We were thankful for the few drops of rain, but wish we could have more. Our ice cream social last Friday night was a grand success, both socially and financially. The church was crowded Smyrna, Union and Monitor were well represented. The literary program was pretty. One little girl, who nearly forgot her recitation, is requested, as it contained such good advice, never to forcontained such good advice, never to forget it but recite it at least once a week at her home. We like to have the young folks from other places visit our church and wish they would come oftener. The amount raised was about $20.

In Memoriam.

William C Woodcock died May 20 WHEREAS, In His infinite wisdom

whereas, in his infinite wisdom, the Sup-eme Ruler above has extended His chastening hand, and has called from among us our beloved brother, William C. Woodcock; therefore be it Resolved, By Golden Lodge, No. 82, Knights of Pythias, that we, his brethren, have sustained an irreparable loss in his untimely death; as we loved him in life let us cherish the recollection of in life, let us cherish the recollection of his brief sojourn among us, and ever adorn his memory with the flowers of love. As we shed for him the parting tear, let us remember that we, too, must tread the same path, and, in our daily life, let us be cheerful, upright and honorable; let our conduct toward each other be such that "when we come to the river that marks the unknown shore. the river that marks the unknown shore our hands may be filled with deeds of charity, the golden keys that open the palace of eternity." And be it

Resolved, That in this, the hour of their sore afflictions, we extend to the bereaved family of our departed brother, the hand of fellowship and sympathy. And may our common sorrow be tem-pered by the thought that "after life's fitful fever, he sleeps well." And furthermore be it Resolved, That in memory of Brother Woodcock, our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days; that these resolutions be spread upon our minutes, and that a copy be for-warded to the bereaved family. Resolutions adopted by Golden Lodge,
