The motor line company will make a fill under the long trestle over the Clackamas bottom with 15,000 cubic yards of earth. The filling, however, will not be as high as the trestle.

The city council held a special session Tuesday evening to discuss the advisability of purchasing more hose for fire purposes. Owing to the absence of several councilmen no decisive steps were taken.

Some question has arisen as to the title of the Willamette Paper & Paper Co. to the island on which they have started to build their new pulp mill, consequently work is stopped until the difficulty is removed. Already the company has expended considerable money on the work, and it is hoped no serious barrier will now arise to deter their object.

Fred Moehne, of Schuebel, was in Oregon City Wednesday on business. He was hurt two months ago while working in a logging camp at Cathlamet, Wash. His arm and leg were broken and two ribs fractured. He thinks as it was due to the carelessness of the company he ought to get some satisfaction, and it was with that end in view that he came.

On Saturday afternoon the two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. William Blum was seriously scalded at their home on Molalla Avenue. The mother was mopping the floor at the time, and the child, while playing around the tub of hot water, fell in and sustained severe injuries around her limbs. Every means available were employed to alleviate the child's suffering, and at last report she was recovering slowly but surely.

The city is sadly in need of more new hose. Chief Burford has given all the hose in the city a careful testing and has discovered that much of the hose now in use is wanting in reliability and strength. Should a bad fire break out just now it would require the utmost energy on the part of our citizens to suppress it, as we have not the necessary hose with which to work. Several varieties of hose are suggested by gentlemen, whose judgment we respect, but in our opinion the celebrated Maltese-Cross hose is decidedly superior to any other. The hose requires no special care after use, and will not rot if the water is not all out.

Within three weeks the Crown Paper Company will begin the construction of a pulp mill on the east side of the river, on a site acquired from the P. G. E. Co. just below the basin. The mill will be in operation in December. The basement of the G. E. Co.'s dock will be used in connection with the mill. The building will be 120 feet long, but head-works will be extended to the edge of the basin. From a new bulkhead water will be supplied for 10,000 H. P. wheels, and 10 tons of pulp will be turned out daily. The new mill will give employment to 50 more men, who will draw $30,000 per year.

The cattle in various places in Clackamas county are reported as having black leg again. For several years this epidemic has been going the rounds. Its symptoms are dysentery, slobbering and bleeding at the ears. It usually affects calves and yearlings, seldom giving older cattle trouble. As to what remedy is most effective it is difficult to determine, as several have been tried and found of little efficiency. Some of the farmers around Highland are vaccinating their cattle and find it a very fair preventive. This is a bad disease, and there must be a remedy offered soon, as many of our valuable cattle die yearly as a consequence of it.

Though the new Catholic parsonage is not entirely finished, it is so far advanced that Father Hillebrand has been enabled to permanently establish himself and his library in ample airy rooms on the second floor. His study opens by the hall door on a wide balcony which overlooks the river and gives an expansive view of the panoramic landscape. The building is of the Greek style of architecture, a fact which impresses one most forcibly, when inspecting the interior, the decorations, of which, though tasteful and appropriate, are severely plain. The conspicuous object in the hallway of the second floor is the clock with weights swinging beneath it which in bird notes musically calls the four quarters of the hour.

Warner Grange, No. 117, P. of H., held its regular session in the grange hall at New Era Saturday. Owing to the funeral of Charles Armstrong, at Canby, many of the regular attendants were absent from the meeting, but the regular routine business was transacted on a good time was had. C. M. Waite, of Canby, Master of the grange, resigned, and in his place Mrs. L. E. McArthur was appointed. One feature of the day's proceedings and one deserving special mention was the effort made at this time to establish a free market, and what is meant by a free market is the doing away of commission merchants. These men, it was argued, consume almost all the profits to be derived from produce, and it will be the future endeavor of this grange and other granges in the state to do away with these middlemen. It is the intention of Warner Grange, No. 117, to hold a fair some time in October. The fair will be for the display of produce, and no little pains is to be employed to make it a success. Further announcements will be made when more is definitely known.

Oregon City again lowers the colors of Upchurch in a score of 17 to 3. The game was played Sunday afternoon on the new diamond at the park, and a large and appreciative crowd of spectators was present. It was decidedly Oregon City's day. Every man knew his duty, as every one met his responsibility with his accustomed skill. Every one of our men played as if his life depended on winning the game, and as if he had been a ball player for a hundred years. Lack of space and time renders it inconvenient at this time to eulogize every individual player who composed this splendid nine, and we will only make special mention of the work of Pitcher Calif and Catcher Martin. Their work was of a high order and their playing almost faultless. Next Sunday the Oregon City team plays on the new ground against a picked aggregation of stars from Portland. If the team keeps on playing together they will, next year, defeat the best amateur teams in the state of Oregon. The record is an enviable one, and we expect a splendid showing from this team at the coming season next summer. The new ball field at the park is in excellent order, $2000 having been expended on it. Of course time is required to put it in perfect condition.

You Get What You Ask For

WHEN you come to us and ask for a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, we don't try to sell you Blue Seal, Roaring Lion or some other inferior substitute on which we make a larger profit.

Almost every patent medicine in the market today is being imitated, and you will find some unscrupulous druggists always trying to sell you the counterfeit instead of the genuine. Not so with us. We give you what you ask for. Beware of the druggist who tries to sell you the imitation. If he would substitute on a patent medicine what would he do with your prescriptions?

In filling your prescriptions we compound them carefully and accurately, just as written. We have no stale drugs in our store. Our long experience in the prescription business well qualifies us for the work.

