COUNTY POMONA GRANGE.

The People of Eagle Creek Entertain their Visitors Royally.

Though Eagle Creek Grange is not as large in numbers as it undoubtedly will be, it being yet young, the hospitable and generous manner in which it entertained its visitors on the occasion of the meeting of Pomona Grange, has left the impression in their minds that this grange is strong because its members are big-hearted, manifesting, as they do, the true spirit of human brotherhood, which is inculcated by the Grange.

The session opened in the forenoon on the 9th. Resolutions were passed expressing the sorrow which all good citizens should feel over the murder of President McKinley, and condemning in unmeasured terms anarchy and anarchists, concluding with the demand that the government should by summary legislation suppress anarchists, and prevent their ingress to this country from foreign lands.

At the end of the discussion during the lecturer's hour, the retiring lecturer, Mrs. Howard, of Mulino, stated that at the next meeting of Pomona the following questions would be discussed:

What can we do to make our farm homes more convenient, comfortable and attractive?

What influence is extended by the rightly conducted farm home on the boys and girls trained in such homes?

Toward evening the election of officers took place, which will be installed at the meeting to be held with the Stafford Grange in the second week of January. The election resulted as follows:

Master, Edwin Bates, master of Springwater Grange.
Overser, William Grisenthwaite, of Central Grange.
Lecturer, Mrs. Nora Miller, of Highland Grange.
Steward, E. W. Bunnell, of Milwaukee Grange.
Assistant steward, William Shannon, of Central Grange.
Chaplain, Father Eaton, of Oswego Grange.

Treasurer, T. L. Turner, of Stafford Grange.

Secretary, M. C. Glover, of Eagle Creek Grange.

Gatekeeper, L. H. Kirohem, of Harding Grange.

Pomona, Anna Holm, of Milwaukee Grange.

Flora, Mrs. Ida Derry, of Damascus Grange.

Ceres, Cora Larkins, of Highland Grange.

Lady Assistant Steward, Anna Penman, of Warner Grange.

After supper 12 ladies and 12 gentlemen were initiated in the fifth degree.

The Grange had closed its session. The doors were opened and a large crowd of ladies and gentlemen entered, who filled all the seats in the hall.

A literary and musical program was then rendered, as follows:

Grange chorus by the young folks of Eagle Creek Grange.

Address by Charles Zeek, master of Eagle Creek Grange on the good of the order. He showed, briefly, the great value of the grange, as an educator to the young.

Instrumental duet by Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Miller, of Highland. They responded to an encore.

Recitation by Mrs. Joseph Kirchem, of Logan.

Comic reading by Mrs. Holm, of Milwaukee.

Duet by Misses Squires and Higgins. Address, by Father Eaton.

Instrumental solo by O. D. Robbins, of Logan.

Essay by I. LeMahieu.

Recitation by Mrs. T. L. Turner, of Stafford.

Maac by Misses Martha Zeek and Alta Judd.

Reading by Mrs. Zeek.

Vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Miller.

Recitation by George Clark, of Logan.

Song, "Oregon," by Mr. Bonnell, Mrs. Holm and Miss Anna Holm, of Milwaukee.

Comic recitation by Miss Holm.

Closed with the song, "Until We Meet Again," the whole house joining in the chorus.

The seats were cleared away and dancing began, which continued until 3 o'clock in the morning. Young grangers love fun as well as other folks.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

With a members' parlor, reading room, game room, baths, gymnasium and educational department, as is offered to the members of the Young Men's Christian Association, no man in Oregon City ought to feel himself without a place to go and enjoy himself aside from the saloons and places of vice.

The gymnasium classes are progressing nicely and recruits are being added at each meeting. A hotly contested game of indoor baseball will be played within a couple of weeks, having the business men on one side and with the young men of the evening class on the other. Of course the side possessing the most science will win and both sides are confident of victory so it remains to be seen which class shall bear the title of Champion.

A ladies' class will soon be organized, thus giving them the benefit of the competent physical director.

A Chapter of Accidents.

The past week has been a prolific period for accidents, aside from the usual grist of trivial like occurrences that happen at the paper mills every week. None of the accidents, however, proved fatal.

The worst accident occurred to young Jackson last Sunday morning. In company with two other young men from Albina, he was driving out in the country for a bird shoot. On this side of the Clackamas river while the team was crossing the railroad track the accident occurred. Jackson was driving with one arm resting directly over the muzzle of a heavily loaded shotgun, which was discharged by the jar, the contents shattering the arm from the elbow to the wrist. The young man was brought to town and placed in care of Drs. Strickland and Sommer, and was taken by the latter to a Portland hospital, where he amputated the injured arm.

A young man named Harnel, of Portland, was riding along the bluff above New Era late Sunday evening, when his wheel struck a rock throwing the rider over the bluff and he rolled to the bottom a distance of 60 feet. He was picked up by some Oregon City boys and brought to the office of Drs. Fowell and Norris, where he lay unconscious for awhile. He soon rallied, however, and returned to his home at Portland. The bicycle caught on a bush and was unharmed.

Dr. C. S. Seaman reports the following accidents: On Saturday Mrs. C. N. Larkins, of Clarkes, while driving to town was accidentally thrown off a wagon, and sustained a fracture of one rib. The 14-year old son of August Hubert, of Logan, was accidentally thrown from a heavily loaded wagon he was driving in the city Sunday, one wheel of the vehicle passing over his body. He suffered some severe bruises.

It is learned that Felix Jones sustained a broken leg at Jones' mill on the Abernethy, the accident occurring Monday or Tuesday. No particulars have been received.

Literary Notes.

