NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Noyes in the Nome contempt case in investigation before United States Commissioner Hea- Water, cook today in San Francisco, Attorney E. S. Pillsbury, in his capacity as "amicus curiae," made the direct charge that a conspiracy existed between United States District Judge Noyes and others to obtain possession of a number of mines, near Nome. After the examination of several witnesses, and in answer to an objection Attorney Pillsbury said: "My theory is that McKenzie used Judge Noyes as an instrument to carry out his purpose. When the facts came before Judge Noyes suppressed them." Samuel Knight was recalled and asked: "Did you get your property all back from the receiver?" "We were short just $9,000, which we did not receive until after McKenzie was arrested," responded Knight.

The news has been received here from Teheran, of the discovery of a serious plot against the life of the Shah. The leaders of the conspiracy were the Shah's two brothers, the grand vizier, Sadr Asam, and the Shah's son-in-law. The two brothers have been banished for life to Ardebil. The son-in-law was sentenced to death, but on the scaffold his sentence was mitigated by the Shah's firman to flogging until he revealed all the names of the conspirators. The Shah's favorite, Gavame, who was also concerned, was pardoned on the scaffold, but died subsequently in prison. The whole revolutionary party, together with the higher priests, were in the plot, and all will be beheaded for life. There is a veritable panic among the people at Teheran.

The list of injured is not known definitely, but fully a score of victims were located at different hospitals. Police and firemen are tonight delving into the ruins in search of bodies supposed to have been buried beneath the debris, as it is feared that others besides the known dead may have lost their lives in the flames. The buildings destroyed were the eight-story structure on Market street, occupied by Hunt, Wilkinson & Co., furniture dealers and upholsters, and three-story buildings occupied by small merchantmen.

EDUCATORS CONGREGATE.

County Teachers Entertained at Harmony Last Saturday

The first meeting of the season of the Clackamas County Teachers' Association, was held at the Harmony school house, near the Southern Pacific railroad between Clackamas and Milwaukie, last Saturday, was a very satisfactory beginning for the work of another fiscal year. County Superintendent Zinner presided, and the meeting opened by singing America. It was announced that this was the time for the election of new officers, with the following result: Vice-president, V. A. Davis, of the Harmony school; for secretary, Miss Fannie G. Porter, of Oregon City, was re-elected; treasurer, Miss Lizzie Shipley, of Willamette. No president was elected, as the county superintendent fills that position in accordance with the bylaws of the organization. The following were elected officers of the Clackamas County Teachers' Library Association:

President, T. J. Gary; vice president, Miss Rebecca T. Smith; treasurer, Miss Lizzie Shipley.

Charles H. Jones, editor of the Teachers' Monthly at Salem, and author of a poem entitled "Oregon," addressed the meeting briefly. He especially requested contributions from schools or teachers, relating to historical facts connected with schools or in their immediate vicinity.

The following teachers were elected members of the Association: V. A. Davis, of Harmony; J. W. Fisher, of Clackamas; Misses R. T. Smith, Millie Kruse, Annetta Gleason and Jeannette Fairclough, Oregon City.

Mrs. G. M. Strance, principal of the Willamette school, who was down on the luncheon program to tell "How to Make the Schoolroom Attractive," failed to put in an appearance, and a general discussion of the topic took place. Superintendent Zinner believed it the teachers' duty to look her prettiest in the schoolroom, and to be at all times an example of neatness. Professor Gary called attention to the fact that the most successful teacher was the one who could control the boys. He found pictures, books and papers a great help in making the schoolroom home-like for pupils. Miss Smith emphasized the broad influence of pictures in the school room. Miss Patty was a strong advocate of the use of plant leaves in the schoolroom—that the pupils took especial pride in this decorative work, where they gathered the leaves themselves. Mr. Jones gave some practical ideas on how to prepare autumn leaves for use in schools, and also suggested plans of starting a school library and how to interest the pupils in the work.

An elaborate dinner was served by the people of Harmony with the best the country afforded.

AFTERNOON SESSION.
At the opening of the afternoon session the Harmony male quartet sang "Harvest Home," and responded to an enthusiastic encore with another selection. Then followed some recitations and declamations and "A Mother's Prayer," by the male quartet. (This paper regrets that it was unable to secure the names of the local talent participating in the above program.)

