LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

Recorder Bruce Curry has purchased the house and lot belonging to J. M. Taylor, opposite the Cochran dwelling. The consideration was $700.

S. F. Scripture has exchanged his residence property on the front of the Kansas City addition hill for the Fred Farmer house, near the Barclay school. At present, the house is occupied by Dr. Hoeye.

The March number of the School Bulletin, issued this week by County Superintendent J. C. Zimer, is the best that has yet appeared. It is carefully edited, and filled with short, practical articles.

Luke Thornton, who slipped and fell while wheeling wood pulp at the paper mills several weeks ago, sustaining a fracture of a knee cap, has not materially improved. He will likely be a cripple for life.

The Easter services at the Baptist church next Sunday will be of especial interest. There will be a special sermon and music in the morning, and a program of recitations, songs and addresses in the evening.

Frank Fosberg, who is a fireman in the paper mills, had a narrow escape Sunday. While near some machinery, his clothing caught in a shaft, and his jumper was torn from his body, but he did not even get a scratch.

Frank Busch is building two substantial cottages on Third street, near his residence property. They are seven-room structures, with finished basement. It is understood that the buildings have been rented in advance.

The Oregon City & Southern Railway Company are changing their track to the side of the street in Canemah in conformity with the recent order of the county board of commissioners. Work is also being pushed on the Southern Pacific crossing.

Something over half the voters of Clackamas county voters now have their names on the registry books in the county clerk's office. Registrar Elmer Dixon states that voters are still being registered slowly. The expiration date for registration is May 15th.

Albert Freyar, of Macksburg, was arraigned in Justice McAnulty's court Tuesday on a charge of assaulting the person of Ida Smith last June. He was bound over in the sum of $500 to appear before the circuit court. Freyar and Miss Smith are cousins.

At the annual school election to be held in June there will be three directors to elect in the Oregon City district. Under the provisions of the new law it is a first-class district, and entitled to a board of five directors. This will give some of the disappointed office-seekers an opportunity for place.

Henry L. Bents, of Butteville, was in the city Monday, and reported a sale in London of a lot of the Durst pool of hops for 80 shillings, which will net the growers from 13 to 14 cents per pound.—Woodburn Independent.

Several Clackamas county people are interested in the returns from this pool. The outdoor baseball team has unanimously chosen Roy W. Kelly captain for the coming season. Mr. Kelly is from Oregon City and has had considerable experience as a player. He is now making arrangements for practice, which will begin soon after the April vacation of the University of Oregon.—Eugene Guard.

Robert Kelland, a well known resident of New Era precinct, was the victim of a serious runaway accident, while driving home from the city last Friday afternoon. He was thrown out of the wagon, and sustained a broken arm, a fractured shoulder and a severe scalp wound. Drs. Norris and Powell were called to attend the unfortunate sufferer.

The teachers' institute to be held at the Eastham school building Saturday, under the auspices of the Clackamas County Teachers' Association, promises to be an eventful affair. The excellent program prepared by the committee, consisting of Superintendent Zimer and the Misses Fannie G. Porter and Katherine C. McMillan was printed in this paper last week. The city teachers will provide luncheon.

According to an article in last Saturday's Oregonian the Portland City & Oregon Railway has leased five acres at the foot of East Market street in Portland for car shops and terminals. It is generally understood that the car shops will be removed from Milwaukie, as the shops are not satisfactorily located for the business. The Mount Scott system, which now only extends to Mount Scott, a distance of six miles, will be extended to the proposed power plant on the Clackamas river, and likely to Powell's Valley.

Ex-County Treasurer Linn E. Jones made a brief visit to the city a few days ago, and it is now reported that him and Chambers Howell, of Charman's drug store, will soon open a pharmacy in the Stratton block, adjoining the Fountain engine house. It is also rumored that one of the best known teachers in the city schools, will not apply for a position for the next school year. Chambers Howell, who has been in Charman's drug store for the past 14 years, resigned his place about 10 day ago, and stated that him and Linn Jones would open out business as soon as the fixtures for the store are completed.

Eighteen hundred sacks of wheat were received at the Portland flouring mills in this city Saturday evening. The wheat came from Wheatland and vicinity by boat and may be the last that the mills will receive from up-valley points until after harvest, owing to the scarcity of the cereal convenient to shipping facilities. It does not pay to ship Eastern Oregon wheat past the Company's mills at Albina, and handle the flour again, after it is shipped back to Portland, notwithstanding the cheapness of the water power here.

Clari Gagnon, manager of the local mills, also fills the place of bookkeeper, since the force has been cut down to three men. John McGetchie is both miller and salesman, and Arthur Mill, who was foreman of the brick mill, is now night watchman of the entire works. Several of the former employes of the mill, have secured jobs elsewhere. Charles McGetchie and Joe Beaulieu, who went to Tacoma last week, secured positions the next day after their arrival there in the flouring mills at $2 25 per day.
