Messrs. Lutz & Scott, contractors and builders, have rebuilt the steeple of the Bolton school house. One year's use wore it out. The young idea underneath was shooting too hard. Now it is solidly fastened to the framework of the building and will likely last many moons.

This little bit of political news has jumped the Oregon City falls and found its way up the Willamette as far as Salem: Geo. C. Brownell will not be a candidate for congress against Mr. Tongue. Instead he will try once more for the state senatorship from Clackamas.—Salem Sentinel.

E. J. McKittrick and Miss Lute Martin were married Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock by Rev. A. Hillebrand. The couple left Tuesday morning for a ten days stay at Newport, when they will return to Oregon City to reside. Miss Martin is the accomplished daughter of Mrs. E. F. Martin of the Racket store, and Mr. McKittrick is a prominent merchant. Both are well and favorably known by all.

H. W. Stood, an employe of the P. G. E. Co., while assisting a crew of linemen in putting up a new wire, fell from a pole at a height of 40 feet. Miss Gertrude Nefzger will have the first primary in the Barclay school and Miss Erna Lawrence will move into the grade formerly held by Miss Nefzger in the Eastham school. Miss Meldrum will take the third grade in the Eastham school, held by Miss Lawrence. School will open the fall term September 16.

The Oregon State Fair at Salem, September 23d to 29th, 1901, inclusive, promises to be the best this year that has been held. New features for amusement and particular attention will be given to the stock exhibit, owing to the great and constantly increasing interest in dairying throughout the state. For this occasion the Southern Pacific Co. will make a rate of one fare for the round trip, from all its stations in Oregon, to Salem and return; and it is to be hoped that everyone who can do so will show his appreciation by taking advantage of this opportunity to pass a few days pleasantly and profitably at our state capital.

James Gwinup was arrested Saturday night by Constable Moody, charged with the robbery of a slot machine in the Bon Ton saloon Saturday morning. The information which led to the arrest was furnished by P. E. Polk, who was rather flush with nickels. Suspicion fell on him, but he claimed that Gwinup paid him some money in nickels. Gwinup denies the transaction, and says that on Friday he lent Polk a 2-inch chisel, and this was the instrument used to open the saloon window. Polk was seen on the street between 2 and 3 o'clock Saturday morning by Nightwatchman Shaw. Both men went to jail, pending an examination before Justice McAnally Monday, when Gwinup was released on account of insufficient evidence. Polk will be tried later.

Oregon has collected about $40,000 in licenses and the legislature appropriated about $15,000 more to establish and maintain fish hatcheries, but outside of the Clackamas there is not a hatchery in the state. Yet some politicians claim that the big run this year was due to fish hatched in the Oregon hatcheries. Mr. Little, the Washington fish commissioner, says the great run of salmon this year was due to the Wenatchee and other Washington state hatcheries. He says it is not a delayed run, neither of May, June or July, but the regular run of these fish, hatched at a corresponding season in 1897. He says the old May, June and July runs have been fished out, and none of them have been supplied by any hatcheries until those of 1899, not yet due to arrive. He says, further, that the Oregon hatcheries have only hatched out February and March fish.—Astoria Herald.

Slot Machines.

The city authorities have ordered all the slot machines to retire from business. How long they will stay retired is the question. However, to attempt to limit the gambling opportunities of adults is a thankless job, as gambling goes on behind closed doors in this city almost every night in the year. To prevent saloons, in which minors are not supposed to be permitted, from running slot machines, which don't deserve any praise, it is true, reforms nothing in particular. It is somewhat like putting some of the dog's hair on the dog's bottle.

Quin's Seedling.

The seedling peach plum trees in William Quin's orchard at Canemah are laden with ripening fruit. This new variety which he has originated is no doubt the largest and most delicious of its kind. If Mr. Quin carries out his intention of placing nursery stock of the same on the market, it will survive him as a gift to posterity in thousands of orchards of the Northwest.

Company A Won.

Company A defeated the Willamette baseball team Sunday at Willamette Falls by a score of 6 to 3. The game was close up to the eighth inning, when the Willamettes made several errors, and Company A some good batting. Following was the line up and score of teams:

A Cannery Needed.

It is a pity that Oregon City can not have a fruit and vegetable cannery. With one of the finest counties in the state as regards soil it can furnish fruit and vegetables to keep a large cannery going the entire season. Besides rendering the production of soil more profitable a cannery would furnish employment for several hundred boys and girls, who would only be too glad of the chance to earn a little pin money. While the Lang cannery at Green Point was run-ning about 300 hands were employed, using all the surplus labor of Oregon City, besides the large number that was brought up from Portland. Will not some enterprising men with money establish a cannery in or near Oregon City? It will pay as an investment. A creamery is also needed at Oregon City.

Carnival at Portland.

The business men of Portland have subscribed $15,000 to guarantee the expenses of a Carnival to be held in the Exposition building from Sept. 18 to Oct. 19.

A notable exhibit of all the industries of the Pacific Northwest will be made in the big Exposition building, and athletic exercises, a horse show and a military tournament will be held on Multnomah Field adjoining. Two full military bands have been engaged, and there will be many fine features in the amusement line.

The Carnival is in charge of a committee comprising 28 representative business men, of which Gen. Owen Summers is president; I. N. Fleischner, vice-president; A. B. Steinbach, treasurer, and J. D. Mann, secretary.

In Canemah.

Last week the Canemah street railway left a handcar in the midst of the highway for several days. Wm. Quin has a rod in pickle against the railroad company for destroying his fence with a pile of debris dumped against it. The road or street along the track through the village is in a bad shape, and when the wet weather has well set in a part of it will be a muddy pond. Road Supervisor Tabor should take a look at Canemah.

Death of Anton Klar.

Anton Klar died at his home near Mackesburg on Saturday, and his remains were buried in the New Era cemetery on Monday. He had reached the age of 81 years, and was a native of Prussian Silesia. Two grown daughters and a son and their mother survive him. Mr. Klar was one of the best of men, leaving as an invaluable legacy to posterity the example of a simple life nobly lived.

Game Laws.

It will not be lawful to kill elk at any time prior to September 15, 1904. The open season for pheasant and quail is August 1st to November 1st. The open season for prairie chicken is August 15th to November 15th. It will not be legal to kill any bob-white quail until October 15, 1905.

New Commander.

Meade Post, No. 2, G. A. R., held a meeting Saturday afternoon and accepted the resignation of Patrick Colbert as commander of the post, who is in Los Angeles. Mr. Colbert will return to Oregon City, but probably not before his term of office expires.

F. H. Beach was elected commander, to succeed Mr. Colbert, and Eaxon Hayford elected junior vice-commander, to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Mr. Beach. O. A. Cheney was appointed aid-de-camp on the staff of the department commander.

The charter of John Gibbon Post, No. 78, has been annulled by Department Commander A. J. Goodbrod, with the consent of the council of administration. The post was organized last October by a few members, and has not been a success. Following is an extract from general orders No. 2: "The charter of John Gibbon Post, No. 78, Department of Oregon, Grand Army of Republic, having been annulled on June 25, 1901, by Department Commander A. J. Goodbrod, with the consent of the council of administration, and the same having been approved by Leo Kasseier, commander-in-chief, G. A. R., on July 31, 1901, under section 4, article 1, of charter 5, rules and regulations, John Gibbon Post, No. 78, Department of Oregon, G. A. R., is hereby dropped from the rolls of this department, and all comrades of said John Gibbon Post, No. 78, who were in good standing on June 25, 1901, will be granted cards upon application to these headquarters."
