An Actual Conversation.

That took place between two prominent Oregon City ladies at an afternoon tea. Names not mentioned.

Mrs. X. (the guest)—My! What lovely table linen. Mrs. K. (the hostess)—Yes, it is lovely. Mamma gave me two cloths and a dozen napkins when I was married—ten years ago. Mrs. X.—Where did she get them? Mrs. K.—At McAllen & McDonnell's. Mrs. X.—Well! I was never in there. I don't know why. Mrs. K.—Mamma says she can do better there than anywhere. You know they only keep dry goods, and they do understand. Next day I go shopping I will take you along. And they came.

On the evening of October 6th will be determined who is to succeed Rev. A. J. Montgomery as pastor of the Presbyterian church in this city.

A fine three-seated carriage has just arrived and is now in W. H. Young's livery stable ready for the public patronage.

The Butte Creek fair will begin Friday and continue over Saturday of this week. This promises to be one of the most successful fairs in the history of the association.

A good Normal Course can be pursued at Oregon City Normal College at most reasonable and favorable rates. Next session begins Wednesday, October 1. W. H. Davis, Pres.

The Maple Lane Grange will hold its regular monthly meeting at 10 o'clock a. m., on the first Saturday in October. All the friends and the general public are invited to attend. A bountiful luncheon will be served, and it will be worth the time of any one to attend.

Charles Roberts, an employe in the paper mill was obliged to go to Portland this week and have his eye removed. For quite awhile the eye has been giving Mr. Roberts considerable trouble and lest it affect the sight of the other eye it had to be removed.

William Delay and wife of Mt Pleasant returned last week from a visit in the country. Mr. Delay has the honor of having known Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Dougless and of having accompanied them from place to place when holding their famous debates in Illinois.

A seven-year-old boy went to the Baptist Sunday school last Sunday and was the only pupil in his class. On his return home he told his mother that he was going to lay off for a few Sundays as all the rest of the boys were on a strike and he didn't want to be the only "scab" in the school.

Miss Metta Finley gave a pleasant reception to Miss Mattie Draper Monday evening at her home. The occasion was the celebration of Miss Draper's birthday, and a number of her friends assembled and passed the evening pleasantly with games, after which a dainty luncheon engaged their attention.

The case of O. A. Cheney vs. W. W. May was heard in the justice court Tuesday afternoon before a jury of six men. Mr. Cheney sued Mr. May for his commission for selling his place to a Mr. White. The defense was that there was no contract between Mr. Cheney and Mr. May to sell the property, but the jury saw it different and awarded Mr. Cheney $25 and costs.

The popular Mi waukie band gave an entertainment at Milwaukie Tuesday night for the benefit of the people whose property has been burned. The program consisted of readings, recitations, singing, speaking and last but not least, the Milwaukie band rendered several selections in a highly creditable manner. The proceeds taken in were considerable and will be immediately advanced to these needy people.

The water commissioners held a meeting Friday night and decided that it was necessary to erect a tank back of the city filter. As it now is the water supply has to be cut off for a few minutes every evening while the tanks are being cleaned. This is a needed improvement and the city council, after due deliberation on the matter, has consented to the erection of this tank.

Eugene B. Horton, son of Postmaster Horton, received notification last Friday from the war department that he had been chosen first alternate for cadetship at West Point. Should the first candidate fail to qualify Mr. Horton will be admitted to the academy provided he is able to pass the examination. He is now a student at the State University, Eugene.

John Baker, who is one of the engineers at the Willamette mill, narrowly escaped losing his arm Monday night. He was working around his engine and his hand slipped and became caught in some part of the machine. At first it was thought he would lose his thumb, but Dr. Carll thinks the injury will heal without any difficulty. Mr. Baker will not be able to return to his work for about 10 days.

John Heft, one of the Shubel farmers, was in the city Tuesday. Mr. Heft informs us that he was among the very few farmers in his section who was not burned out, and he attributes this to the fact that he saw the fire coming two days before, and he came to Oregon City and purchased 100 feet of hose and drawing the water from his pump, he kept the yard around his house and barn wet. This is truly when a "stitch in time saves nine."

The subscription list which has been going the rounds the last few days for the benefit of the poor people who were burned out by the recent fires in Clackamas county, is receiving a cordial reception at the hands of the people of Oregon City. All the business men have given liberally, and many of the hard-working people employed in the mills are coming willingly to the front and making liberal contributions.

The rush work in the sheriff's office is now nearing its close. For several days Sheriff Shaver has had extra help in receiving taxes, and the task of keeping up with the demand is by no means small. The law requires that all the taxes be paid by the first Monday in October when they become delinquent and it is to save their property from being thus sold, that people are now hastening to the sheriff's office.

Saturday as a team driven by Archie Young, was ascending the drive way leading to the Southern Pacific depot, one of the horses took a notion into his head to jump over the railing and over the fence, as he fell, the weight of his body threw him out of the harness entirely and he nearly choked to death. Archie however, with the assistance of his friends that came to the rescue and soon extricated the animal from his trap and he went on his way rejoicing, apparently ready to repeat the trick.

The work of raising the Methodist church is now being rapidly pushed and in a few days the present structure will have taken on new proportions. The building will be raised seven feet higher than at present, and the store room is to be as large as the floor dimensions of the church. Owing to the fact that some of the supports must be removed the steeple will be cut down considerably, ably, and perhaps changed to a different position on the roof. Already the room is in demand, and several good business men are seeking the occupancy of it.

School opened in this city Monday with auspicious prospects. Considering the fact that, at that time many of the children had not returned from hop picking, the enrollment was good with prospects that it will increase during the next few days. As many of our readers are personally interested in the teachers who have charge of the youths of this city, we disclose their names and respective grades—Barclay school: ninth and tenth grades—Barclay school: ninth and tenth grades, Miss A.