The topic for the afternoon was "Some Elements of a Successful School," discussed under separate heads. Miss Smith, principal of the Eastham school, gave an excellent dissertation on "The Teacher's Part." In part, Miss Smith said teachers were born, not made. No school or college education make a teacher. The teacher should become a power for good in the community by impressing their personality on the pupil. Miss Smith closed by impressing the fact that it isn't so much what pupils get from books, but it is the moulding of character that is of primary importance. Superintendent Zinner took occasion to emphasize the strong points brought out in Miss Smith's talk.

Miss Florence Patty, of the West Oregon City school, presented "The pupil's Part." She said that pupils should be prompt, energetic, patient and industrious. They also should be enthusiastic and strive to perform all duties as a pleasure, and not as a task.

"The Parent's Part," was presented by Miss Kathryn Casto, of the Milwaukie school. She advanced the idea that the parents should aid the teacher in every possible way, and let the teacher understand that her labors are appreciated. The parents should not be chronic faultfinders; neither should they at any time sacrifice a child's character to a teacher's reputation. Superintendent Zinner spoke of mothers' clubs in connection with the subject, and would be glad to hear of them in connection with every school.

J. W. Fisher, principal of the Clackamas school, talked of the "Director's Part." He called attention to the fact that the director's part was a most important one. The director should select the best teacher possible, but not at the lowest wages possible, the latter being false economy. They should direct and look after school property. August Kanne, one of the directors of the Harmony school district, followed with a few remarks. Mr. Kanne is a life member of the library association.

"The Superintendent's Part," was discussed by Professor H. T. Evans, of Oswego. He said the superintendent should have a close acquaintance with parents, and should enlighten them as to their duties to their respective schools. Professor Gary spoke of the importance of the superintendent having a strong personality. Superintendent Zinner spoke of the additional work required in his office under the new school law.

The usual bouquets were thrown out by adopting resolutions thanking the Harmony people for their entertainment. Ara McLaughlin, principal of the Milwaukie school, gave a brief resume of the work of the afternoon.

Other teachers not mentioned above that were in attendance, are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Buck, Canemah; Mr. and Mrs. Millard Hiatt, Willamette Falls; Miss Margaret Guttridge, Oswego; Grace Robinson and Celia Thomson, Clackamas; Stella Sumner, Sunnyside; Minerva Thiessen, Milwaukie; Emma Sturchler, Montavilla; Martha Sturchler, Harmony; Julia Spooner, Mount Scott. Mrs. G. W. Grace, the Misses Fairclough, Lou Albee and Frances Johnson, Oregon City.

The Harmony school is situated in one of the most prosperous sections of Clackamas county, and has an excellent school and board of directors. The principal is Mr. Davis, and the teacher of the primary department is Miss Martha Sturchler. The people of Harmony take great interest in educational matters, and thoroughly appreciate gatherings of this kind.

About 75 persons were present at the Harmony meeting. It is probable that the next meeting of the association will be a joint session at Aurora with the Marion county teachers.

Miss Lizzie Shipley very acceptably filled the duties of secretary pro-tem at this meeting.

November Magazines.

Following the precedent of almost thirty Thanksgiving Days, Horace Vose, of Westerly Rhode Island, will send the prize turkey of all his flocks to grace the new president's dinner table on November 28. "When Mr. Vose began the custom of sending a turkey to the president," writes a contributor to the November Ladies' Home Journal, "he had no motive other than the desire to send a Thanksgiving bird to the man who writes the Thanksgiving proclamations. The pioneer turkey went to President Grant in 1873. It weighed thirty-six pounds, and elicited the list of the courteous notes that have been coming ever since in the acknowledgment from the executive mansion. Mr. Vose has been dubbed 'The Turkey King.' All through the summer and fall he makes occasional visits to the farms in the vicinity, keeping a watchful eye on the many flocks, and eagerly scanning the strutting companies for the champion, the distinguished member of all the feathery tribes that is to rise eventually to the dignity of a place on the White House dinner table."

"The Man of Mexico" is the striking title of an article on President Diaz which appears in the magazine number of The Outlook for November. The writer is Mr. Charles F. Lummis, author of the best book on Mexico—"The Awakening of a Nation." Special pertinence attaches to the publication of this article at the present moment when the Congress of South American nations and of the United States is beginning its sessions in the city of Mexico in response to President Diaz' invitation. The story of President Diaz' life reads like a novel. His personal bravery in battle and his narrow escapes from his enemies form an extraordinary tale of conflict and success. $3 a year. The Outlook Company, 237 Fourth Avenue, New York.
