J. W. Berriam, of this city, is doing successful work as superintendent of the Rogue River hatchery, according to an exchange, which has the following: "During the past year about 2,600,000 eggs were retained and hatched at this station, where the young salmon were fed until they were three or four inches in length before being planted in the river. A half million of eggs taken were silver salmon and steelhead trout. All of the silver salmon were planted in Rogue river, as were also about one-half the steelheads. The other half were shipped to various points in the East, one shipment being made to Tuxedo park, the famous resort, near New York city. Another year's work will begin at the hatchery this month."

Ex-Mayor T. W. Sullivan and family moved into their elegant new home, opposite the Catholic church Tuesday. It is one of the most convenient residences ever built in the city, with all the modern attachments, and is substantially constructed with wood ornamental work and plastered walls on the inside. There are 11 rooms in the building. Hallways, parlor, sitting room, library, dining room, the four latter connected with folding doors; kitchen, pantries, etc., all on the first floor. A front and a rear stairway lead to the second floor, where the roomy sleeping apartments are located. The bath room, also is on this floor. A stairway leads from the second floor to the attic, which also is roomy. The basement is substantially constructed, and is provided with hot and cold water, like the remainder of the house. W. L. Snidow had charge of the construction work.

Gus Mills, a Portland painter, is now in the county jail waiting for the circuit court to convene, to answer a charge of the larceny of a lot of articles from the residence of Franklin T. Griffith. He was in the employ of a local painter, and was dispatched to paint the floor of the Griffith residence. The family were camped at Gladstone park, and Mills returned after night and carried off a valise with sundry valuable articles. Mills was arrested on the Madison street bridge in Portland, by the police, he being very much intoxicated, and the valise was subsequently found where he had left it. Mills was arraigned before Justice McNulty Monday, and through his attorney, Mayor Dimick, waived examination. He was bound over in the sum of $250. However, a stipulation was made that in the event Mills' mother, living in the East, would put up a cash bond of $100, he shall be released. Mills is a member of the Knights of Pythias, and lays his trouble to drink.
