

Always Ahead

We take the lead, other druggists follow suit. We are working to reduce all prices to the lowest percentage of living profit. Other druggists are working to keep up with us. When we advertise a special line of goods they fill up their windows with similar goods in order to reap some benefit from our work. That sort of thing is "monkey business." Let us ask what advantage there is in shopping with imitators? It stands to reason that you will get better value from

CONGREGATIONALISTS IN CONVENTION.

East Willamette Association of Congregational Churches at Clackamas.

The sixth annual meeting of the East Willamette Association of Congregational churches and ministers closed its two-day session at Clackamas Wednesday night.
There was a good attendance of delegates from the various sections of the district, except from the Southern Oregon counties, and were all nicely entertained by the Clackamas church and residents.
The greetings were extended by Rev. S. A. Arnold, pastor of the Clackamas church. Rev. P. S. Knight, of Salem, was elected moderator of the convention, and Rev. E. S. Bollinger, registrar.
Rev. R. H. Kennedy, of Albany, preached the association sermon, and others who read papers and led discussions; Rev. J. M. Dick, of Hubbard; Rev. Mac. H. Wallace, of Eugene; Rev. W. C. Kantner, of Salem; Revs. Bollinger and Knight, and Rev. C. F. Clapp, of Forest Grove. Mrs. W. A. White, of Oregon City, presented an excellent paper on Sunday-school work. Mrs. A. H. Adams, also read a carefully prepared paper, during the "Woman's Hour." Rev. and Mrs. L. P. Broad, of the Kansas Association, were present, and made address.

At the Wednesday afternoon session Miss Echo Samson and Rev. Bollinger sang "Hope Beyond."
Those in attendance from Oregon City were: Mrs. C. D. Latourette, Mrs. A. H. Adams, Mrs. M. A. Thomas, Mrs. Shepard, Mrs. F. F. White, Mrs. W. A. White, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Adair, Mrs. A. O. Hayward, Rev. and Mrs. Bollinger and Miss Echo Samson. The next annual meeting of the Association will be held at Butteville.
Return Engagement.
The Meneley Quartet of Chicago, and Mr. Knox, the impersonator, were so well liked on their last visit to Oregon City that they have been secured for another entertainment and will be at the M. E. church on Thursday, May 22, at 8 o'clock. Admission 25 cents; children 15 cents. Seats can be secured at Huntley's book store for 10 cents extra.
The Portland City & Oregon Railway Company is now running its cars through to Canemah, making that place the hub, and Oregon City a sort of way station. Canemah is destined to again become a place of commercial importance. The state federation of labor threatened to boycott the trolley line, because they refused to recognize organized labor, but the trouble has been adjusted, and the employes will form a union.
