ROAR OF THE FALLS.

"I'm going to be a big property owner," said the Man-With-The-Dinner-Pail. "I am getting very tired of being pointed out as a man who pays no taxes by the individual who owns $20,000 worth of property and pays interest on $25,000 indebtedness. I propose to be a bloated taxpayer myself and eligible to run for councilman, water commissioner and school director. Then I'll be somebody, get on all the reception committees and out a wider swath than a lawn mower. I'm going to stand off my rent, butcher and grocer for a couple of months, buy a lot and build a house on the installment plan. Then I'll get a horse and buggy. Just as well live in a fine house and ride in a carriage and be in the swim. It's dead easy when you get on to the right combination," said the Man-With-The-Dinner-Pail.

An Independence commission merchant has pulled up stakes and moved to Eugene, claiming that the dealers in merchandise persisted in buying farm produce to the detriment of his business. The complaint has been in Oregon City that the dealers would purchase only a very limited quantity of farm products.

The authorities in Portland, who appointed the committee to receive President McKinley, realized that others than partisan republicans honored and respected the executive chief of the nation. It was not so in Oregon City, the partisans on the other side being figuratively set down on. However, the President is not coming to Oregon on account of the serious illness of Mrs. McKinley, a fact deeply regretted, as people of all creeds and politics were anxious to do him honor.

The Enterprise has changed local editors three times since January 1st.

Because the Evening Telegram sends a man they can't use at home to report for the Oregon City edition, is no reason why people in business should staff with fake news. Notably, the direct appointment of Dr. Bachman as a surgeon in the navy department, or Olds having a contract to build a bridge the Molalla at Barlow, etc. True, nobody reads it outside of Oregon City, but the principle is the same.

It is possible that some of the faculty at the agricultural college may know how to analyze water, but it is a fact that none has ever been printed.

The speeches that have been prepared for welcoming the President during his heretofore expected trip through Oregon, can be used for Fourth of July celebration orations and summer picnic addresses, by changing a few words.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

An open session of the Dertlich Musical and Literary Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Dr. E. A. Sommer in June, which will close the work of the season. At the last business meeting of the club held at the home of Mrs. E. E. Williams, new officers were elected. The club has done excellent and appreciative work, and new features will be added to the work next year.

The mock trial of a graveyard robber at the Congregational church last Friday night was a notable event, applauded by a large audience. The principals were pupils of the public school, and the affair was given for the benefit of the Saturday Club. Hon. C. B. Moore presided as judge of the court and William Califf was clerk. Jack Caulfield was the prosecuting attorney, while Jack Latourette conducted the defense. If any Clackamas county man has an ambition to be elected prosecuting attorney, it would be well to first guarantee Mr. Caulfield a deputyship, if the candidate shall expect to win. Mr. Latourette was full of resources, notwithstanding his witnesses could not avoid showing a lack of sincerity in their efforts to prove an alibi. However, they did remarkably well. Master Miln would very likely have been found guilty of stealing the skull, had not the contrary jurymen hung that body. Both the attorneys made excellent pleas, and their cross-examinations would have done credit to veterans. Ice cream and cake were served at the close of the trial, and a social time followed.

The Ladies of the G. A. R. gave a very entertaining social at the home of J. A. Stuart, Wednesday evening.

County Treasurer's Notice.

I now have money to pay road warrants endorsed prior to August 11, 1901. Interest will cease on the warrants included in this call on the date hereof. Oregon City, May 17, 1901.

A. LUELLING, Treasurer of Clackamas County, Ore.

CITATION TO HEIRS.

In the County Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Clackamas.

In the matter of the guardianship of Stephen A. Lane, an insane person.

To the next of kin and all persons interested in the estate of Stephen A. Lane, an insane person.

In the name of the state of Oregon, you are hereby required and cited to appear in the County Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Clackamas, at the court room thereof, at the court house in the said county of Clackamas, on Monday, the 10th day of June A. D. 1901, at 10 o'clock, a. m., of that day, then and there to show cause, if any there be and you have, why a license for the sale of the real property of said Stephen A. Lane, late of the said county of Clackamas, Oregon, to-wit: the north half of southeast quarter (1/2 of 1/4) and southeast quarter of southeast quarter (1/4 of 1/4) of section 12, township 4 south of range 3 east of the Willamette Meridian, Clackamas County, Oregon, should not be granted as prayed for in the petition on file herein.

Witness the Hon. Thomas F. Ryan, Judge of the County Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Clackamas, this 9th day of May A. D. 1901.

Attest, E. H. COOPER, Clerk.

He was opposed to tariff changes because American steel sells cheaper abroad than at

There is great depression in the industries of Russia.

Four hundred factories have closed. The present condition may have been the change of the Russian government from its present absolute form to a parliamentary one, a change which, it is believed in Europe, will come in any event. The revolutionary movement among the laboring classes of the empire is spreading, and editors, women and professors are among the arrested.

The Cologne Gazette says that an understanding between Russia and Germany offers ways and means to compel the United States to adapt itself to Europe's tariff system, by which German agriculture will by no means suffer disadvantage. A Berlin correspondent of the N. Y. Times comments on this that America and Russia may turn the tables on Germany by an alliance to resist attempts to raise German grain duties.

Board of Trade Meeting.

A special meeting of the Oregon City board of trade will be held Friday evening, May 17, at the courthouse at 8 p. m. prompt. Representatives from Sellwood will also be present seeking the endorsement of the board for the location of the Lewis and Clark exposition at City View park. It is likely, also, that steps will be taken toward the publication of a pamphlet descriptive of the city and county. At the present time we have not a single leaflet or a pamphlet descriptive of the city or surrounding country. With the immigration coming into the state from all quarters, it certainly looks as if the business men ought to make some effort to induce them to settle in Clackamas county. Extra efforts ought to be made to establish other manufacturing plants in Oregon City. If the Sellwood people with a small population can establish a woolen mill in their city, with a prospective cannery in view, certainly Oregon City might do as much and a great deal more, if the business men would wake up to the realization of the situation. There is intense rivalry between cities and wide-awake methods only will win in the end. No city can afford to sleep on what it has already done. A large attendance is requested at this meeting.
