I recently saw an eastern druggist's ad, which explains the point regarding large buying and cash payment so much better than I ever have been able to do that I give the ad here exactly as it ap-

"A certain patent medicine which is quoted at $8.75 per dozen can be bought in 3 dozen lots at wholesale for $7.50 per dozen. One gross (12 dozen) costs at wholesale $6.75 per dozen. Then if spot cash is paid an additional 5 per centdiscount is allowed which brings the cost down in gross lots to $6.41 per dozen. Small stores which buy in one-fourth and one-half dozen lots pay at wholesale $8.75. We pay in gross lots $6.41. Hence you see that we can sell at a profit for the price that the ordinary druggist has to pay his wholesaler for the goods."

This covers the situation so thoroughly that comment is unnecessary. However, I promise you if you come to me for all you drug store goods that at the end of the year you will find you have saved many dollars by trading at the Restorative, store where things are bought by the gross instead of by the dozen.