BETTER THAN MONEY!

WE issue demand certificates of deposit, which, when properly endorsed, may be transferred from one person to another. These certificates often take the place of money, and, owing to their safety and convenience, are used in the purchase of property, in the payment of debts, taxes, etc.

The Bank of Oregon City, Oregon City, Ore.

The fake fish game at the park on Sunday afternoon was very profitable to the cappers.

An ice cream and cake social will be given in the Salvation Army hall Saturday night, August 2, at 8 p. m., to help the local work. Come and give them a lift. Ice cream and cake, 10 cents.

Johanne Snider, the little son of Godfrey Snider, of Redland, who was reported as dead last Thursday, did not die at all. When the grief-stricken parents reached home they found that the boy had had a bad spell of heart failure, from which he had recovered before the parents arrived home.

The lawn fete at Mrs. T. W. Clark's residence on Sixth street, Friday night, was undoubtedly the greatest hit of the season. The spacious lawn was beautifully lighted up with lanterns and electric lights, and flags and brightly colored bunting decked the house and trees. An unusually large crowd of ladies and gentlemen assembled, and the liberal way with which they patronized the gypsin ten, the art gallery, lemonade fountain, ice cream stand and the automobile, was more than pleasing to the pains-taking promoters of the affair. The ice cream and lemonade were excellent, and the art gallery and the fortune telling provoked no end of laughter. The object of the social was to swell the fund for the drinking fountain and was under the able management of Mrs. T. W. Clark, the Dickens Club, and the humane society. The proceeds amounting to some thing like $35, will be applied to the erection of a drinking fountain, which is soon to be added to the city. The organizers of the humane society desire to express in this public patronage which the public gave the social, and they wish also to express their thanks to the Dickens Club for the pains-taking efforts which they exerted in making the social a success.

Labor Day.

J. H. Howard, organizer of A. F. of L. of this city, states that arrangements are completed for a demonstration on labor day by members of organized labor and their friends. Fully 1000 men will take part in the parade, which will start at corner of Second and Main streets, and will traverse all the streets of the city. All the business men will supply floats, as well as the civic and fraternal organizations. Miss Stella Nichols, a member of the Textile Workers, will be the Goddess of Labor. The Maccabees will present a float 10x18 feet, upon which will be staked a tent, and the degree team in full regalia. The car will be drawn by four white horses, attended by military footmen. Wacheno Tribe, No. 13, I. O. K. M., will have a float, which will be produced as an allegorical tableau of Indian characters in Indian costumes, preceded by an Indian brass band. On this day special cars between Portland and Oregon City will run every 20 minutes, and the round-trip fare of 50 cents will include admittance to the ball game and the many other attractions.

Bids Wanted.

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the undersigned for the construction of a new school house in district No. 15, according to plans and specifications in the hands of T. B. Thomas, Beaver Creek, or Supt. J. C. Zinsler, Oregon City, Oregon. Bids to be opened August 9, 1902. The board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.
HENRY HOLLMAN,
Clerk of District No. 15, Beaver Creek, Oregon.

Big Figures.

100,000,000 bottles of Perry Davis' Painkiller sold in 60 years. Just think! Nearly enough placed end to end to reach around the world. What other remedy can boast such a record of services to humanity in curing stomach and bowel complaints, and the many other ailments and accidents constantly occurring even in the most careful homes? There is only one painkiller, Perry Davis'. Beware of imitations.

H. S. WILSON, FRANK ROLLO.

Death of Judson Howell.

The death of Judson Howell occurred at St. Vincent's hospital, Portland, on Saturday. He was born in West Virginia fifty-eight years ago. He served four years in the Confederate army and lived in the Southern states till 1860, when he came with his family to Portland residing there for two years, and came in 1882 to Clackamas county and located on a farm near where Linn's mill is now located. He was deputy county clerk for six years under W. T. Whitlok and H. H. Johnson.

The funeral was held Sunday under the auspices of the Odd Fellows, Rev. M. Grimm officiating, and the remains interred in the Mountain View cemetery. The deceased had many old-time friends in this city. He left to mourn his departure the following children: Edward T. Howell, of Portland; Nanette B. Howell, of Kaukauna, Wis.; Mrs. J. E. Tappen, Tacoma; Garnett J. and William E. Howell, of Oregon City; Arthur E. Howell, of Portland.

Death of C. W. Armstrong.

Thursday Charles W. Armstrong, of Canby, while playing with Louis Graziop's children on the Graziop farm near Canby, was stricken with heart failure and died almost instantly. He had gone over to the dividing fence separating his place from the Graziop farm, to mend it, which was out of repair and had finished his task.

Mr. Armstrong was born at Cape Vincent, Jefferson county, N. Y., and at the age of 16 years went to Santa Clara, Cal., and engaged to work in a dairy for a Mr. Rea. He lived in San Joaquin county, Cal., until 1875, when he moved to Tull River, where, in 1876, he married Miss Ella Thurston. They lived there for three years, when they thought they could benefit their condition by moving northward, which they did in '79, settling near The Dalles, Oregon. From there they came to Clackamas county, settling at Canby, where they have resided continuously ever since. In his departure the people of Clackamas county lose a man of sterling qualities as a citizen and as a neighbor. His life, while unostentatious, was full of kindly deeds and loving charity which will be an enduring moment to his memory.

P. C. & O. Ry. Co. 25c is the regular Sunday round trip rate between Oregon City and Portland. Get your tickets at Harding's drug store.
