Why Go East

over the sun-burned, sage brush and alkali plains when you may just as well take a delightful, cool and comfortable ride through the heart of the Rocky mountains in view of the grandest scenery on the American continent?

This you can do by traveling on the Rio Grande System, the far famed "Scenic Line of the World" the only transcontinental line passing through Salt Lake City, Greenwood Springs, Leadville, Colorado Springs and Denver enroute to Eastern points.

Three daily express trains make close connections with all trains east and west and afford a choice of five distinct routes of travel. The equipment of these trains is the best, including free reclining chair cars, standard and tourist sleepers, a perfect dining car service, and also personally conducted excursion cars, each in charge of a competent guide, whose business is to look after the comfort of his guests. No more pleasant and inexpensive means of crossing the continent can be found than is provided by these excursions.

Literary News.

The Cosmopolitan has undertaken to present a series of brief sketches of the men who are leaders in finance, manufactures, and commerce, not prepared in an offhand way, but by writers of the greatest ability who have an exact knowledge of their subjects. The series thus far produced has attracted the widest attention. The industrial changes which have of late been occurring with such rapidity have the widest possible interest for all classes. The knowledge of these men, their derivation, leading characteristics and weaknesses throws much light upon the news of the day in which their names constantly recur.

There are four particularly notable illustrated articles in The Outlook's Magazine Number for July. One of these is an appreciation or characterization of the newly crowned king of England under the title "His Britannic Majesty." The writer is Mr. George W. Smalley. Another is called "A Hundred Years of West Point" and is written by Mr. James Barnes, the author of "Admiral Farragut" and other well-known books. The third article referred to is "A Talk on Birds," by Mr. W. E. Scott, the curator of ornithology of Princeton University. Finally, of great industrial interest is the paper called "Our Ships of the Sea," by Mr. John R. Spears; it describes the immense advance made in ship building in this country lately, and is illustrated by many fine pictures, mostly photographs taken for this express purpose.

Recently the publishers of The Youth's Companion enjoyed a visit from one of their seventy-five-year subscribers, Mr. R. W. Peabody, of Chicago, now 91 years old, who had been spending a few weeks in New England. He is one of the few subscribers on record who has taken The Youth's Companion continuously since its first issue, April 17, 1827. The letter in which he sent his original subscription was one of the first he ever wrote.

The Parker "Lucky Curve" Fountain Pen

THE "LUCKY CURVE" not only feeds the ink perfectly to the point of the pen and in the exact quantity desired, but it drains the ink from the feed-channel back into the reservoir when the pen is carried in the pocket so that the owner will not be annoyed by wiping off the end of the fountain when he next uses the pen; or, failing to do so, having inky fingers. The "Lucky Curve" feature is patented and is used exclusively in the Parker.

THE SPRING LOCK makes possible the successful Parker Jointless feature. This simple device displaces the old style screw nozzle, which is so liable to break at the point, in the pocket or out, if a little undue pressure is brought to bear.

ANTI-BREAK CAP. A unique improvement, looks like an ordinary cap, but the construction is extraordinary. The center of the cap on the inside is heavily reinforced where it comes in contact with the barrel. This cap is warranted against cracking or splitting for one year. It is not only more than five times as strong as any other cap, but it is exceedingly symmetrical and pleasing to the eye.

THE GOLD PEN. The gold pens used in the Parker "Lucky Curve" Fountain Pen are the very best that skill and money can produce. They are 14k. fine, all tipped with first grade iridium. We warrant them perfect. With proper use they will, in connection with our fountain pen, last practically a life-time.

THE FOUNTAIN CASE. The fountain case itself is made from the finest quality of pure Para rubber, imported especially for use in Parker Pens.

With each Parker "Lucky Curve" we give a guarantee for one year.
