He will begin work on his prune crop about September 1st, which will demand a good share of his attention.

The Yamhill Reporter invented the following: "Two travelers on a county road in Clackamas county recently met with an accident to their buggy. While one of them held the team, the other went to a near by farm house for tools to make repairs. He asked the farmer, who happened to be a Swede, if he had a monkey wrench, and this was his reply: 'No, Ah haf not got monkey ranch; Ah haf got a cattle ranch. Nels Nelson haf got a hog ranch down by das creek, and a vaxke feller haf a sheep ranch bote life mile down das road; Ah bait you no feller bin blame fule enough to start a monkey ranch in das country.'"

The August magazine number of this Outlook, in addition to six or eight unusually strong articles dealing with educational topics, contains another illustrated installment of Jacob A. Rilla's "The Making of an American"; the continuation of "The Man from Glenview" by Ralph Connor, author of "Black Rock" and "The Sky Pilot"; a richly illustrated account of a visit to Sienkiewicz, the Polish novelist, by Louis E. Van Norman; full page portraits of the late John Fiske, Governor Taft of the Philippines, and others ($3 a year. The Outlook Company, 287 Fourth Avenue, New York.)

It has been published broadcast that Buffalo lacks accommodation for guests visiting the Pan-American Exposition. The statement is utterly without foundation. It has been a point of honor with Buffalo, that all guests shall be accommodated properly and reasonably. For example, Dr. Pierce's free bureau of information has registered accommodations for one hundred thousand guests, in the most desirable homes and locations in the city of Buffalo. Every room offered to guests has been inspected. Many rooms have been rejected by the Bureau because of location or some other unsatisfactory feature. The rooms offered by Dr. Pierce include the choicest rooms obtainable in Buffalo. Address 652 Main street.

Will Dutcher discovered a lot of young bass washed ashore in the eddy at the Altona dock Tuesday morning. He called the attention of E. C. Greenman, field superintendent of the Oregon fish commission to the fact, and a careful examination revealed the fact that the young bass had been caught in the meshes of a gill net. It is presumed that some one had been fishing with a gill net up the Willamette, and threw the young bass back into the water. Dead bass do not sink in the water like salmon, but float along the surface, and are often carried ashore by the eddies. The new fish laws provide a heavy penalty for catching black bass, and the fisherman may have cast them away to avoid detection. Five years imprisonment is the punishment promised for persons found catching black bass.

There is another short chapter in the McHargue case this week. Last spring Mr. McHargue made application in Clackamas county for a teachers' certificate, and passed his examination there. The certificate was granted. The holder presented this to Superintendent Ball for indorsement, under that section of law which provides that a superintendent "may" indorse the certificate granted in another county, thus dispensing with the formality of examination, and filing certificate of character. Mr. McHargue contended that "may" is to be construed "must" where it appears in the statute. Superintendent Ball thought that "may" means "may," and gives him discretionary power. The dispute was submitted to Attorney-General Blackburn for interpretation. That officer holds with Superintendent Ball. Mr. McHargue's certificate will not be indorsed in this county.—Hillsboro Independent. The matter of contention appears to be over the moral character of McHargue.

Improvements at State Fair Ground.

The State Board of Agriculture are making some wonderful improvements at the state fair grounds, and old timers will hardly recognize the place when they attend Oregon's greatest fair this fall. The old pavilion is being enlarged to double its size, and after the best exhibits ever seen in the state are arranged there will be ample room left for an auditorium, a thing that has been needed for a long time. A brand new up-to-date creamery building is being erected; also where the best dairy display ever made in the state will certainly be seen. The machinery hall is being enlarged, new cattle stalls, sheep pens, hog styrs, and horse stables are being built. A cozy farm cottage, hay barn, and new sidewalks are also on the list of improvements, and nothing will be left undone to accommodate the exhibitor and entertain the visitor at the fair this fall.

Their Secret is Out.

All Sadiesville, Ky., was curious to learn the cause of the vast improvement in the health of Mrs. S. P. Whitaker, who had for a long time, endured untold suffering from a chronic bronchial trouble. "It's all due to Dr. King's New Discovery," writes her husband. "It completely cured her and also cured our little grand-daughter of a severe attack of Whooping Cough." It positively cures Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Bronchitis, all Throat and Lung troubles. Guaranteed, bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at George Harding's drug store.

When you want a good square meal go to the Ernsweck restaurant, opposite suspension bridge, L. Ruonich, proprietor. Everything fresh and clean and well cooked; just like you get at home. This is the only first-class restaurant in Oregon City and where you can get a good meal for the price of a poor one elsewhere.

Oregon City & Portland River Line.

The new steamer "Leona" will go on this route May 30th, making four round trips every day. This boat has been built especially for the Oregon City and Portland route by the Graham Bros., of the Oregon City Transportation Company. They believe the time has come when a good passenger and freight boat will receive enough patronage from the two cities to support the same. The time card will be as follows: Leave Oregon City at 7 and 10 a. m., 1:30 and 4:30 p. m. Leave Portland 8:30 and 11:30 a. m., 3:30 and 6:00 p. m. Round trip will be 25 cents.

Charles Daley, a farmer residing near Wilhoit Springs, had a very fine crop of timothy this year, and a sample bundle of the grass has been sent to Commissioner D. Schuch at the Buffalo exposition. The sheaf measured seven feet and six inches in length and, of course, was of the very best to be found. Still it is claimed that the grass averaged at least five feet in height, which must be called good enough.—Aurora Borealis.

Miss Nellie Loomis' face was quite badly powder-burned this morning by the accidental discharge of a "safety" gopher gun. About 9 o'clock she was setting the gun at a gopher hole at her home on East Eleventh street, and in some manner it was discharged while her face was close to the nozzle. It was a narrow escape from death. Had her face been a few inches closer the shot would have struck and killed her.—Eugene Guard. Miss Loomis, who is a daughter of Dr. C. E. Loomis, special agent stationed at the local land office, is well known to a number of friends in Oregon City.
