THE MISFIT GOVERNOR.

W. J. Furnish as he would appear wearing the garments of Governor Geer.

bill as follows: The Indian war veteran bill granting pensions to those engaged in the early Indian wars of the northwest, passed the senate three times, and has been on two occasions favorably reported to the house, is now pending in the house committee of pensions. So far, no report has been made to this congress. While I am beginning to lose hope somewhat, I certainly shall not in the least diminish my efforts to secure a favorable report and the ultimate passage of the bill. Every day the passage of the bill is delayed, it is condoning a national crime. The interest of the president has been enlisted in it, and it seems to be having some effect.

Volcanic eruptions continue in the Lesser Antilles in the near vicinity of Mount Pelee. Injunction in Portland strike will be argued today. Building and trades council meets tonight. CORRESPONDENCE

Sunshine at last. Fruit, garden, grain and grass are improving with the few days of sunshine. Memorial services are to be held at the cemetery on May 30th. Everyone is cordially invited to attend these services. Children's day exercises are to be held here on June 8th at 10 o'clock. Miss Stone's social is to be held at Evergreen school house, district No 70, on June 6th. All are invited to come and bring a pocket full of money and lady friends too. Miss Murray's social will be held on the evening of the 14th. You'll miss full your life if you miss this. John and Charles Gaskell are home from Portland for a short stay. Several of the citizens candidates, who spoke at Viola on the 23d, spent the night with us. Some time ago two colored boys were fined $3 for cracking peanuts in a Brookline church. This surely is no worse than eating dried fruit in the choir during services. This hint should be sufficient. B. E. Courtright, of Union, spent a few days last week with old friends. Mr. Holmworth has lumber on the ground for a new barn. C. Walenstine, of Portland, spent Sunday visiting his grandparents, Mr and Mrs. A. Sprague. An oculist might do a good business in our burg, as a lady was so near sighted that she could not see the hand that was extended to her of a near relative. She had not seen him for two years and may have not recognized him. Mr. Farrell and wife came out from Portland on day last week and took the latter's mother, Mrs. Wilcox, back with them for an out visit.

Jose Br. are building a large dairy barn on their property (better known as the John Myers' place), which they recently purchased. They intend to run a first-class dairy and to deliver milk to their numerous customers in town. B. O. Courtright was down from Summerville on business last week. Charles and John Gaskell have sold their teams. A. M. Kerchem and family visited relatives at Logan over Sunday. L. F.

Union Hall.

Mrs. Sam Wilkerson, Mrs. Mackintosh and Mrs. Oughton visited Mrs. J. L. Thomas last Wednesday. Lee Riggs went to Portland last Monday to visit relatives and friends. Frank Heavener, a talented young school teacher from Callahan county, Ill., has been visiting Messrs. L. P. Burns, J. H. Burns and J. L. Thomas and their families for the past few days. Mr. Heavener went to Portland last Thursday to visit relatives for a short time and then he intends to start on his trip home. This is Mr. Heavener's second trip to Oregon. Miss Emma Johnson, of Oregon City, visited her sister, Miss Francis Johnson, who is teaching school at this place. Miss Anna Tice came home from Portland a short time ago. Our teacher, Mrs. Francis Johnson, closed her school here last Friday. Miss Johnson closed her school a few weeks earlier than was first intended. He had to close her school last winter on account of smallpox and by doing so made this term of her school come out later than it should. She thought it expedient to close it, and the directors agreed with her. Miss Johnson has given very good satisfaction as a teacher. Mrs. John Thomas visited Mrs. J. H. Burns last Thursday afternoon. Charlie Thomas went to Oregon City last Sunday on a pleasure trip. Miss Veva Jones passed through this vicinity on her way to Comby last Tuesday.

Mrs. Nettie Riggs called on her grandmother, Mrs. Nancy Burns, last Sunday. Mrs. F. May visited Mrs. N. Riggs one day last week. Mrs. Caroline Thomas visited Mrs. Martha Wilkerson last Wednesday. BACKWOODS.

Currinsville.

Miss Bertha Kitching was the guest of Miss Nora Hale Sunday. Mr. Cross, our preacher, preached at this place Sunday. J. H. Kitching, wife and daughters, of Washington, have been home on a visit. Born to the wife of Ed Noble, a son. Mrs. L. Hale has been on the sick list. Jim Linn, of this place, was in Salem a week ago last Sunday. The Stone creamery is getting along nicely. T. T.

