Jasper Trullinger, of Union Mills, was in the city Wednesday, and reported that the Bohemian peas were growing wild in every direction, and materially interfering with the growth of grain in many wheat fields. The frost has done some damage to the fruit crop in that section.

L. E. Latourette, an attorney of Portland, returned last night from a trip overland on a bicycle to Prineville. He returned by way of Howard, Grade and Ashwood, meeting with only a few small accidents. He continued on his way to Shaniko, where he took the train for Portland this morning.—Antelope Republican. Mr. Latourette is well known here having been a former resident of Oregon City.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Shank visited at Canby and vicinity for two or three days during the past week. While there Mr. Shank investigated the conditions of the fruit crop. He found that from present indications some of the varieties of peaches would only produce a half crop, while others would bear full. As yet the prune crop showed no indications of injury, and prospects are good for a large yield.

The county superintendent and board of county commissioners met Tuesday afternoon to change boundaries in a number of school districts. In nearly every instance the change consisted of including the property of some resident, who desired to get into another district, in order that their children can attend the nearest school. A move was made to include some property in school districts, which has heretofore escaped taxation.

G. A. Heinz, J. T. Rait and the writer spent two days fishing on the Abiqua, near Scotts Mills, last week. The first day it was too warm, and the second it snowed, hailed and rained; notwithstanding, we caught between 300 and 400 speckled beauties. If we gave the exact number caught, some would say it was a "fish story," hence we leave that for the reader to guess. We enjoyed the hospitality of the Heinz homestead while there.

Secretary H. D. Wilcox, of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Association, states that ex-Governor George W. Peck, of Wisconsin, has been secured as one of the speakers for the Assembly to be held in July. Efforts are being made only to secure the best available talent, and when disappointments occur in the effort to get star attractions, energetic moves are made in another direction. It is determined to make the attractions at the Chautauqua first-class in every particular.

The marriage of Miss Mary Helen McElowney to Dr. M. C. Strickland, a prominent physician and county coroner, was announced to take place on May 1st, the ceremony to take place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McElowney at Amity. After a bridal trip of a week to sound points, Dr. and Mrs. Strickland will take up their residence in their elegantly furnished new home on upper Seventh street in this city.

Fred Wagner, road supervisor at Cottrell, was in the city yesterday and paid for 15 bicycle tags for people residing in his neighborhood. Forty-seven tags were sold in the sheriff's office up to yesterday noon. As it is the intention of the board of bicycle path supervisors to expend the money in the districts proportionate to the amount paid into the fund, it is believed that all wheelmen will readily take out tags.

On next Sunday evening the pastor of the Congregational church will commence a series of sermons on Socialism and Christianity. Socialism is the coming movement. Universal education is preparing men to think. The aim of this series of sermons is to acquaint church goers with some of the lines on which the leaders of socialism are working. The first of the series will be "A Square Look at Socialism." Pastor Bollinger believes that Christianity is larger in its conception than some of its would be destroyers believe. If socialism is a good thing the Christian church need not fear it. If Christianity is not all inclusive of good it can never become universal.

Dunning, a Portland undertaker, evidently wants a man's possessions, after he is through with the burial rites. Mr. Kristenson, a thrifty resident of the vicinity of Kelso, recently died in a Portland hospital. Dunning supposed that the deceased was a resident of Multnomah county and asked for and was granted letters of administration. Subsequently it was learned that a will existed and that the property was located in Clackamas county, just across the line. Dunning came up and insisted that Judge Ryan appoint him executor of the will, as he was a creditor of the estate. T. G. Jonsrud, of Kelso, was named in the will as executor, and his appointment was confirmed.

Lavie-Bae'er.

On Sunday at 2 p. m., at the home of the bride's parents in Greenport, Miss Daisy E. Baxter and Edward W. Lavie, of Portland, were united in matrimony. Rev. Father Rider performed the ceremony. The bride par stood under an arch of Oregon grape leaves while plighting their troth, and the parlor was decorated with myrtle and blooming narcissus. Death having but recently taken away one of the immediate relatives of the groom, only the members of the family were present.

