

Matchless Dress Goods

And we say matchless with a double meaning—matchless in beauty as well as in price. We cannot claim a patent on beautiful dress materials—the markets of the world are open to all—nor can we alone quote low prices; but, considering styles, qualities and prices as a unit, we doubt if the equal can be found in the city of Portland, or the Great Northwest.

DRESS GOODS

Of Foreign and American manufacture, including every shade, make and weave, in black and colors, will be placed on sale at reduced prices.

SILKS, GRENADINES AND DRESS GOODS FIESTA

Your mind is on them now. What to buy and where to buy it—these are the all-absorbing questions. Visit that up-to-date Dress Goods section of ours, and see how easily the questions are answered. Might as well attempt to "paint the rose" as describe them. Come and see them. Rather have your judgment than our own. They were bought for you. Ladies, see us for bargains.

Architect W. A. White is preparing plans for an addition to the Parkplace school, which will double its present capacity, and make the building a very imposing structure. A wing will be added to this structure, which will be divided into two small rooms for recitation, etc. The continuation of this wing to the upper story will serve as a recess for a stage in the large assembly room. There are already four school rooms in the two story structure, but the building is cut up by entrance hallways and stairway. The two new school rooms on the lower floor will be larger than the others, while the upper story will be used as an assembly room. At present, and for some time past, the Parkplace school has been uncomfortably crowded, and more room is an absolute necessity.
