NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Tuesday, May 27.

Strikers The strike of the building trades council has been called off in Portland, and this morning all will go back to work except the amalgamated woodworkers and the plumbers, who have been locked out by their bosses. The products from the mills in question will be declared unfair and all union men in the city will refuse to work where the unfair material is used. The state federation of labor will publish generally that the mills are unfair, and an attempt will be made to have union men everywhere refuse to handle their products. All materials that the contractors now have on hand will be declared fair. The building trades council will at once take steps to start a large union mill, and it is believed that all building stopped by the strike will soon be under good headway again.

Fire Yesterday afternoon destroyed the factory and mills of the Sugar Pine Sash and Door Company, Williams Bros. mill, and a number of dwellings in Grant's Pass. The loss is about $100,000, and the insurance is very small. In fighting fire, J. A. Turner was severely burned, and may die.

The Boer peace conference at Vereeniging is still deadlocked. A Turkish battalion was annihilated in Arabia. The Presbyterian General Assembly adjourned to meet in Los Angeles next year. It is reported that prune trees are badly damaged throughout the state by the cold rains.

Wednesday, May 28.

Portland The following preamble and resolution has been passed by the master builders of Portland: Owing to the action of the union in declaring that all mill and finishing materials must bear the stamp of the union, otherwise they will not handle it; therefore be it Resolved, That we, the master builders of the city of Portland, refuse to resume work under these conditions, but that we are ready to commence operations with men who will handle mill or finishing materials from whatever source it may come.

One man was killed and 100 hurt by the collapse of a temporary sidewalk in New York city. Sash and door factory burned at Grant's Pass will be rebuilt.

Thursday, May 29.

A dispatch from Washington states that congress will yield to the will of the majority in three important matters—the Cuban reciprocity and Nicaragua canal bills will be passed, and the measure for the leasing of public ranges killed. The house committee on public lands has decided to report no bill to this end until the people demand it. The Lacey bill and other like measures are indefinitely postponed.

Temporary injunction against Portland strikers dissolved by Multnomah county circuit judges.

Why Many Artificial Sets of Teeth Work Unsatisfactory

They are Not Constructed along Lines of Recent Scientific Investigations

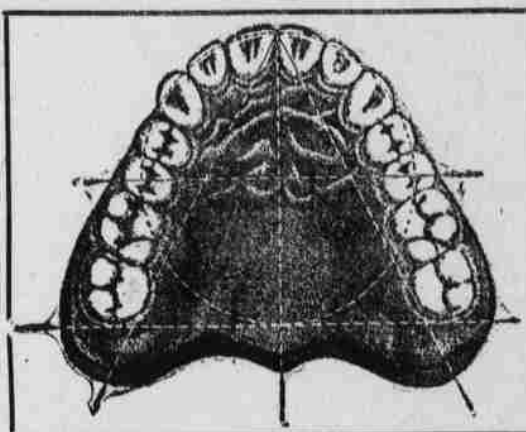

SOME time ago it was discovered by Dr. W. I. Brownell, a dentist, who has made many scientific investigations in relation to the human teeth, that the lower jaw forms an equilateral triangle, the base of which is distance from centre to centre of the canines of the jaw, and the sides the distance from these points to the medium line of the interior incisors. The sides of the triangle averaging about four inches. The centres of the tips of the anterior superior teeth are in the arc of a circle. A line at right angles to the medium line of the head circle which is known as the through the centres of the a similar line parallel to the periphery of the circle, will edges of the second molar.

Oregon State Federation of Labor on Politics.

Portland, May 14, 1902.

The following letter explains itself: J. H. Howard, Sec. Federal Labor Union No. 6768, Oregon City, Or.

Dear Sir and Brother: In instruction of the executive committee of the State Federation of Labor, I will call your attention to the following article, which appears in the constitution adopted by the Oregon State Federation at its first convention.