The National Magazine, of Boston, has the unique magazine feature of the month. This is a portrait of President McKinley's little daughter, Katie, who died at the age of three and a half years. The portrait, which has never before been published, adorns the first page of the National Magazine for October. "It shows," says The National, "a sweet, serene little face, with tender, trusting eyes and rosy lips. Rich, wavy hair, parted at the middle, falls down over the shoulders, clad in some fleecy, white stuff. She is all her father's features, the youthful image of her father, blending with his strength something of the subtly sweet grace and charm of her mother." Persons wishing to obtain a copy of this magazine containing this portrait and 60 pages of other McKinley pictures as well, should send 10 cents in stamps to The National Magazine, 41 West First Street, Boston, Mass.

The Smart Set for October opens with an amusing novelette entitled "The Career of Mrs. Osborne," by S. Carleton and Helen Milcote, the latter the author of "Miss Vandeleur, Pirate," one of the successes of last year. The present story narrates the adventures of two charming young women who escape from tiresome country relatives and take an apartment in London under the fictitious chaperonage of "Mrs. Osborne." Their escapades, their many devices to avoid detection and their final disposition of "Mrs. Osborne" are highly diverting.

The October Magazine Number of The Outlook is particularly strong in fine portraits. Among the full-page portraits are those of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, the Duke and Duchess of York, Seth Low, the fusion candidate for Mayor of New York, three Episcopal dignitaries (Bishops Clark and Nichols and Dr. Dix) printed in connection with an article on the great Triennial Convention of the Episcopal Church, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, the Prime Minister of France, and Bishop Whipple, who died last month. ($3 a year. The Outlook Company, 287 Fourth Avenue, New York.)

The Latest "House of Hits" Publications.

The greatest hit ever made with a ballad by the Primrose and Docketader Minstrels was made this season by them with "While the Convent Bells Were Ringing." This is a new and beautiful song by Max S. Witt and Robert S. Roden.

"No Use in Asking, 'Cause You Know the Reason Why," is an odd coon song, featured by Lew Docketader himself. He sings it imitatively, and the song, which is by Bob Cole, J. W. & Rosamond Johnson, is a great success.

"A Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," is the title of Petrie's latest and greatest bass song. Our readers of course know his "Davey Jones' Locker," but this is the finest song he has written.

"When the Irish are on Parade" is a character song introducing all the old favorite airs. It is by Heelan and Helf, writers of "Every Race Has a Flag but the Coon."

"Ma Heart's Desiah is Miss Mariah" is the greatest hit in a coon song ever featured by Lew Docketader, the famous minstrel. He says himself that the melody of the song fascinates.

"East Lynne!" Just think of the beautiful but sad incidents embodied in both the story and the play we all like so well. This song is one of Heelan & Helf's greatest efforts.

These songs are issued this month by "The House of Hits, Joe W. Stern & Co., who will be pleased to send anyone writing them their vocal and instrumental, orchestra and band, "Hawkes" Band Instrument, Beane Majestic Violin, S. S. Stewart's Sons Banjo Catalogue, free on application to their headquarters, 34 East 21st Street, New York City.

Funeral of Barney Fallert.

The funeral of the late Barney Fallert, held at Logan last Sunday afternoon, is said to have been more largely attended than any burial service ever held in that section. The people for miles around turned out en-masse to honor the memory of their highly esteemed neighbor, and Oregon City was well represented at the services. The impressive services at the grave was conducted at the grave by Father Hillebrand, who preached a sermon fittingly appropriate for the occasion. Following this the ritualistic burial service of the A. O. U. W., was held, conducted by Past Master Workman C. H. Dye, assisted by Past Master Workman T. F. Ryan. The pallbearers were all members of Falls City Lodge, and consisted of H. Hanlin, past master workman; H. J. Harding, recorder; B. K. Kimmell, outside watchman; R. G. Pierce, A. C. Beaulieu and W. M. Shank. Other members of the lodge present were: Peter Nehren, R. D. Wilson, and past master workmen, F. T. Barlow, Joe Bromong and K. H. Gaubert.

Other Oregon City people attending the funeral were Frank Busch and family, Chris Hartman, Ernest Matthias and A. H. Griessen and family. Elegant floral pieces were presented by St. John's Catholic church and Falls City Lodge.

Barney Fallert was born in Baden, Germany 52 years ago, and emigrated to Chicago when he was 18 years old. He came to Oregon soon afterward and located in Clackamas county, where he continually lived. About 20 years ago he was married to Anna Busch, a cousin of Frank Busch. The widow and six children survive him. He was a competent fish culturist, and for a number of years was connected with the Clackamas hatchery. He also served as superintendent of both the Baker Lake and Wind river hatcheries in Washington, where his services were highly appreciated by the fish commission. The deceased was a faithful member of the A. O. U. W. He was a progressive and energetic farmer, a fact evidenced by the improvements made on the farm, which had been his home for many years. The large attendance at the funeral, attested to his worth as a man. The deceased died in St. Vincent's hospital last Friday morning, after a short illness of typhoid fever.

The Commoner.

(Mr. Bryan's Paper.)

The Commoner has attained within six months from date of the first issue a circulation of 100,000 copies, a record probably never equaled in the history of American periodical literature. The unparalleled growth of this paper demonstrates that there is room in the newspaper field for a national paper devoted to the discussion of political, economic, and social problems. To the columns of The Commoner Mr. Bryan contributes his best efforts; and his review of political events as they arise from time to time can not fail to interest those who study public questions.

The Commoner's regular subscription price is $1.00 per year. We have arranged with Mr. Bryan whereby we can furnish his paper and the Courier-Herald together for one year for $1.75. The regular subscription price of the two papers when subscribed for separately is $2.50.
