Meeting of Clackamas Pomona With Central Grange.

From the grange standpoint, the meeting of Pomona with the Central Grange was a brilliant success. The attendance was over 100—more women than men, because the latter had to make hay while the sun shines. The matter of inviting the state grange to meet at Oregon City next year was left for further consideration at the Pomona meeting in October, which will be held with Warner grange at New Era. Secretary Glover resigned and Mr. Spence was elected in his place. The reports from the different local granges, as made verbally or by letter to the lecturer, were most encouraging. Eagle Creek has collected $200 toward building a hall about a mile from Jack-knife; Molalla will next week begin on the erection of a two-story, 28x50, $1000 hall; Garfield is growing and will build a hall; Mulino has bought a new organ and repaired the hall; Warner has bought a new organ; Butte Creek has renewed its activity and meets the second and fourth Saturdays; Highland has built a kitchen. All granges but one reported. The outlook is most encouraging. The gain in membership in the state during the fiscal year ending with May was 1300. State Master Leedy, State Secretary Mrs. Howard, Past Master J. Voorhies, and State Deputies Casto and Chitwood were present. Resolutions were read in regard to woman suffrage, district assessing and election of U. S. senators by popular vote, which were deferred for further consideration at the October meeting. Dr. Casto announced that on the second Saturday in September he and State Master Leedy and Past Master Voorhies would be present at the meeting of the capoose grange in Columbia county for the purpose of strengthening the brethren there, and would thence proceed to Clatskanie to attend the Pomona grange at that point. Eagle Creek grange requested Pomona to hold its October session with them, but reluctantly this hospitable and kindly invitation was refused, as Warner grange has not had the pleasure of the hard work and generosity required for a successful Pomona meeting for two years. Central grange spread a lavish feast before its guests that would have tempted the most fastidious of epicures. Twenty-three were initiated in the fifth degree. Resolutions were passed expressing the profound sorrow of the grange on account of the death of those two old and faithful members of the order, Wm. Bagby and Mr. Risley. An open meeting followed the grange work. The large hall was almost packed, a large crowd having come in to hear the rendition of the following program:

- Music, vocal, Central grange.
- Recitation, Echo Spence.
- Recitation, Lawrence Gardner.
- Instrumental music
- Recitation, Lorena Hill.
- Music, Winogene Gardner.
- Song, Henry Shannon.
- Recitation, Bella Davies.
- Instrumental music, Miss Aiken.
- Recitation, Willamette Harris.
- Recitation, Edna Irish.
- Duet, Messrs. Lindsey and Gardner.
- Recitation, Mrs. Workman.
- Solo, guitar accompaniment, George Miller.
- Recitation, Della Guttridge.
- Choir, Central grange.
- Recitation, Blanche Miller.
- Quartette, Mrs. Holmes and assistants.
- Recitation, Cora Larkins.
- Song, by Herta Spangler.
- Essay, I. LeMahieu.
- Vocal solo, G. R. Miller.
- A dance followed, which lasted until daylight.
