"Can't Afford to Paint."

The man who says that, forgets that painting properly done is economy, and the fact is he can't afford NOT to paint.

How often you require to paint is largely dependent upon the paint you use.

THE
SHERWIN-WILLIAMS

out last others. They are the most economical paints you can use, because they cover most and wear longest. Add to this their good appearance, and you have perfect paints—The Sherwin-Williams Paints.

They are made for many different kinds of painting. Whatever it is you want to paint—a house, or anything in or out of the house—we make the right paint for that particular purpose—not one slap-dash mixture for all.

We are prepared to supply everything in the paint line from a 1/4 pint of varnish to a barrel of mixed paint. Let us quote you prices.

William Davis, a well known resident of this city is at Vancouver, B. C., but has not yet decided whether he will remain there during the winter or not.

The picture of S. S. Mohler, the mountaineer-climber, on the apex of Rooster Rock, is like that of a fly on a big Georgia melon standing on end, at 50 feet distance from the photo-stand.

Henry Sawtell, who removed from Needy to Dover last week, was in town Monday, accompanied by his son. He recently purchased 80 acres of land in the Douglas neighborhood, and is well pleased with his new home.

Mrs. Louise LeBan and Mrs. A. V. Dickey, of Seattle, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. E. A. France and August Moehnke, of Willamette Falls, returned last week from a pleasant visit to their brother, John Moehnke, near Albany.

J. Pierpont Morgan passed through the city last Friday morning with his special train, and made a few minutes halt at the depot. There was no one present to greet him, except Ed Fields, who extended the freedom of the city, including the falls and slot machines.

T. W. Clark, manager of the Brandon woolen mills, was in the city during the week, visiting his family. The mills are now running day and night to fill eastern orders. While here he secured several weavers to operate new machines recently installed.

O. W. and C. S. Herman, Frank and Zeb Bowman and John Sawtell were in from Molalla Saturday, and report that fall sowing is well under way. The acreage is no larger than last year, but the wheat is going into the ground in better condition.

Superintendent J. W. Berriam, of the hatchery, came down Sunday night after Dr. Jones to attend Reuben Pankey, who was very sick at that place.—Medford Enquirer. Mr. Pankey is a brother of Mr. J. N. Howlett, of this city, and is assisting Mr. Berriam in the Rogue River hatchery.

Willis Cox, who is interested in the wooden spool factory at Elwood, was in town Saturday. Their mill has a capacity of 600 spools daily, and the product is sold to the paper mills here and in California, and is used in making the manufactured paper into rolls.

Mrs. William Galloway and daughter, Miss Zilpha, returned Monday from an extended trip to the East. Mrs. Galloway was honored by the National Relief Corps convention, and they visited the Buffalo exposition and other places points of interest. Miss Zilpha is much improved in health.

Louis Toedtmeier, of Stafford, was in the city Saturday. He has completed the work of digging seven acres of potatoes, which yielded 530 sacks. This at prevailing prices would mean a revenue of about $100 to the acre. He has seven acres more, which gives promise of a still better yield.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hart, of Minier, Ill., who had been visiting Deacon L. H. Andrews and family for a couple of weeks, started on their return trip home last Friday morning. Mr. Hart is a hardware and furniture dealer, and he and his wife have been making an extended tour of the west.

J. J. Judd, a prominent Eagle Creek farmer, was in the city Monday. He has leased his mother's place, which he will conduct in connection with his own farm. Mr. Judd is engaging extensively in stock raising—cattle and hogs. He considers this the best plan of recuperating and enriching farm land.

SIX HUNDRED DOLLARS

$600 TO BE GIVEN AWAY $600

Two years ago we distributed the above amount among our customers. The experiment was such a great success, we have concluded to repeat it this year. In other words, we will share some of our profits with our customers.

This Is the Way We Do It

Commencing MONDAY morning, we will GIVE AWAY with each tenth MEN'S SUIT that we sell, A TEN DOLLAR BILL. And with each tenth BOYS' or CHILD'S SUIT sold, a Five Dollar Bill. By this means every tenth customer will receive a suit practically for nothing. Our friends will remember the long list of persons who received more than the amount of their purchase from us last year.

Moyer Clothing Company

Third and Oak Sts., Portland, Oregon

Seth Ausin, who has been at Florissant, Calif., for the past two years, arrived here Thursday. He has put in the greater part of his time surveying and employed in buying timber lands. Recently, he has been in poor health, and underwent a surgical operation. He will spend the winter on his ranch at the hot springs, above the upper Clackamas hatchery.

E. P. Dedman, of Clackamas, was in the city Saturday, and reported that the majority of the prunegrowers had disposed of their dried product. Many of the Italians brought 4-1-4 cents per pound ungraded, while the best price paid for pebbles was 2-3-4 cents ungraded. The majority of the Italians were contracted early in the season, and brought good prices.
Fred Horton was down from Newberg the first of the week visiting relatives. He is employed in the axe-handle factory at Newberg, it having formerly been located at Portland. The Oregon City company, who owned this axe-handle factory, disposed of their interests, and the new proprietors moved the plant to Newberg. The original incorporators of the company were Wayne Howard, R. D. Wilson, George H. Horton and James Heckart. The latter is now in Seattle, and Howard is living in Portland.

Edward W. Bingham, the well known Portland lawyer, who lives on the bank of the Willamette river this side of Oswego, was attacked with a fit of dizziness and fell out of his office window in the Union block in Portland Monday. He fell a distance of 30 feet to the sidewalk, and sustained probably fatal injuries. He was taken to the hospital and Mrs. Bingham was summoned from her Oswego home. Mr. Bingham came to Oregon in 1872, and did extensive work as a railroad contractor. He has long practiced law, and drafted the Australian ballot and registry laws passed by the Oregon legislature. Mrs. Bingham is a daughter of the late General Ingalls Stevens, the first governor of Washington territory.

The Clackamas County boys employed by the state fish commission are making good records for themselves, as is evidenced by the following printed in the Astoria Budget: "Several letters were received at the fish warden's office today from field and hatchery superintendents, and all reported that the work of which they had charge, was progressing well. James T. Hattan, who had been exploiting the McKenzie river, a branch of the Willamette which is believed to have been the greatest breeding ground for Columbia river salmon in early days, writes that he has found several good locations on the McKenzie for hatcheries, and that when the falls are arranged at Oregon City so that the fish can get up, there will be no limit to the number of fish that can be propagated there. Harry E. Austin, who has charge of the hatchery work on the Siuslaw, has been up Wild Cat creek, a tributary of that river, and has found what he believes to be the natural spawning ground for salmon and has put in racks to catch the fish."

All Get Deputies.

The board of county commissioners weakened again and at last week's special session (cost to taxpayers, $29.80) the clerk was allowed two deputies, the sheriff two, the assessor six and the recorder two. We haven't learned whether the judge, superintendent or treasurer were allowed deputies or not; if not, it was because they didn't apply to the board, which granted all petitions for extra clerical help.
