NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Tuesday, November 3.

Tariff Opinions were rendered in Knocked the United States Supreme court today in the last two of the insular test cases. One of them was known as "the fourteen diamond rings case," involving the relationship of the United States to the Philippine Islands from a tariff point of view, and the other was known as the Dooley case No. 2, involving the constitutionality of the constitutionality of the collection of duty on goods shipped from New York to Porto Rico. In the former case the court, through Chief Justice Fuller, held that the diamond rings brought in from the Philippines, and over which the case arose, should have been exempt from duty under the Paris treaty of peace, as that treaty made the Philippines American territory. The decision in the Philippine case followed closely that of the first Porto Rican case in the last term.

The fifty-seventh congress opens. Oregon senators are almost sure to get good committee assignments. Henderson was re-elected speaker of the house. Old rules were re-adopted, but not without a fight with the democrats.

The Portland chamber of commerce passes strong resolutions favoring an open channel on the upper Columbia. The present charges on praddets are too high. A free river would give relief and it might be accomplished in four years.

Senator Burrows introduced a bill in the United States senate yesterday to provide for the deportation of alien anarchists. FALLS SAUNTERINGS.

The third ward now sets the pace in city politics, and its power is being felt. It is an undisputed fact that more residents own their own homes in the third ward, than in any other section of the city.

A moral wave struck the city a few days ago, and the gambling games all closed down. There hasn't been a prize fight for at least three weeks, and the slot machines—

The proposed improvement of the Clackamas and Molalla rivers for logging purposes, means much for future prosperous conditions in Clackamas county, if carried into effect. It will mean the development of Clackamas county's timber resources.

Several republicans have expressed the opinion, that should Hon. William Galoway be nominated by the democrats of Clackamas county for state senator, his election would be a foregone conclusion.

The Oregon City edition has proved a veritable hoodoo to more than one individual. A couple of years ago an immigration real estate association was organized here with good financial backing and bright prospects. The Oregon City edition of the Telegram gave it its first boost. It started in to boom Councilman Albright for the mayoralty. That settled it, and these are only a few of many instances. The reason that it proves a hoodoo, this edition is not a legitimate part of the main paper.

It cost the city $12.50 to copy a list of the persons supposed to be liable for road poll tax, and it was not correct.

The recital at the First Baptist church this (Friday) evening, promises to be an event of unusual merit, and a high class program will be presented. Among the selections she will present are: "A Set of Turquoise," "Mr. Slocum," "Blanca Among the Nightingales" and "Bill Smith." Other numbers on the program will be several selections by a male quartet, violin solos by Mr. McCauley, a vocal solo by Miss Mary Conyers and a violin solo by Miss Veda Williams. Admission, 20 cents.
