Tom Brown, the well known fish man from Salmon river, is in this city. He has been busy all the season taking eggs and keeping his place in good order; he has taken one million eggs, and hopes to take more before the season closes. The new hatchery is now under the process of construction. It is located four miles down the river from the present hatchery, and will be 40x100 feet.

An adjourned meeting of the city council was held Monday night to consider the matter of granting the Fred A. Morris franchise, which involves the right to build a railway on Third and Main street. The ordinance was read section by section and considerable discussion directed to each clause, but no definite action taken. The matter will be taken up again at the next regular session of the council.

Hon. and Mrs. Thomas F. Cowing, of Oregon City, are here visiting Judge and Mrs. Cowing. Mr. Cowing was formerly register of the U. S. land office here and before coming here was leader of the democratic party in Douglas county. After he left that country the republicans secured possession of every office in sight and have held onto them for the last fifteen years. Tom Cowing, as he was called, was a live man in the early days and consequently was always at the head of the procession.—Fergus Falls (Minn.) Free Press.

D. H. Boen, of Springwater, came to town Thursday. He and his family have been hop-picking and returned the other day to their home at Springwater and found that over half of their possessions had been burned to the ground. The reports heretofore have stated that his loss was $200, but he declares that the loss is $500 if it was a cent. He lost his barn, granary full of hay, several hundred bushels of grain and all of his potatoes were spoiled, so that they are unfit for use. Mr. Boen says that any contributions in the line of clothing will be very acceptable.

Special Prices

We had to buy a lot of tooth brushes to get such an inside price, but our customers have always helped us out in such cases before and we chanced it again. Now we propose giving one of these

Twenty Cent Tooth Brushes Free

With each bottle of our Antiseptic Tooth Powder or Tooth Wash.

The carpenters have torn out all our windows so that we cannot show these brushes unless you come inside, but that one of the reasons for making this offer—We want to get you in—want you to see some of the many other bargains we are offering during this alteration sale.

We hope in another week or two to announce that the carpenters, paper-hangers and painters are out, but until they are, we mean to offer you such extra bargains that you can well afford to overlook our delapidated condition.

The death of Miss Nellie Fuge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Fuge occurred Sunday morning, September 21, at the family home in Mount Pleasant. The funeral services were held at the residence and were conducted by Rev. Malloy, an old friend of the family. The deceased had been an invalid for many years, and her death was looked for most any time. The remains were interred in Mountain View cemetery on Monday.

Work in the Y. M. C. A. is awakening as the cooler weather approaches, and Secretary Leavens anticipates an active season. The board of directors met recently and elected W. H. Beach, of this city, to serve as physical director and Charles Draper to have charge of the educational work. The junior classes in the gymnasium work are already working with a will, and very soon Trainer Beach will open up the ladies class.

The Maccabee entertainment given at the Armory hall Tuesday night, was in every sense a grand success. The program, consisting of addresses, songs, recitations and instrumental selections were rendered by the best talent in the city. It was of an exceedingly high order and was shown high appreciation on the part of the large audience. The proceeds of the entertainment, amounting to $50 was given to the fire sufferers in the form of supplies. The Maccabees are always equal to the occasion and this time, in giving this splendid entertainment.

A very pleasing feature, especially to ladies and children, in which introduced in the performance of Gorton's Minstrels this season, is the beautiful and artistic act of little Cleone Pearl. The phenomenal child dancer, and comedienne. This bright and accomplished little artist, though young in years, displays a marvelous degree of skill and finish in her work, and is credited with making a positive hit wherever she has appeared. At Shively's next Wednesday Oct. 1st.

Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock, Miss Erma LaMae Lawrence was united in marriage to Mr. Ernest L. Jones. The impressive ceremony occurred at the bride's home in East Portland and Rev. A. J. Montgomery, of Portland officiated. Mrs. Jones has been for several years a very successful teacher in the public schools of this city and Mr. Jones is now engaged in the drug business in Oregon City. The young couple has a host of friends, not only in this city but throughout the state, whose best wishes attend them. They will be at home in this city to their friends, November 1st.

If some of the sufferers from fire at Springfield were furnished with grass seed so that the entire section could be sown to grass it would be a God send to the community. Now is the time to sow the seed. The sufferers have received a liberal supply of clothing and groceries, but no money has shown up and money they need now to rebuild before the rainy season sets in. As is usual with such a number less deserving than the rest have secured more than their share of relief, some even going so far as to take loads of stuff home when more needy ones had but little.

Lower Main street is in a horrible condition, and something should be done at once or there will be an accident that the city will have to pay for. The O. W. P. & R. R. Co. offer to furnish dirt to fill the street for 15 cents per yard. This would be the cheaper in the end but would cost about a $1000 now. It will cost about $300 now to repair the timbers so they will last till next year when the entire roadway will have to be renewed or repaired. The street has been partly torn up so as to keep teams off, but the electric roadway is open so teams can use the street in its dangerous condition.

A man by the name of Andrew Erickson, who lives in this city, is experiencing considerable trouble in getting track of his boy, a youth of 18 years, who went away last May to pick strawberries. From all that can be learned, the boy went to Portland and fell into the hands of one of those sailor boarding-houses, and they probably enticed him, by false representation, to go to sea. He is now many miles away from home, and the father is anxiously endeavoring to procure his return. The boy left a note at the boarding-house, which the father didn't get for two weeks afterwards, because the authorities did all they could to delay its delivery. This is not the first time that boys have been inveigled into running away from home for a hard life at sea, and this kind of business ought to be checked.
