NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Friday, November 22.

Portland The victim of an atrocious murder, James B. Young Morrow, a prominent East Side young man, of 390 East Seventh street, lies dead at Dunning's East Side morgue. The manner in which the deed was perpetrated is enveloped in mystery, and the identity of the assassin is unknown. The circumstances surrounding his tragic death make it one of the saddest cases that has ever baffled the efforts of the police to unravel. Leaving the home of the young woman to whom he was engaged to be married, Miss Lillah Illidge of 68 East Sixteenth street, North, James Morrow with a just on his lips, started for his own home a mile and a half away. He parted from her at 11:45, too late to catch a car, and started blithely on his long walk. When the tragedy was enacted he was three blocks from his own home. The murder took place on East Eighth street, between Stephens and Mill, 20 feet away from the residence of C. S. Bradford, a mail carrier. A loud report of a pistol or rifle was heard at 12:15 a. m. The neighborhood was aroused. Listeners merely turned over in their beds. Several heard the clatter of retreatin footsteps. The sounds in the neighborhood died out. The raindrops fell on the body of the boy, while the residents lay back to a second slumber. Four hours elapsed before the crime was discovered. Then everyone was aroused to a realization that prompt action on the part of some decisive person might have raised a hue and cry, some one might have been at hand to hear the dying boy make a last statement, and others might have sent out the alarm and headed off the escaping murderer and his possible accomplice. Two theories have arisen as to the manner in which the murder was committed. The first is that it was the deed of some jealous rival of James Morrow for the affections of Miss Lillah Illidge. The second is that it was the act of a highwayman.

Chinese The Chinese Exclusion Convention met in San Francisco, Cal., on Saturday, Nov. 23. The convention, presided over by Representative T. J. Geary, chairman, was attended by 3,000 delegates, representing the state, county and city governments. The convention demanded the re-enactment of the Geary exclusion act. As a supplemental report, the committee on resolutions presented a statement, which was adopted, recognizing the menace to the industrial conditions on the coast of the rapidly increasing number of Japanese and other Asiatic immigrants, and asking that the matter be referred to the executive committee with instructions to take such steps as may be necessary to secure all possible protection against the same. The convention also adopted a memorial, stating at length the reasons why the continued restriction of Chinese and other Asiatic immigration is demanded by the people of the Pacific coast.

Big One of the largest timber deals in the history of Linn county, was completed in Albany this forenoon when deeds filed with the county recorder, transferring to the Wright, Blockett Company, Limited, of Saginaw, Mich., about 5,000 acres of land. The grantors received $12.50 to $14 per acre, according to the amount of timber on the claims as reported by the cruisers of the grantee, and the amount paid about $60,000. The entire purchase was paid in full. This is the highest price that has ever been paid for timber lands in Linn county. The sawmill will be erected at Albany, and a logging road will be built from the city to the timber. The purchasers bought direct from the entrymen, and have several thousand acres more under contract.

Again it is stated in London that Joseph Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, proved his right and title to be the most thoroughly hated British statesman. The storm now raging in Germany over his misadventures of the Prussian army has a powerful reflex in Great Britain, where regardless of party lines, Mr. Chamberlain has been severely criticized for "aimlessly putting his foot in it." On all sides can be heard expressions of opinion by English business men and politicians, who while they, perhaps believe Mr. Chamberlain was correct in what he said, denounce the uttering of such sentiments.

Thugs John Wade, alias Kid Mo-Arrested. Fadden, and William H. Dalton were arrested in Portland yesterday morning, charged with being implicated in the murder of James Barkley Morrow last Thursday morning on the East Side. Charles Smith and William H. Martin were also arrested, as they had been going around town with Wade and Dalton. The two latter are the principals. Wade says that Dalton killed Morrow. Dalton says that Wade fired the shot which killed Morrow. The police state Wade is the actual murderer, although he is placing the blame on Dalton. The arrests were made by Detectives Day and Weiner and Policeman Carpenter, Boyle and Gibson. The clew which led to the arrests, was supplied by Mrs. W. T. Whitlock, 188 First street, at whose house Martin, Smith and Dalton roomed, and where Wade visited them. Martin introduced Smith and Dalton to Mrs. Whitlock last Wednesday night, and these two worthies left the house together, shortly afterward, accompanied by Wade, who had called in the interval. Mrs. Whitlock says she became suspicious of Wade and Dalton when she first met the men, and she became so uneasy that she fell a prey to nervous unaccountable fears—so much so, that instead of retiring Wednesday night at her usual hour, she sat up until 3 o'clock Thursday morning to wait for her new lodgers. When Wade and Dalton came in sight they looked haggard and ill at ease. They went to sleep, however, and Mrs. Whitlock was startled to hear later in the day that young Morrow had been shot and killed on the East Side at about 12:15 on the same morning. After discovering that her house had been robbed, she boldly accused the men of the murder, when they almost wilted. She notified the authorities, and the arrest of the men followed. They subsequently made confessions. Wade and Dalton are both noted toughs, and acknowledged that they had been guilty of a number of recent hold-ups and burglaries.

The local steamer Alerta, of Manila, with 21 passengers, including some discharged American soldiers, from Olongapo, Subig bay, is believed to have been lost.

Bright's Disease.

The largest sum ever paid for a prescription, changed hands in San Francisco, Aug. 30, 1901. The transfer involved in coin and stock $112,500.00 and was paid by a party of business men for a specific for Bright's Disease and Diabetes, hitherto incurable diseases.

They commenced the series investigation of the specific Nov. 15, 1900. They interviewed scores of the cured and tried it out on its merits by putting over three dozen cases on the treatment and watching them. They also got physicians to name chronic, incurable cases, and administered it with the physicians for judges. Up to Aug. 25, eighty-seven per cent of the test cases were either well or progressing favorably.

There being but thirteen per cent of failures, the parties were satisfied and closed the transaction. The proceedings of the investigating committee and the clinical reports of the test cases were published and will be mailed free on application. Address John J. Fulton Company, 420 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Cal.

TO CURE A COLD

Stop coughing, as it irritates the lungs, and gives them no chance to heal. Foley's Honey and Tar cures without causing a strain in throwing off the phlegm like common cough expectorants. Charman & Co.

Women and Jewels

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often ruined in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her life to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is a certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at George A. Harding's. Get Green's Special Almanac.

George A. Points, Upper Sandusky, O., writes: "I have been using Foley's Honey and Tar for hoarseness and find it the best remedy ever tried. It stopped the cough immediately and relieved all soreness." Take none but Foley's, Charman & Co.

Adolph Bliner, Grand Mound, Ia., writes: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar in my family and think it is the best cough cure on the market. I would not be without it in my home, as there is nothing so good for cough and colds. Charman & Co.
