The John Burroughs Society of Portland, have sent out circulars, announcing that the Mrs. Rosa F. Burrell prizes as awards to be given for the to the classes of the highest grade in the elementary schools of the state. Here is an opportunity for some Clackamas county pupils to distinguish themselves. The first prize is $20, and the second, $8, which are awarded to those who can name the most birds by sight and song, and who can write a sufficiently excellent composition on the subject. The relative markings for the two examinations will be, upon a scale of 100, 60 per cent for the field test and 40 per cent for the composition test. That is actual knowledge of the birds will count for more than excellence in composition. The competition is open to the class graduating in February as well as June. The compositions must be in the hands of the John Burroughs Society, 346 Yamhill street, Portland, Ore., not later than June 1st. All who send compositions to the secretary will be considered as applicants for a field examination, and the address of each writer should be enclosed with the composition. A prize of $25 is also offered for the teacher whose pupils have the highest average in the contest for the Burrell prize.