Article XXIV. Politics—"Partisan politics shall positively not be allowed to be discussed in the convention of this body. This, however, shall not be construed as to deprive this organization of the right to put its stamp of approval or disapproval upon friends or enemies of labor, irrespective of party or measure calculated to effect the welfare of the laboring people. Moreover, it shall be the policy of this Federation that the best efforts of all union men be used to secure the nomination of union men to legislative or other offices. Neither shall this be construed to mean that this State Federation may not recommend the nomination of a complete state or local ticket in those cases where existing political parties or their nominees decline to pledge themselves to the support of labor measures."

In accordance with the above, it is therefore your duty to notify the members of your organization that it is to their best interests to support labor union candidates who may at this time be running for office, irrespective of party. Do work for the initiative and referendum amendment, which will appear on the ballot in June; which, if carried, will enable the people to have something to say as to what laws shall or shall not be placed on the statute books.

Yours Fraternally,
WILLIAM H. BARRY, Sec.

Traveling is Dangerous.

Constant motion jars the kidneys which are kept in place in the body by delicate attachments. This is the reason that travelers, trainmen, street car men, teamsters and all who drive very much suffer from kidney disease in some form. Foley's Kidney Cure strengthens the kidneys and cures all forms of kidney and bladder disease. George H. Haugen, locomotive engineer, Lima, O., writes: "Constant vibration of the engine caused me a great deal of trouble with my kidneys, and I got no relief until I used Foley's Kidney Cure." ### Brownell Stands Up.

To the Editor and People of Clackamas County: As the Courier-Herald saw it last week to publish my letter, I desire to call your attention to that and a circulated statement that is being made in this county that I promised to support Henry W. Corbett for United States senator something like two years ago.

I wrote the letter and it has my name signed to it, something like over two years ago, about a year before the legislature convened. The letter was addressed to Hon. Donald McKay; it was not addressed to Mr. Corbett. You will notice by examination of the letter, which was published last week, that I stated that I would support him when he became a candidate of the republican party. He never became the candidate of the republican party, and before that could occur he would have to be nominated in a caucus composed of 40 republicans. In addition to this, when that letter was written, I was a candidate for the congressional nomination, and Mr. Corbett's friends agreed to support me, and they did not do it. Now, that is all there is about this Corbett business.

I did not vote for Mr. Corbett, but I did vote and support Hon. John H. Mitchell for United States senator, and everybody knows this. I cannot see why the people care so much about my letter.

In answer to reports to the contrary, I desire to say that if re-elected I will do my utmost to pass what is known as the precinct assessor law, and will support and faithfully work for any law that will benefit and assist the labor unions of Oregon City, or that which is approved by them. In relation to regulating the number of hours for a day's work in mills and factories in Oregon City and the state, I will do my best to reduce the working day to eight hours. I will support what is known as the "Fellows' Servant Law," and will also further the reduction of salaries of county officers in this county and abolish the deputy hire nuisance, and in addition to this I will endeavor, to the best of my ability, to have the time for the payment of taxes extended until July, and not to become delinquent until late in the fall, so that the people can have a little money from their crops to pay on their taxes before they become delinquent.

GEORGE C. BROWNELL.

Attitude to Railroad Employees.

The following letter from Judge A. S. Bennett, of The Dalles, was published in the Portland Evening Journal on Monday under caption of "Mr. Fulton's Attitude to Railroad Employees":

To the Editor: I notice in the Oregonian of today an article headed "Campaign Lie Exploded," in which extracts from a speech of Judge Moreland at Pendleton are given, dealing with the charge that Hon. J. N. Williamson, candidate for congress on the regular republican ticket, was opposed to the employers' liability act in the last legislature.

In the speech referred to Judge Moreland is quoted as having given the history of house bill No. 80 and showing that that bill never came up in the senate, but was defeated in the house.