Where the Money Goes

Right into our Red Seal Sarsaparilla—the medicine itself—not like the much advertised kinds where one dollar goes for quality and the other nine for printer's ink. There is no great secret about making a good Sarsaparilla—it all lies in the care of preparation, purity of ingredients and conscience of the pharmacist; if he cuts down the amount of the iodide of potassium a drachm or two on each bottle, or saves a trifle on this ingredient and a little on that, he will have plenty of advertising funds. But people are beginning to put faith more in the druggist they have always known rather than in the million dollar advertiser. We have been working on and improving our Red Seal Sarsaparilla for the past six years until we honestly believe that no one, at any price, makes a better Sarsaparilla—and we are always here to give you your money back if it does not give you entire satisfaction. Regular dollar size, 65c.

Leslie Hobart Cowing.

Died, at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Portland, on Thursday, April 26, Mr. Leslie Hobart Cowing. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Cowing and was born at Alexandria, Minn., June 25, 1871. He lacked but two months of completing 30 years of life. It is almost 12 years since he came to Oregon with his parents. His school life was early interrupted on account of frail health. While but a boy he gave evidence of ability as a painter. It seems certain that a splendid career lay before him, business himself. In the short time he lived to be at the head of this business he gained success in spite of many difficulties. On January 12th of this year he was taken to the hospital where one week later he underwent a severe operation. He was stricken with tuberculosis of the peritoneum. From the first the gravity of the case left but little hope of recovery. Mr. Cowing was married June 26, 1895, to Miss Fannie Gray, Portland, who survives him. The funeral services were solemnized at the home of his sister, Mrs. Frank De Paro, Portland, Sunday afternoon, the Rev. J.

MOFFATT-GRAY.

The marriage of J. W. Moffatt to Miss Jennie Dean Gray, which event was celebrated at the home of the bride on the East-Side in Portland Tuesday evening was an event that attracted considerable attention in two cities, the contracting parties being well known in both Portland and Oregon City. ex-Chaplain Gilbert, solemnized the ceremony, the latter having been chaplain of the Second Oregon in the Philippines when Mr. Moffatt was quartermaster sergeant of Company 1. The groom is ex-councilman, and for many years past has held a responsible position with the Willamette Pulp and Paper Company. The bride is a member of a prominent Portland family, and has filled positions of trust there and here. Mr. and Mrs. Moffatt will occupy the elegant home recently purchased by him on the West Side.

G. A. R. ANNIVERSARY.

Meade Post No. 2 Will Celebrate Its Twentieth Birthday.
At the Congregational church next Monday evening, May 6th, Meade Post No. 2, G. A. R., the second in number organized in Oregon, will meet in open session to celebrate its 20th anniversary. Members of Meade Post are requested to assemble at Willamette hall at 7 p. m., when a short business session will be held.
At 7:30 the Post and W. R. C. will proceed to the church, led by the Park-place band and escorted by Company A, Third Regiment, O. N. G., which has kindly accepted an invitation to assist.
The Post extends a cordial invitation to all old soldiers of the war for the union, whether members of the order or not, and also to soldiers of the war of 1898-'99 to march with us to the church where seats will be reserved. The public is cordially invited to attend the exercises. At the church the following program will be rendered, the music part of which will be under the direction of Mrs. N. W. Lawrence:
Selection..... Band
Prayer..... Rev. E. S. Bolinger.
Recitation..... G. T. McArthur.
Reading Records of Meeting of May 6, 1881..... Adjutant Address..... Major F. C. Bell, 1st Commandant Meade Post.
Address..... Miss Dollie Oros.
Recitation..... Rev. A. J. Montgomery.
Benediction.....
Each number will be interspersed with music.

Surprise Party.

A surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Howell on 12th and Taylor streets, Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Howell's brother's ninth birthday. The time was pleasantly passed in games. During the afternoon dainty refreshments were served. Those present were: Stella Kellogg, Jennie Lacy, Lillian Gillette, Eva Aldredge, Maud Parks, Ruthie Little, Gertie Ware, and Vera Howell; Walter Wood, Elden Aldredge, Lyle Kellogg, Tommie Aldredge, Ray Ware, Joe and Clarence Aldredge and Harold Little.