Injunction. Alfred F. Sears, jr.,

circuit judge, makes a temporary order that strikers must not interfere with the mills. Following is the order: "It is ordered that the defendants and each of them shall show cause on the 28th day of May, 1902, at 9:30 a. m., why a writ of injunction shall not issue against and for herein, and that meantime and until further order of this court the defendants and each of them and their servants and agents, officers and all of them, be and they are hereby restrained from interfering with the business of the plaintiffs or either of them by patrolling the sidewalks or street in front of or in the vicinity of the premises occupied by plaintiffs; or from placarding their wagons or teams or the goods of plaintiffs; or from picketing in front of the premises of plaintiffs; or from interfering with the employees of plaintiffs or persons desiring to be employed; or from congregating in front of the premises of the plaintiff, in any wise interfering with, threatening or coercing, or attempting to coerce, any of the employees of the plaintiffs; or persons desiring to be employed by plaintiffs.

The senate passed the assay office bill and concurred in the house amendments to the Columbia river bridge bill. The Presbyterian general assembly adopted the report on creed revision, which will be admitted to the vote of the various Presbyteries. Victor G. Dooliver, of Iowa, addresses the republicans of Ashland. George D. Evans, formerly a prominent politician and deputy state auditor of Washington, and a convict on parole, commits suicide. Death An explosion in the Coal
In creek mines, near Fernie, Coal B. C., caused the almost Mines. instant death of between 125 and 150 miners. Not a single person escaped. The disaster is the worst in the annals of British Columbia coal mining, except that of Wellington, 18 years ago, by which 157 lives were lost. Immediately after the explosion a call for help was sent to Fernie, and the foremost of the rescue party that responded was overcome by the after damp, and his life was only saved by the timely arrival of comrades.
In the work of rescue the miners made heroic sacrifices. The tunnels in which the disaster occurred were very long and badly ventilated. The mines are only six miles from the province of British Eastern part of the province of British Columbia, on the Crow's Nest pass branch of the Canadian Pacific railway.
It lies in the center of a country very rich in coal deposits. The building of the railway four years ago, was followed by the operation of coal mines, which belonged largely to a company composed of Toronto capitalists. Most of the miners are foreign born.
Scientists state that the worst eruption of Mount Pelee is yet to come. The war in South Africa is again practically ended. Loubet leaves Russia for France. Miss Lopez petitions for the release of her brothers, who were deported from Luzon. The Presbyterian Assembly goes on record as against card playing. Young Corbet bested Kid Brown at Denver. Robert Andrews, of Portland, was elected grandmaster of the grand lodge of Old Fellows at Newport. Mrs. Florence Atwood, of Baker City, was elected grand president of the Rebekah assembly. Portland exporters will dispatch a cargo of oats to South Africa. The Portland federated trades endorse the strike and call out no more unions.

Sunday, May 25.

The striking union men of Portland have the support and sympathy of the building contractors; but the latter do not think the course of the former has been wise. The master builders think that a 9-hour day should be granted, and they think also that the various unions should withdraw from the building trades council. The strike situation was quiet yesterday, and there was no sign of a break on either side. An effort by officers of the board of trade to secure arbitration failed because the millowners declared flatly that they have nothing to arbitrate. Envoys to King Edward's coronation will receive pins and brooches. The South African war is again practically at an end. No more supplies are required in Martinique. Lord Pauncefoot, British ambassador, died at Washington. The Rochambeau statute was unveiled at Washington. Indications are favorable for a large yield of grain and fruit in the Palouse country. One million acres of timber land bought from the old Military Wagon Road Company on the coast for route to Eastern Oregon, purchased by the Booth-Kelly Lumber Company. Professor Pease dismissed from Stanford university by President Jordan. Forty bodies recovered at Fernie, and 100 more remain in the tunnels.

Train Harry Granelli, was Saturday
Wrecked sentenced to three Sentenced. years in the state penitentiary by Judge Hamilton, of Roseburg. Granelli was 23 years old. In company with a youthful companion, Thomas Arnold, Granelli was beating his way northward, and on the previous Sunday morning was put off a train near Rice Hill. The boys went on over the hill and placed a cattle guard rail, a heavy piece of iron and a block of wood on a curve section of track. The obstructions stood in such a way as to have had the effect of throwing any passing train into the deep gulch below. As President Harriman's train was due soon afterward, the section crew was especially vigilant, and consequently discovered and removed the obstructions before the arrival of the train. The two young men were arrested by the chief of police of Forest Grove. The younger of the two boys, Arnold, aged 17, turned state's evidence, and was let off with a 60-days sentence in the county jail. This Trade Mark on the side of a wagon box is a guarantee of excellence and high grade quality in the construction of this wagon. If yours does not have it on dispose of it and get one that has as you cannot afford to run any chances on the material used in a wagon, every time you break down it costs you more though the manufacturers replace the broken part.
