U. Barlow is in California on business, where he will remain for a few weeks.

D. O. Freeman is busy enlarging his store.

We are sorry to hear of so much sickness among our Canby friends. Health is good here and has been for the last year.

We would advise our Molalla neighbors to hold that bear and dispatch for Teddy immediately. What's the use of having a vice-president whose chief qualification is bear hunting and not use him.

Say, it would pulverize you to see the editor of the Aurora Borealis making "goo goo eyes" at one of our brunettes.

Mrs. Martha Shepard and daughter, Bessie, are in Portland, presumably selecting goods for their new store.

A bridge is needed across the Pudding river directly west of this place.

Hops and everything are fairly hopping now, but there is lots of grain yet to be sown.

Mrs. John Andrews and two little girls are visiting with her father and mother this week. John and Woody are batching.

CORPORAL.

New trimmed hats at popular prices. Miss C. Goldsmith.

Rural Debt.

Frank Hitton is building a new house and last week he had five carpenters working on it.

Misses E. Eyman and L. Moore were visiting in Portland a few days this week.

I noticed in Liberal items some time ago a sure for cattle lice, and some of the hop men would like to know if it is all right for hop lice?

Moshberger brothers lost a fine horse several days ago.

Mrs. J. B. Jackson, of Ely, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samson.

S. Wright was seen in our midst a few days ago.

We are having April showers.

Seeding has begun around here.

Mrs. J. Zweifel was visiting at Canby last week.

Mrs. H. McNulty was visiting her sister, who lives near Turner, for several days. Her sister will soon leave for California.

Stafford.

May weather, May day.

Bicycling is out of style for the present.

Mr. and Mrs. Graner have purchased a new baby buggy.

Grandma Schatz is visiting near Sheridan with her daughter, Mrs. Goodbread.

Gages have shorn and dipped their sheep.

With spring seeding Fred Baker is bringing up the rear.

Marcus Baker demands a rebate from John Wanker of $2, that amount being given him on a stolen buggy deal last month.

Memorial exercises and unveiling the Don Gage monument by Company C, Third Regiment, O. N. G., will take place in the cemetery here on the 19th.

The "boys in blue" will come from Portland by way of Oregon City and the West Side electric car line, marching from the end of that line to the cemetery, where they will partake of noon-day rations before services at the grave.

Fred Schaubert had the ill luck Saturday to cut his thigh with a sharp ax. Three stitches were required to close the wound.

May 1.

LENTHY.

Shube.

Miss Colla Hornshuh went to Oregon City to visit a few days.

Albert Hornshuh came home from Sweet Home last Saturday, where he has been visiting with his brother, Rev. T. Hornshuh, for the past two months.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Muralt, of Maple Lane, were visiting at E. W. Hornshuh's for a few days last week.

Miss Bertha Moehnke, who has been in Portland for nearly a year, is home for a short visit.

There was a party at M. Moehnke's last Friday evening. We are informed that there were more ladies than gentlemen present—something unusual for this place. A good time was had by those attending.

Rev. T. L. Hornshuh, of Sweet Home, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hornshuh, for a few days.

Reil Garrett was home from Hubbard Sunday.

Vern Ransdell arrived from Antelope Monday to visit with his many friends here.

Needy is to have a baseball club, and it will be organized Sunday.

Nor Fish went to Canby Tuesday, where she has accepted a position with Mrs. Rosencrans.

A dance is to be given Saturday evening. A good time assured. Everyone invited.

Wilsonville.

Farmers are nearly through with their spring work.

Quite a number of people of this vicinity are going to attend the unveiling of the monument at Champoug May 2nd.

There is some talk of starting a creamery here in the near future. The only trouble seems to be to get the requisite number of cows subscribed.

School will close here on May 2nd to enable pupils and the teacher to attend the unveiling of the monument at Champoug on that day.

It is reported that Archie Seely, of this place, and W. C. Christensen, of Newberg, will put up a flouring mill at Newberg this summer. The plant will cost about $14,000 and will have capacity of 100 barrels per day. We wish the young men success in their new venture.

Potatoes are worth 72½ cents per sack at Tatumman's Landing.

Chicken hawks seem to be quite plentiful this spring. J. L. Seely killed one recently that had killed a great many chickens in the vicinity.

Miss Anna Aden is visiting friends in Portland this week.

We send our best respects to the "long man from Stafford," and will use the arnica as directed. Will also return the compliment some time by sending him a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor.

May 1.

SHORTY.

Mountain View.

We are having warm rains now, which make everything grow fast.

Miss May Thompson has a new bicycle.

Mrs. Story and family spent Sunday with relatives at Highland.

Anson Nickels, who has been staying with Arthur Warner, and attending the Mount Pleasant school during the winter, has returned home.

Mrs. J. M. Carran has rented her barn to the woodchoppers.

The little girls of the first grade at school are quite pleased this week, as their teacher, Miss Myers, has recovered from her recent illness, and returned to school.

Mrs. Wallace, of Mulino, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Walton, Wednesday.

Mrs. Nelson, who was staying at Mrs. Albright's last week, was called to the home of Mrs. Beauleau on Tuesday to take care of twin girl babies.
