

A Large Store

The outside of our store hardly does us justice---come in and look around. We have a basement the exact depth of the store, and this is filled full of goods. Then the depth is one-half greater than the average visitor sees. Back of the prescription counter is a complete paint store in itself. We have several hundred dollars invested in Sherwin-Williams paint alone.

We buy white lead by the ton, linseed oil in ten barrel lots, and our brushes direct of the largest brush manufacturers. Every dollar we put in this stock buys MORE than one hundred cents worth of goods.

Sometimes the wholesale houses or their salesmen think we are cranky and want too much for our money, but in this way we save a dollar here and a dollar there and we can lower our prices accordingly.

This is the end we are working for continually---to give you the best goods in the market at a lower price than you can get anywhere else in the country. Is this not a laudable ambition? Will you help us with your patronage?
