That took place between two prominent Oregon City ladies at an afternoon tea. Names not mentioned.

Mrs. X. (the guest)—My! What lovely table linen. Mrs. K. (the hostess)—Yes, it is lovely. Mamma gave me two cloths and a dozen napkins when I was married—ten years ago. Mrs. X.—Where did she get them? Mrs. K.—At McAllen & McDonnell's. Mrs. X.—Well! I was never in there. I don't know why. Mrs. K.—Mamma says she can do better there than anywhere. You know they only keep dry goods, and they do understand. Next day I go shopping I will take you along. And they came.

He is at present a candidate for governor of that state and is traveling throughout the United States in the interest of Labor. He will probably speak near the suspension bridge in the open air, but the hour is not known yet.

The old Whitlock house at the corner of Eleventh street is an eye sore as well as a source of danger to the general traveling public. The doors are open and the windows are broken and the place affords to considerable a stand for a holdup some dark night. This old structure ought to certainly be removed or the broken windows replaced and the doors fastened. The time is now approaching when some nighthawk will be looking for a chance to wrest a dollar from someone at the point of a point of a gun, and it will be well to be on the alert when passing this miserably neglected house.

It is always gratifying to the friends and members of the Y. M. C. A. to know that the work is progressing nicely. Secretary Leavens feels greatly encouraged at the outlook and anticipates good results this winter. Tuesday evening the class work began with Charles Draper as instructor, and last Friday Physical Director William Beach held the first meeting of the senior gymnasium class, a large attendance was present and all commenced the work with a determination pleasing to witness. Next Sunday afternoon A. S. Dresser will have charge of the young men's meeting at the association parlors and all who are interested are invited to come.

The quite solitude of the evening when a band of noisy youth assembled at the home of James Baxter and tendered him and his rousing charivar. About two weeks ago Mr. Baxter was united in marriage to Miss Annie Hennes and ceremony was performed with such secrecy that the friends of the young couple were ignorant of it. They, however, learned of the occurrence a few days ago.

Wednesday morning, October 1st, saw the game law out and many hunters are enroute for the woods. From all that can be learned from friends up the valley hunting bids fair to be better than usual. The woods and fields are said to be full of birds.

The M. E. Conference at Grants Pass, closed Monday. The following Clackamas county appointments were made: Canby, Andrew Monroe; Clackamas, S. W. Potter; Viola, to be supplied; Oswego, A. C. Fairchild; Oregon City, W. S. Grimm.

It seems that some sections of the timber country where the fire raged, the damage was not as great as at first thought. The fire though running well into the timber did not burn many of the trees, as badly as was said, only blacking up the bark of many and at the same time clearing out the underbrush. After all "it is an ill wind that blows no body good."

The losses on Grange risks in the recent fire, in the Springwa'er section, aggregate $225. The assessment on policy holders to cover this loss will be between 2 and 3 mills, say two bits on the $1.00. Several grangers who suffered losses from the fire had allowed their policies to elapse, believing that the possibility of a conflagration was not worthy of a serious thought.

Monday night Company A., O. N. G. had its usual inspection, this inspection was made by Major VanEgglostein, of the Third Regiment of Portland. Lieutenant Humphreys states that this was one of the best inspections which the company has had for a long time. The boys made a splendid showing and the Major was highly pleased with their exhibition.
