NEW SHORT STORIES

The King and the Beggar.
A rather amusing story is going the rounds in the Danish capital concerning the king and his little adventure with a smart beggar, says the Copenhagen correspondent of the Paris Herald.

The democratic habits of King Christian are well known. Many a morning the senior monarch of Europe may be seen walking about taking an early constitutional. In some cases he is attended by Prince Waldemar, and at other times he is alone but for a favorite dog. The king on such occasions is entirely unguarded.

On the occasion of one of these walks a man approached his majesty. He was a rough looking fellow, with all the suavity of the professional mendicant.

King Christian, like the late king of Italy, is particularly kind to the poor and goes out of his way to notice them or say kind words.

Taking off his hat, the man approached the king, who, seeing he wished to say something, encouragingly asked: "Well, what is it?"

"Please, your majesty," came the somewhat astonishing request, "might I ask for a picture of your majesty as a souvenir?"

The king, rather taken aback at so unexpected a request and yet feeling pleased at it, replied in a laughing tone, "Quite so, but I do not carry my likeness about in my pocket."

"Excuse me, your majesty," said the beggar, with a knowing expression, "I think you do. If your majesty will only look in your purse, you will find one."

King Christian disbursed at once to the extent of a 2 kronen piece, but a little later the police, who had been watching, quietly grabbed the man, and he was warned and lectured against begging.

Sinking Spells,

fainting, smothering, palpitation, pain in left side, shortness of breath, irregular or intermittent pulse and retarded circulation all come from a weak or defective heart. Overcome these faults by building up the heart-muscles and making the heart-nerves strong and vigorous. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is the remedy to use. It is the best.

"I would have spells when I would get weak and faint and my heart would seem to stop beating, then it would beat very hard. I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and when I had used twelve bottles my heart was all right." Mrs. J. L. TAYLOR, Owensboro, Ky.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Wednesday, June 18.

Near Lewis Wash., is to the effect that no further definite trace has been discovered of the escaped convicts, Tracy and Merrill. An unconfirmed report came in from Lewis river that the fugitives tried to cross that stream, but were driven back by the posse. All the lower part of Lewis river is being carefully guarded. It is expected that the convicts are in the brush, and will try to cross Lewis river tonight. Owing to the roughness of the country, there is doubt as to whether there is any chance to capture the criminals.

Thursday, June 19.

Chase Sheriff Marsa, deputies, Abandoned, detectives and militia have returned to Vancouver, leaving a slim guard to prevent Tracy and Merrill crossing the Lewis river. The outlaws are supposed to be enjoying a gay time on horseback somewhere between La Center and Ridgefield, and changing their boots to fool the bloodhounds.

The Oregon Pioneer Association held its 30th annual session yesterday, Hon. Thomas A. McBride delivering the principal address, and Mayor Williams extended a greeting on behalf of Portland. Virulent Cancer Cured.

Starting proof of a wonderful advance in medicine is given by Druggist G. W. Roberts of Elizabeth, W. Va. An old man there had long suffered with what good doctors pronounced incurable cancer. They believed his case hopeless till he used Electric Bitters and applied Bucklin's Arnica Salve, which treatment completely cured him. When Electric Bitters are used to expel bilious, kidney and microbe poisons at the same time this salve exerts its matchless healing power, blood diseases, skin eruptions, ulcers and sores vanish. "I FINALLY LANDED A MACKINAC TROUT" up. I have seen the biggest trout I ever saw. He is out here in the lake too, far from your home.

"My rod and line were lying on the floor ready for business," said Senator Frye, telling the story, "and, simply putting on my shoes, I went on the shore of the lake in my pyjamas. I made one cast with no result. I made another cast, and then I had a terrific strike. For fifteen minutes I had a great fight, but finally I landed a magnificent trout. In his mouth was one of Senator Sewell's flies.

"As I took it out of the fish's mouth I looked at Sewell. 'Well,' he said, 'I did not think it worth while to tell you that I had tried for him and that he had got away.'"

Why He Bet on Gray.

Once when Wayne MacVeagh had finished arguing a tedious technical case before the United States supreme court speculation arose between Mr. MacVeagh and his colleague as to whom Chief Justice Fuller would assign to write the opinion, and a wager was made.

Just then Chief Justice Fuller came down the corridor of the court building. Mr. MacVeagh stopped him and told him of the wager, asking the chief justice to tell him whom he would assign, as that would settle the bet.

"On whom have you placed your wager, Mr. MacVeagh?" the chief justice asked.

"Mr. Justice Gray," was the response.

"Why did you choose Mr. Gray?" queried Chief Justice Fuller.

"Because," replied Mr. MacVeagh, "I noticed he slept through the entire argument."

One of Mr. Hill's First Cases.

It is said that one of David B. Hill's first lawsuits was a nonjury case in which the opposing counsel was one of the best attorneys in New York state. Hill made a speech which lasted about three hours. It was such a speech as might be expected from a young lawyer, and it was very trying to the court. After he had finished his opponent arose and said, "May it please the court, I intend to follow the example of my young friend and submit the case without argument." Hill lost the case.
