I. M. Park, of Springfield, was in this city Wednesday. He was one of the unfortunate men in Springfield, who lost everything he had. He and his wife and children are now sleeping in a tent, 12x15 feet, with poor prospects of getting anything better before the cold weather sets in.

W. F. Snodgrass, who has been conducting a high class art gallery in this city, left Wednesday for the East. He will stop at Salt Lake City a few days and then go to Chicago. It is his intention to visit Niagara Falls. He will remain East this winter and return to the coast in the spring. He has made many friends in Oregon City during his brief sojourn here.

Prof. T. J. Gary, who has been teaching on the West Side, has given up teaching and will now take charge of the grocery store and post office at Willamette Falls, conducted by A. S. Hurst. Professor Gary will employ Miss Kate Ward to act as postmistress. It seems almost a pity that the educational circle of this county must lose a man of professor's ability.

H. M. Dukes, of Salt Lake, is in the city.

J. R. Carr, of Stone, was in Oregon City Thursday.

Ed Nelson, of Highland, was in Oregon City Thursday.

The house of Gottfried Wallace, of Highland, caught fire in the moss on the roof last week. Luckily he and two neighbors were near by and by their vigorous efforts they put the fire out. A few minutes later saving of the property would have been out of the question. Moss on shingles is an ever present danger.

Mrs. Andrew Erickson, who resides north of the city, is fearful lest her son August, a youth of 18 years, who sailed away to sea in May, is dead. In the Evening Telegram of Wednesday appeared an item in which it was stated that a young man by the name of Erickson had died at sea while en route for China.

H. W. Jackson who has been so long at his old stand in this city mending bicycles and doing general repair work left this week for Portland where he will open a machine shop on 1st and Madison. He intends to make automobiles and mend them as he is a man who thoroughly understands this line of workmanship.

Everything points towards a favorable announcement concerning the church debt at the Congregational church next Sunday evening. There will be no canvassing for funds during the day. So none need to stay away for fear of an ecclesiastical hold-up. The morning and evening themes, respectively, will be "Beauty and Bands" and "Some Important Questions About Work."

Next Sunday is a glad day for the Baptist church. Its rally Sunday, a day when all of the pupils of the Sunday school will return. In full numbers and begin anew, the work of the ensuing year. In the morning of the junior classes under direction of the evening by some equally and interesting exercises by the older pupils. This is one of the largest school in the city, the attendance when all are there is 250 and this year it is to be the endeavor of all to increase the attendance to 300.

The Knight and Ladies of Security installed their new officers and initiated two candidates at the meeting last Friday. Supper was served and dancing followed. The officers are: President, Mrs. Augusta Lutz; vice-president, Miss Swartz; 2nd vice, A. W. Phillips; financial secretary, Mrs. Boyles; recording secretary, Bessie Woods; treasurer, Jack Woods; prelate, Mrs. Deck; conductor, Anna Lutz; inside guard, Mrs. Madson; sentinel, Mrs. Madson; trustees, Mrs. W. Kelly compose a party who have filed contests in the United States land office in this city against the Northern Pacific Railroad Co.

Constable Moody left for Salem Tuesday with requisition papers through which Governor Geer will request Governor McBride, of Washington for permission to bring Edward Gealy to Oregon City. The prisoner is now at Olympia, where he was arrested on a charge of stealing $450 from some friend near Barlow. The boy's small brother has confessed that young Edward took the money but its quite probably that his tender years of youthfulness will save him from suffering the extreme rigor of the law.

The M. E. church is rapidly being raised to make room for the large store building which is to be built underneath F. S. Baker who has charge of raising the church building, states the work of raising will be completed next Wednesday when the men will commence excavating. The church authorities are to experience no difficulty in procuring renters for the new store room, for already several applicants have requested a chance to rent it.

Secretary Leavens reports that the reading room at the Y. M. C. A. has been enlarged considerably and that the patronage increases every day. Mr. William Beach who has charge of the gymnasium work is already developing some good material, both in the men's as well as the women's classes. Several married women are taking an active part in the work and several more will probably come in before long. Last Sunday the attendance at the men's meeting was not large and it has been decided to postpone the meetings for a few weeks until the young people return to the city.

Friday evening the young people of the Oregon City Academy will organize a debating society. From present indication this will be largely attended, as much interest is shown by the pupils in this kind of work. It is a desire of the pupils to hold a debate with the Barclay school, but it is not known that the Barclay school will condescend to a thing of this kind. Friday evening officers will be elected after which Howard M. Brownell has been invited to address the society. All friends and members of the school are invited to be present.

Several members of those splendid organizations, Meade Post G. A. R. and W. R. C. tendered Mr. and Mrs. J. Martin a most pleasing surprise party Tuesday evening at their home in Oregon City. They have been in Astoria most of the summer since their marriage last spring, and these ladies and gentlemen not wishing to be understood as in least to be neglectful, gave them the above mention surprise. The visitors approached the Martin home amid the melody of tin cans and bell chimes; upon entering the house handsome presents were given and a delightful time in general was enjoyed.

It may be in order at this time to offer a word of caution to our friends to be prepared for hold ups, that the time of year is approaching when daring robbers can readily encounter the public, coming and going after sun down, and as will be remembered from last year's record, some men are expert at terrorizing the late traveler into giving up his money and his jewelry. A few nights ago this very trick was tried by some novice on a citizen of this place and but for the drivers presence of mind he might have been forced to surrender and give up his valuable watch and money. A word to the wise, it is said, is sufficient. Be eternally on the watch.

Remember Ladies will be admitted free to the performance of the Madison Square Theatre Company at the opera house next Monday night.

The work of laying the foundation for the new pulp mill which has been progressing under the direction of the Crown Paper Company near the flouring mill is being pushed as rapidly as the laborious task will admit. A large gang of men have been working with a will for several weeks, but as considerable of the work requires the men to stand in the water, its progress retarded, and just when the foundation will be completed is not definitely known. When the mill is finished, it will be as is everything owned by the Paper Co., a first class concern in every particular.

Captain J. F. Clark, a G. A. R., veteran and well known in this city and county, died Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Fred Painter in Canemah. The deceased has suffered with poor health for the past few years. A few days ago while at Molalla his illness assumed a dangerous form which kept getting worse until Saturday when the end came. Mr. Clark was a prominent G. A. R. veteran in the eastern states but has taken but little active part here on the coast. As a soldier, he was always at his duty and true to the obligation imposed on him. He leaves a wife, daughter, Mrs. Nellie C. Bogart, and a son, John B. Clark, of New York. The funeral services was held at the residence of Fred Painter at Canemah Monday. Captain Clark has lived in Oregon City for the past thirteen years and for the last eight years worked as mill-wright for the Portland General Electric Co. at the old station on the basin.

On Monday evening the Madison Square Company will present the beautiful sensational comedy-drama, entitled "A Mountain Wolf." Secure your seats early at Huntleys.
