GREAT REMOVAL SALE

Golden Rule Bazaar

Opposite Bank of Oregon City

If you have not availed yourself of the rare opportunity it has afforded for economical shopping you have not done justice to your purse. A dollar spent at our store this week will send a larger package of value to your home than any dollar you ever spent before. One lady told us yesterday that she had shopped in the largest cities of the country, but had never seen so many "bargains" in one store.—We believe the lady.

Are you using Dr. Baker Rock, Rye and Tolu for that cough? It is far superior to the ordinary cough syrup—No morphine, no codine, no nothing to disturb the stomach. Just pure Rye, Glycerine, Rock Candy and Tolu; combined properly and GUARANTEED to cure. G. G. Huntley, sole agent.

New York Herald, June 6th: The costumes of "A Wise Woman" company which were seized by the custom authorities several days ago, were today released duty free and entered as "tools of trade." They are exquisite productions of the Parisian modiste's art and will simply set the ladies wild with delight who have the pleasure of seeing this attraction.

The following item from this paper appeared in the Western Investment, a paper published in Los Angeles, Calif. An item like this may be do considerable good for a town or community: "The Oregon City Courier-Herald says that a fruit and vegetable cannery should be erected and established in that city. Also that a creamery would pay well in Oregon City."

The approach of winter does not restrain Stony Vaughan's ambition for improvements in his lively stable. He has purchased a stylish closed carriage, equal in all its appointments to any in the state, and William Mackrell, the artistic harness-maker of Molalla, has furnished a $100 harness to go with the carriage, which, altogether, make the equipment the most tasteful and showy in the city.

As we come toward the Christmas holidays, larger space in the magazine is given to fiction. The Cosmopolitan includes a tragic story of the Mexican foothills by Thomas A. Janvier, a very clever society story by Carolyn Wells, one of the Old French Romances by Richard Le Gallienne, an unusually interesting Indian narrative by H. T. George, and a weird story by S. R. Crockett.

Mrs. John A. Emmitt, 17 years old, committed suicide in the St. Charles Hotel in Portland Wednesday by taking carbolic acid. Her maiden name was Marie Gray, and her parents are well-to-do people, living near Halsey street. She was married in this city Monday to Emmitt, a Halsey barber, Mayor Dimick officiating. The dead was a cousin of George S. Gilstrap, a local barber. She took carbolic acid because her husband came to the room drunk, and a quarrel ensued.

Strayed—From the farm of H. Bethke, two spotted, fat male hogs. Any information as to their whereabouts, will be liberally rewarded.

Lost—Overcoat between Vaughan's stable and Jones' mill on Abernethy road. Finder leave at Courier-Herald office and receive reward.

Beware of the Subscription Agency Sharks

Every day we hear of a city being worked by some smooth subscription agent taking cut-rate subscription for well-known magazines. Don't give your money to strangers. Don't risk sending it away. At Huntley's Book Store they will meet every honest cut-rate price for subscriptions for any paper or magazine published. Take with you any printed offer you may have and Mr. Huntley will meet it and save you all risk and expense. The Courier-Herald turned in many subscriptions to Huntley's Book Store at a saving to itself and heartily recommends their methods.

CHURCH GATHERINGS.

The rite of baptism was administered to the following persons at the First Baptist church last Sunday night: the Misses Lizzie Roos, Veda Williams, Olga McClure, Mary Sandstrom, Lillie Hargreaves; Mrs. Addie McClure; Ralph Parker, Bert Dickson, Victor Gault. The new members were converted during the revival services held by Rev. George Robert Cairns. Seven were baptized on the previous Sunday. The church now has elegant new curtain in front of the baptistry, the gift of the Junior Endeavor Society.

Rev. Thomas Marshall, D. D., who is prominently connected with the missionary work of the Presbyterian church, will occupy the local pulpit on the evening of November 20th.

At the Congregational church Sunday morning the Lord's supper will be commemorated in connection with the reception of new members.

In the Circuit Court.

George J. Moore vs G. A. Prentiss, et al, transcript from Marion county.

J. W. Wilson vs The Southern Pacific Railroad Company, to recover $25,000 on account injuries received by being ejected from a passenger train. The suit has been in court heretofore, but now comes up on a corrected complaint. Dimick & Eastham and R. W. Montague are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

Samuel vs Gratia Rowan and Minnie vs Emmett Nargot, for divorces.

WEDDINGS.

JACK-FOSTER.

J. E. Jack, chief deputy in the sheriff's office for the past three and a half years, was married to Mrs. Clara Foster, at 5 o'clock Sunday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. H. Miller on Bluff street. The officiating clergyman was Rev. W. S. Grim, of the First Episcopal Methodist church, while Mrs. Grim played the wedding march. Only a few relatives and friends were present at the unostentatious ceremony. Soon after the ceremony the bride and groom took possession of their new home adjoining that of her former home. The cottage had already been prepared for their occupancy. Monday night the officials in the court house serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Jack, and were invited to "come in." When the delegation were fairly seated in the parlor, County Judge Ryan arose, and as spokesman for the party, presented the newly-mated couple with an elegant silver fruit basket, with the compliments of the entire delegation. A social occasion followed. Mr. and Mrs. Jack are sons of prominent early pioneers, and were born in Clackamas county, and each have numerous friends.

Mary Gray and John A. Emmitt were married last Monday, Mayor Dimick officiating.

You will save money by buying your millinery of Miss Goldsmith.

Sophistry of the Enterprise.

The sheriff collected from a total of $12,501.36 delinquent taxes $4,210.47, and the county clerk, to use his own words, "between seven and eight thousand," say $7,500, leaving $11,367.19 delinquent taxes for the years '95, '96, '98 and '99 still uncollected. From a total of $31,000 delinquent taxes they collected, therefore, approximately, $11,700, which is several thousand dollars less than "some $15,000 of back tax liens" which the Enterprise claims the clerk and sheriff collected. That they were not "available assets," to quote the Enterprise, for debt paying purposes, until turned into cash, is shown by the very fact that $31,000 in back tax liens have brought in, thusfar, less than $12,000.

In speaking of deputy hire for clerk and sheriff the Enterprise says that former clerks and sheriffs did work without extra deputy hire. The amount paid for deputy hire in these offices was greater under previous administrations while for assessor's help it was less. We admit that the assessor has more extra work than former assessors and same is true of other officers, but not to such a large extent. For comparison the first 15 months under Maddock cost the county $6501.87 while the first 15 months of Cooke's second term cost the county $4720.19, a difference of $1781.68 for 15 months. If compared with Cooke's first term a still better showing is made.
