A VERY moderate estimate for the antiquity of man, according to recent investigations of a French scientist, is 258,000 years.

The steel works being built at Monterey, Mexico, has placed an order for $700,000 worth of machinery with an American firm. Uncle Sam makes the tools for the world.

AFTER seeing what England has done to the Boers and what the United States has done to the Filipinos, France thinks it would be safe enough to have a light, easy war with Morocco.

THE editor of the Frankfurter Zeitung has made the bold assertion that all women who wear trailing dresses on the streets do so to conceal their big feet. That may be true, but many big-footed women wear "rain skirts."

THE act organizing the courts has been passed by the United States Philippine commission. The judge's oath does not include support of the constitution of the United States. Of course not. The constitution did not follow the flag to the Philippines.

COLONEL W. C. P. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, has declared his belief that the issue to be made by the democratic party in 1904, will be the relations between the United States and its new possessions, as outlined by the recent decision of the United States supreme court.

THE German government is organizing in the Rhone provinces a large expedition of coal miners who will go to exploit the coal mines in the province of Shantung when peace has been restored in China. Each miner joining the expedition pledges to render services in the mines for five years.

THE surface and underground passenger traffic concerns of the city of Paris have voted to head their respective boards with men representing American capital. This preponderance of American interests in Paris passenger traffic was effected by secret and gradual buying of every share of stock offered at the exchange until the people representing American capital had a majority everywhere.

WHEN Captain Cooke discovered the Hawaiian islands, they had a native population of 400,000. They were superstitious, cruel, but picturesque savages, who would per adventure eat one another. About the beginning of this century missionaries brought them the Christian religion and civilization, and now there are only 39,000 Kanakas left. Cannibalism was far better for them, tempered with rotten fish.

A SALOON-KEEPER of Denver, Col., has enjoined the fire and police board from interfering with the sale of liquor to women. The saloon-keeper contends that the constitutional amendment which gave women the electoral franchise abolished all sex discrimination, and that the city ordinance prohibiting women from frequenting saloons is class legislation and invalid. The judge has admitted that the position is well taken, and has issued the injunction.

THE proletariat, the workingmen, represent the forces of disorder and unrest, the forces of vengeance such as bespattered France with the blood of her nobility, such as raised up Marat, Danton, Robespierre, Berere and their confederates. They represent the forces that made a Cromwell possible, that made a Napoleon possible, that made William of Orange possible. They are not idle babblers. They are meaningful and restless, when goaded to desperate action. They have among them their Voltaires. They lack for nothing. They can be aroused to fury at any moment. They are the sea of humanity that may at any time be dashed into engulfing waves.—Ex.

SPREADING of the eternal fitness of things, a grass widow in Indiana has just married a man named Hayraker.

THERE seems to be some probability that quarrymen and stone-dressers will gradually be crowded out of their occupation by the use of artificial stone. In the manufacture of this stone, sand is heated and mixed with about 12 per cent of cement. The mixture is then placed in steel moulds, which are in turn placed inside a large steel cylinder, which is securely closed. Boiling water is then turned in under pressure sufficient to force it through the sand and cement in the moulds. This slacks the cement, but as the steel moulds do not allow any expansion, the mixture becomes as hard as stone, and is dried under a heavy pressure. The result is a very hard stone, much cheaper than the natural material.

THE move of the National Live Stock Association to secure the passage of a bill through congress providing for government inspection of woolens should meet with success. There should be a government inspector of all textiles, and a law requiring manufacturers to brand their goods just what they are. If they are woolen, cotton, silk or shoddy, let them be branded in plain figures so that the purchaser may know just what he is buying. Woolens are perhaps more adulterated than any other class of fabrics, therefore most rigid regulations governing their inspection are desirable. It would be protection not only to the consumer but also to the producer, as it would to some extent prevent his pure products coming in competition with imitations.—The Dalles Times-Mountaineer.

AT BUFFALO.

Oregon Exhibit at Pan-American Surpasses Others.

The Oregon exhibit in the horticultural, agricultural, mining and forestry building surpasses that of any other state. The state of Washington with an appropriation of $25,000, $5000 more than Oregon, has not half the exhibit that our state has, and part of what it has borrowed from our commissioners. Oregon is quite well advertised, but not as much as it should, still we, as delegates to the National Editorial Association from Oregon, were granted more favors than that of any other state delegation. Through the courtesy of the Grand Trunk Railway we were given a trip to the old Canadian city of Toronto. The celebrated New York Central and Hudson River R. R. granted us a trip to New York on its four-track up-to-date railway.

The Chautauqua Fourth.

The managers of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Association are making great preparations for the Fourth of July program. General Thomas A. Morgan, of New York City, will deliver the oration, "Building of the Nation." General Morgan was the commissioner of the bureau of Indian affairs under President Harrison, and has recently issued a book, "The Negro in America." Several head of cattle and sheep will be barbecued for the free basket dinner to be served in the park. There will be special music, a program of sports, including a baseball game, and the field events will be something unusual for Chautauqua gatherings. Miss May Neal, of the Northwestern University of Chicago, will read the Declaration of Independence. There will be a grand display of fireworks in the evening.

SUCCESS OF THE CENTURY.

The Newspapers Given Due Credit by the Figprune Cereal Co.

The old saying that the best article, properly advertised, will win out in face of all opposition, has been actually demonstrated by the Figprune Cereal Co. of San Jose, Cal.

Their cereal coffee "Figprune" is made from choice California figs and prunes and sound, well ripened grain so blended that all the nutritive properties of fruit and grain are retained.

The beverage made from Figprune is a distinct revelation to cereal coffee drinkers because of its delicate flavor and aroma.

Mr. A. S. Rix, president of the company, in a recent interview stated that the success already attained by his company was due, first, to the fact that Figprune was the best cereal coffee ever produced; second, that the advertising mediums used had been selected for their actual merit—only the best papers being used.

It is pleasing to note that this paper is one of the mediums selected by the shrewd president of the company, and has aided in blazing a path for other food product advertisers to follow.
