We ask you to compare our prices, our terms and our instruments with those that you secure elsewhere.

We do this because we feel morally certain of wha the result of such a comparison will be.

There's a good reason, a very good reason, why you should buy a piano from Eilers Piano House, and you make a mistake if you ignore it.

We know that our prices are lower on pianos and organs; we know that our terms are easier; we know that we have the best instruments that money can buy.

We want you to know it, too.

It's just as much to your interests as it is to ours for you to find this out.

There may appear a certain amount of self interest in what we say here, but if your interests and ours are identical, as we can show you they are, we are doing you a favor to call your attention to the superb line of Chickering, Weber, Kimball, Decker, Vose, and nearly 25 other leading makes of pianos that we carry, especially when you will save from $50.00 to $200.00 on an instrument by dealing with us.

AN UNEXPECTED ANSWER.

Bright Young Scholar's Response to Bright Young Teacher.

She was a bright young teacher in charge of a bright young class, composed of many foreign children. To increase their vocabulary she had hit on a guessing game. She told the class of what she was thinking, and they named the object.

This time she had thought of the word "birthday," and the lesson went on in this fashion:

"Now, little folks, I'm thinking of something you all have. You don't have it very often, just once every year. Even I have one. What is it? I'll give you a minute to think, and when you are sure you know raise your hand." Hands began to go up rapidly.

"My!" said this bright-young teacher. I really think I have the best little folks in all this big school. They all think so fast, and I know they are thinking of the very thing I thought. I'm going to let Morris tell. I'm sure he knows." Morris rose to his feet and stood in the aisle in true military position, and like a shot from a gun in response to the teacher's "Tell us what it is, Mor-

With the unconscious humor of the schoolroom and the examination we are familiar, but in this respect the prayer meeting and the board meeting that doles out parish relief remain almost untouched sources of fun.

Recently a trembling old lady at Camberwell appeared for parish relief. "But what is your son," she was asked, "that he cannot support you?" "Please, sir," she replied, "he's only a millionaire." Amid the ensuing laughter they learned that what she meant was commissionaire.

Also quite recently at a prayer meeting where the worshipers wished for the restoration to health of some friend one of them prayed, "O God, restore unto us our brother if it doth not interfere with thy perquisites." The situation was saved by the exclamation of an intelligent listener: "Halleluiah: The Lord knows what he means!"-London Chronicle.

Irish Bird Beliefs. A Dublin journal, speaking about the beliefs about birds in Ireland, says that the blackbird and thrush are "wandering souls" whose sins must be explated on earth; hence they are forced to endure the rigors of winter. Rooks, jackdaws, bats, hawks and owls are animated by lost souls. The wagtail is called the devil's bird for no other reason, it is supposed, than that it cleverly evades the missiles thrown at it. A dead wagtail is a rara avis.

The robin is called God's bird be-cause it plucked a thorn from the cruel crown pressed upon the head of our Saviour and in doing so wounded its own breast. It forsakes a "cursed" gravevard.

Sparrows, stares and plovers are on friendly terms with the fairles. The lark and the swallow are birds of good omen, but the latter should not rest on the housetop.

Human Hollowness.

If we look on the doings of a man with a merely worldly eye and pierce below the surface of character, we are apt to feel bitter scorn and disgust for our fellow creatures. We have lived to see human hollowness, the ashes of the Dead sea shore, the falseness of what seemed so fair, the moldering beneath the whited sepulcher, and no wonder if we are tempted to think "friendship all a cheat, smiles hypocrisy, words deceit," and they who are what is called knowing in life contract by degrees as the result of their experience a hollow distrust of men and learn to sneer at apparently good motives-that demoniacal sneer which we have seen, aye, perhaps felt, curling the lip at times.-Robertson.

It Cure

That's the personal question a woman asks herself when she reads of the cures of womanly diseases by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Why shouldn't it cure her? Is it a complicated case? Thousands of such cases have been cured by "Fa-vorite Prescription." Is it a condition which local doctors have declared incurable? Among the hundreds of thou-sands of sick women cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription there are a great many who were pronounced incurable by local doctors. Wonders have been worked by "Favorite Prescription" in the cure of irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures.

helps. It almost always cures.

"Three years ago," writes Mrs. John Graham, of 2018 Plumb Street, (Frankford) Philadelphia, Pa, "I had a very bad attack of dropsy which left me with heart trouble, and also a very weak back. At times I was so bad that I did not know what to do with myself. My children advised me to take your "Pavorite Prescription," but I had been taking so much medicine from the doctor that I was discouraged with everything. I came to Philadelphia two years ago, and picking up one of your little books one day began to read what your medicine had done for others, if determined to try it myself. I took seven bottles, and to-day I am a strong, well woman, weighing 162 pounds. Have gained 29 pounds since I started to use "Favorite Prescription."
