Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Pillsbury, who have been residents of this city for many years, moved to Portland this week where they will reside in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Douglas and family left Monday for the Willamette valley, where they expect to remain for a month visiting friends.—Dufur Dispatch.

Miss Frances Johnson, who is teaching the Phelps school, near Canby, returned to her work Sunday evening, after spending the Christmas holidays at home.

Rev. William Stoever left Monday to assume the pastorate of the English Lutheran church at Tacoma. He had his choice of that or the Whatcom charges.

Miss Myrtle McDonald, stenographer for the Spaulding Logging Company at Newberg, was visiting her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. J. Burt Moore, Wednesday.

Eugene Milner, a student at the state agricultural college at Corvallis, is visiting friends here during the week. He is a son of Professor E. A. Milner, of Portland.

Mrs. W. I. Rowen, who recently underwent a surgical operation in a Portland hospital, was brought home Wednesday, considerably improved in condition.

George W. Killin, of Handy, was in the city Monday on his way to Portland, to accompany his brother, Hon. Benton Killin to the latter's ranch in Washington county.

Fred D. Lindale, of the Lindsay sawmill at Carus, was in town Saturday, and reported that the lumbering business had been unusually good during the past year.

Mrs. C. E. Chenoweth, of Enterprise, sister of Miss Mattie Noe, passed through Tuesday evening on her way to Needy to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Noe.

Miss C. D. Bradford, principal of the Mount Pleasant school, is spending her vacation in Portland, while Miss Lou Albee, teacher of the primary department is at her home in this city. The school will start up again next Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, of Shubel, were visitors in the city Saturday. That 15-pound flat turnip on exhibition in the front window of this office, was raised on Mr. Miller's farm. He says that he raises 1,000 bushels of turnips on his land, and can produce them as twice as large as this sample.

Rev. E. Meyer, pastor of Zion's Evangelical Lutheran church, will leave next week for a few weeks visit to California. Rev. J. A. Leas, of Portland, will conduct the services in the church, during the pastor's absence. Rev. Meyer will be accompanied on the trip by Mr. Gelbrich, of New Era.

Hon. J. A. Talbert, superintendent of the Umpqua hatchery, returned to his home at Clackamas Tuesday morning, accompanied by his family. They arrived on the overland and stopped over in Oregon City until the Albany local arrived. Mr. Talbert has closed up the work of the hatchery for the season, having turned loose 1,200,000 young fry in the Umpqua waters. The Misses Talbert have been teaching school in Douglas county, during the past summer.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. H. Miller went to Salem Monday night to attend the funeral of "Grandma" Roberts, who died at midnight previous. Mrs. Hannah W. Roberts was aged 95. She was born in Philadelphia, and came to Oregon with her husband, Rev. William Roberts in 1847. He was a prominent early Methodist minister. Mrs. Roberts' funeral was held from the Methodist Episcopal church in Salem, Rev. John Parsons officiating.

Miss Jennie Rowen, formerly one of the best known teachers in Clackamas county, is home from Tacoma with her parents, during the holidays. She is meeting with flattering success as an organizer for the Artisans in the state of Washington. Last month her commissions were $50, besides her salary. She considers this work much better than school teaching, although she received top-notch salaries for her work in this county.

B. F. Mitchell, who recently arrived from the Nebraska, has leased 40 acres of ground from C. U. Barlow, at Barlow, for which he pays cash rent. The entire tract will be planted in potatoes. Mr. Mitchell is the inventor of both a power potato planter and a potato digger, and will use the machines in the cultivation and handling of the crop. The planter cuts the potatoes into the number of pieces required, drops and covers them, and has a capacity of planting 10 acres per day. The digger raises the potatoes out of the ground, and sorts and sacks them. Its capacity, also is 10 acres per day. Mr. Mitchell asserts that he can produce potatoes at a cost of 20 cents per bushel by the use of these machines. His object is to show what can be done in potato production in Clackamas county, and to introduce his machines by practical demonstration.