I think the statement of Judge Moreland as to house bill No. 80 is true, but it is, as it seems to me, only half the truth, for there was also an employers' liability bill presented in the senate. That is, there was a senate bill as well as a house bill on that subject.

I do not know whether Mr. Williamson ever voted directly upon the senate bill or not, and I have no personal knowledge as to how he stood upon that question, but I do know that the senate bill in favor of the railroad employees was choked to death in the senate committee on railroads, appointed by Senator Fulton, who was president of the senate, and of which railroad committee Senator Brownell, of Clackamas county, was chairman.

I also know that the railroad boys who were there representing the measure, tried every means possible to get the bill reported back to the senate by the committee which Senator Fulton had appointed, and I myself, among others, went before the senate committee to try to obtain a favorable report upon the bill, but it was found impossible to obtain any report whatever, and the bill was finally held back and, as I understand it, never was reported to the senate.

I also know that Senator Williamson made no protest and no attempt to secure a report by the committee, so that the bill might come up in the senate to be voted upon; and it seems to me that if Mr. Williamson and Senator Fulton had really desired the passage of the bill they were in a position to have very easily secured its report back to the senate, and action of the senate thereon.

I write this not because I wish to make any attack upon Mr. Williamson, but because I do not like to see men dodge and shirk responsibility in relation to important measures of this kind, or try to claim friendship for a measure for which they never attempted to turn a hand when they were in a position to have effectively done so.

ALFRED S. BENNETT.

RECORD OF THE MEASURE.

House bill No. 80 and senate bill No. 54 were identical, the one a copy of the other, and they were entitled "A bill for an act regulating railways and protecting employees."

J. M. Poorman, of Woodburn, introduced it in the house, and Alex. Sweek, of Portland, in the senate. It was supported by the full wing members of the legislature who are now candidates upon the citizens' ticket in Multnomah county: John Driscoll, for sheriff; Frank Hottkemper, for representative.

R. D. Imman, for mayor, gave the measure his hearty support in the senate and has the gratitude of the railway men who were asking that the bill be enacted into law. They will no doubt give substantial recognition of their appreciation when the polls are open on June 2.

C. W. Nottingham, nominee on the republican ticket for joint representative, opposed the measure.

Highland Grange Gives An Entertainment.

The basket social and entertainment given by Highland Grange a few days ago, was a great success. The proceeds of the entertainment was $30, W. H. H. Samson being the successful auctioneer of the baskets.

The program consisted of instrumental music, by Ringo Bros.; opening address, by the lecturer, Mrs. G. R. Miller; there were recitations by Misses Maud Booker, Stella Larkins, Nettie Miller, Cora Larkins, Edna Gard, Blanche Miller, and Willie McIntyre, and the remainder of the musical program, consisted of instrumental music by Mr. Keras; song, by Mrs. Miller and Professor Smith, and a song by Hattie Ringo, of Oregon City. There also was a tableaux, "Friends," and a dialogue, "Old Maid."

It has been decided, that this grange will have Children's day exercises and Flora's day on the same date, early in June.

Mark Hanna Hadn't Heard of Anybody Refusing the Presidential Nomination.

A Courier-Herald reporter met Alfred Tozier, late president of the National Editorial Association in Portland during the week. He had just returned from Charleston, and when the editorial delegation visited Washington, they were cordially received by President Roosevelt.

After the presidential call, the delegates clamored to see Mark Hanna. Mr. Tozier enlisted the services of Congressman Tongue, and the Ohio senatorial boss soon appeared. Senator Hanna very agreeable, and made a favorable impression on the visitors. Finally Mr. Tozier inquired of Mr. Hanna if it was true that he is a candidate for President?

Mr. Hanna smilingly replied: "I haven't heard of anybody refusing."

A Revelation.

If you will make inquiry it will be a revelation to you how many succumb to kidney or bladder troubles in one form or another. If the patient is not beyond medical aid, Foley's Kidney Cure will cure. It never disappoints. Charman & Co.
