The entertainment given at Wilbern's hall Monday evening, May 19th, by the blind boys. Charles Newcrall and Thomas Wheest was decidedly successful. A large growd was in attendance, and the sacellent program was heartly appreciated. A dance followed the program and light refreshments were served by Mrs Wilbern. The object of the work undertaken by these boys is to establish at Portland a home for the blind, where they may be taught to work, and be educated. Mr Newcrall has been in this work for two years, and has gained the support of some very prominent men of this state and others. Owing to an act of the last legislature pupils are not admitted to the bland school at Salam after the age of 21 years. And how many lose their right after they have reached this age! The philanthropic object, then, of this work, is to give these people a chance and place them on a basis with seeing persons. In the state of Oregon there are over 400 blind people and many of this number have never catered a school for the blind. Messrs Winesest and Nevergall with a picked troups of blind players will travel during the summer and it is expected that they will do very well.

You're Under No. Obligation to Buy

When you enter this store.

Across the seas a "shopper" is viewed with ill-concealed aversion. In London, for example, until very recently, an American woman who had the temerity to come out of a shop without buying would be lucky if she escaped humiliation. Britons couldn't or wouldn't understand our ways. 'Twas considered "bad form, don't cher-know," to put salespeople to the bother of showing goods without buying How shortsighted a policy! How different here! This store, for example, is open for the benefit of the public in the same sense as our libraries and parks. It's yours to enjoy.
