DENTAL BRIDGE WORK OF TO-DAY By new methods we are able to produce by this system the most beautiful and durable of all Dental Work without the Least Pain.

Figure 1 shows a mouth where the four incisors have been extracted, and the two cuspid (eye teeth) crowns destroyed to the gum line, showing the cuspid roots prepared to receive a bridge.

Figure 4—A person need not wear a plate in the mouth when bridge can be attached to a few remaining teeth and roots.

Figure 8 illustrates a case in which the lateral incisor has been lost and the central incisor destroyed. To this root a crown has been fastened and a tooth has been added to the crown to fit the space left by the lost lateral incisor.

Figure 9 shows a root with crown ready to attach. It is fully to extract a root when it can be crowned and made as useful as ever.

Figure 10 is a mouth that has lost all the teeth but four; the two cuspid and two molars; they are shown prepared for a full upper bridge.

DR. PICKENS, whose life has been devoted to the study of the Dental Art, makes a specialty, not of robbing the mouth of the teeth still left for service, but of building up a full set (painless) from the teeth and roots which afford sufficient basis for crown and bridge work.
