Jacob Risley Dead.

Jacob S. Risley, one of the most prominent farmers and citizens of Clackamas county, died at his home between Oregon City and Milwaukie, Friday morning at 8 o'clock. Last winter Mr. Risley contracted the grip, and he never fully recovered from the effects of it. The evening before he received an attack of violent coughing which burst a blood vessel in his lungs, and he grew rapidly worse until death ended his sufferings.

The deceased was born December 1, 1832, at Delphos, O., and crossed the plains with his parents in 1845. They settled in Yamhill county, near where St. Joseph is now situated. Two years later they moved to Clackamas county and took up the homestead where the handsome Risley residence now stands. Mr. Risley was married September 20, 1857, to Mary S. Scholl, who died June 15, 1886.

There was probably no better known man in Clackamas county than Mr. Risley. He was a man not afraid of work, and always took a great interest in his large farm, which is one of the best in the county. In politics Mr. Risley was a strong democrat, but opposed to silver. Eight years ago he ran for county judge on the democratic ticket, but was defeated by Judge Gordon E. Hayes. His son, O. W., ran for county commissioner at the last election on the citizen ticket. He was a prominent Odd Fellow, belonging to Oswego Lodge, No. 35, and Falls Encampment, No. 4, of Oregon City. Besides the large farm in Clackamas county, he had large property interests in Portland. Two sons and one daughter survive him, as follows: John F. and Charles W. Risley and Mrs. Harvey E. Starkweather, of Milwaukie. The funeral was held Monday and was largely attended.

Grandma Heiser Dead.

Mrs. Carl Heiser, aged 73 years, 2 months and 2 1/2 days, died at her home at Damascus, Friday, June 20th. She had been afflicted with cancerous tumor and had been confined to her bed for seven weeks. She was born in Germany and came to Damascus in 1880. Seven children out of ten and her husband preceded her in death. The living children are Fritz H., Robert C. and Otto F. Heiser.

The funeral on Sunday was one of the largest in the history of Damascus and flowers were offered in quantities that more than covered the grave. The Modern Woodmen team in uniform acted as pall bearers. Grandma Heiser was a respected and honored resident of that neighborhood and all regret her demise.

From Hot to Cold.

Dysentery is prevalent everywhere in summer and is due to miasmatic poisons, and begins abruptly with inflammation of the mucous lining of the large bowel. In America the disease is common, but properly treated does not result as seriously as in the tropics. Perry Davis' Painkiller is the best known remedy and the most efficacious in the treatment of dysentery.
