A building boom is fairly on in Oregon City, and a Port and contractor, who underbid the local builders, has begun the work of clearing away preparatory to remodeling the Stratton livery barn. The principal entrance will be on Seventh street, and there will be another entrance on the alley near the city jail, and on the extension to Railroad street. The work of excavating for the Stevens-Howell building has begun, and T. S. Lawrence is pushing the construction on Johnson's new barber shop.

Captain Z. Wood is now pilot on the Oregon City Transportation Company's new steamer, the Leona. The management state that they expect to keep this boat on the route throughout the year, and expect a share of the freight and passenger traffic. The company are buying their wood and groceries for the crew in Oregon City, and giving every day in the week a splendid round trip ride for 25 cents.

During the past week a matter-of-fact looking individual, giving his name as Johnson has been buying farms a few miles out from Oregon City—that is he was purchasing agricultural realty in his lungs. He was a plausible-appearing chap, tall and of good address. When he talked, he spoke as one having money and anxious to buy. The farmers who fed him on ministerial bill of fare and showed him over their farms, didn't know he was talking for three square meals a day, but they are disappointedly aware of that fact now. Two different individuals on separate occasions drove Mr. Johnson to town to complete the sale of their farms. Each time Johnson left his companions at the head of the Seventh street stairway, stating that he would meet him down town, after a short visit to his boarding house on the hill. Johnson's landlady evidently locked Johnson up when he made his last ride to the head of the Seventh street stairway, as he has not been seen since, and the farmer waited around the bank all day for the buyer to put in an appearance. One farmer wasn't able to come to town, but Johnson said he would send for Senator Brownell to come out and prepare the transfer papers, and also would get Surveyor-General Meldrum to run out the boundaries. He told one farmer that he wanted to buy his place for dairy purposes, but when the farm owner offered to show the prospective buyer his stock, he said: "That didn't make any difference, he would buy the whole lot in a bunch."

Miller-Cole.

Married Wednesday, June 6th, at the residence of John P. Cole at high noon, Edward G. Miller and Miss Gussie Cole. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. A. McKinlay, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Only immediate friends of the family were present owing to the continued illness of the bride's brother. A large number of presents were received from friends, and also from Una Temple, Rathbone Sisters, of which the bride is a member. Edward G. Miller, the groom, is the son of W. J. Miller, of Aurora, and is employed in the general offices of the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad at Astoria. The bride is the youngest daughter of Hon. and Mrs. J. P. Cole, and has been teacher of the primary department in the Aurora public school. She also was an energetic worker in the Sunday-school. Mr. and Mrs. Miller left for Portland Wednesday evening, en-route to Astoria, their future home.—Aurora Borealis.

Remember the Game at Albright's Field, two blocks North of Green Point Station.

The Bloomer Ladies' Champion Base Ball Club, who are making an extensive tour of this country, traveling in their own special palace car, will make their first appearance in Oregon City June 20th, 2:30 p. m. when they will play the greatest game of ball with the Local team ever witnessed in this town. Ladies can attend this game without any fear of being offended, as nothing will be said or done that would shock the most fastidious lady present. Game called at 2:30 p. m. Admission to game 25 & 50 cents.

The girls know how to play ball and there throwing and base running was a great surprise to all. Their batting and fielding was excellent, and their conduct is that of perfect ladies; not a word or action out of the way did we see or hear.—Daily Examiner, San Francisco.

THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT.

Covers Most, Looks Best, Wears Longest, Most Economical, Full Measure.

Each year I have been adding to my stock of paints until I believe I can safely say there is no stock in Clackamas County so complete.

While many of my customers have become convinced that mixed paint (the right kind) is not only cheaper, but wears longer than any lead and oil mixed by hand, yet for those who wish to mix their own paint I have a supply of oil and lead the quality of which I can guarantee.

I found long ago to obtain absolutely pure oil it was necessary to buy Eastern linseed oil by the barrel and have it put into cans myself. In this way the risk of its being adulterated after leaving the factory is entirely eliminated. By buying a quantity early in the season when prices were lower it is easy for me to make very close prices.

While it is almost impossible to give a complete list of prices, your attention is called to a few bargains such as Roof Paint, House Paint, Varnish and Yellow ochre primer:

- Roof Paint.....$1.00 per gallon
- Floor Paint..... 1.50 per gallon
- Bay State House Paint... 1.40 per gallon
- Bicycle Enamels..... 20c per can
- Enamels, all colors..... 25c per can
- Varnishes..... 1.50 per gal up
- Stains..... 15c per can
- Household Colors..... 15c per can up
- 5 gal. can Ochre Primer.. 80c per gallon

Machine Oil, Castor Oil, Dry Colors, Brushes, Sand Paper, Glass and everything to be found in a first-class paint store. Come in and talk it over and let us give you color card; we have a dozen or two different kinds.
