LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

The St. Paul's Guild is doing much charitable work in the city. They met a few days ago at the home of Mrs. T. F. Ryan and made many plans for the winter work.

J. H. Turney, the popular orchestra manager, gave one of his pleasing dances at the armory Saturday night. A good crowd was in attendance and all had an enjoyable time.

Dr. Powell made a hurried trip to Springfield a few days ago in response to a summons to care for a smallpox case. The doctor found but one case with little danger of the contagious malady spreading.

The United Artisans of Oregon City paid a visit to their brother order at Oswego Saturday and as usual a good time was enjoyed by all. A short program was rendered, and last but not least, the guests were given a delicious luncheon, such a one as only this good old order can spread.

In the congregational business meeting held Thursday night in the Presbyterian church, Rev. Frank Mixsell, of Horicon, Wis., was elected to fill the pulpit recently vacated by the resignation of Rev. A. J. Montgomery. Rev. Mixsell is a man of rare abilities and if he accepts the call tendered him, he will certainly be a factor for much good of the community at large.

The Oswego Grange will hold its annual fair Friday and Saturday of this week. Efforts are being put forward to making it exceed in exhibits and attractiveness anything of the kind they have ever held there before. There will be some of the exhibits for sale, but the principal object is to exchange ideas and for the instruction of Grange members. A dinner will be served at noon Saturday, for which a small charge will be made, but the entertainment of the evening will be free.

Allie Grout is certainly one of the most unfortunate lads in Oregon City. On Saturday while jumping at the Y. M. C. A. his foot caught in such a way as to break his left arm between the elbow and shoulder. It was only a few months ago he was thrown from a horse and the other arm was broken. He had the misfortune to break his arm some time ago when he fell from a trapeze. When the boy broke his arm the last time Dr. Sommer was summoned and set the member.

Work at the Oregon City Academy is progressing at a promising rate and the young ladies and gentlemen who are attending are working with a will. Professor Davis and his wife are both busy with their class work from 9 o'clock a. m. to sometimes 9 p. m., and if the attendance keeps on increasing, as it now promises to do, the Professor will have to put in more seating room. day, are taking a night course of study and their work is correspondingly good. Very soon the young people will organize a debating society, and, as they already have developed some good speakers, their debates will be interesting.

The matter of incorporating the Milwaukie which has been the scene of so much litigation and controversy for so many weeks, was settled the other day when the county commissioners ordered a city election Tuesday, October 21. The matter of incorporation has been a debated question on the part of the good people of Milwaukie ever since the proposal was made, and when it is recognized that the majority are in favor of incorporating the place, some are earnestly opposing it. At the election, if it is decided by the suffrage of the voters that the place will be incorporated, there will have to be election of a mayor, marshal, alderman, recorder and a treasurer. Milwaukie has only 300 inhabitants.

The Cross Mining Claims.

Caleb Cross and sons have put their summer's outing to good use by doing development work on two mining claims in the Bald Mining district. In one of them they have run a 114-foot tunnel. Essays give $6 and $4 gold per ton respectively, besides a percentage of silver and copper. The two ledges, which are wide at the top, are situated at small lakes at the headwaters of the Oulowash, and water power could be obtained for running a stamp mill most of the year. The owners of the claims believe that with a road built to them, which would cost about $2000, and a mill of a few stamps, they would prove very profitable.

New Use for Paraffine Wax.

A new and important use for Refined Paraffine Wax seems to have been discovered by a prominent resident of Ohio, living near Lancaster, who had trees badly damaged by storm, one being a maple and the other an apple. In each case a large limb was broken down from the trunk, but still attached to it. The limbs were propped up and fastened securely with straps, very much as a broken leg might be fastened with splints, and then melted refined wax poured into and over all the cracks. The "surgical operation" was entirely successful. The Paraffine prevented the escape of the sap, kept out the rain and moisture which would have rotted the trees, prevented the depredations of insects, and the limbs seem thus far to be perfectly re-attached to the trees.

List of Painters.

We, the undersigned, painters of Oregon City, wish to let the people of this city know who the union painters are, as there are men in this city claiming to be union painters who are not. A list of the union painters will be published each month. They are:

Chills and Fever is a bottle of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure—no pay. Price 50c.

City Council.

An adjourned session of the city council was held Monday evening with the mayor and all the councilmen present.

The roadway on lower Main street was ordered repaired at a cost of $500. The wagon bridge across the Abernethy was also ordered fixed.

The Main business of the evening was the passage of the franchise giving the O. W. P. & Ry. Co. a 10-year franchise to run freight trains on Main street with a license of $400 per year for first 5 years and $500 per year for second 5 years. The original franchise presented by the company was for 25 years but the council on account of the pressure brought to bear by the Main street property owners was forced to cut it down to 10 years. The franchise also includes permission to build tracks on Third street from Main to the river and tracks from Main street into the warehouse this company expects to build. E. G. Caulfield appeared before the council in the interest of the property owners on Main street, and it was mainly through his efforts that the council cut down the franchise to 10 years. The city administration seemed to be willing to grant nearly all the company asked and but for the remonstrance would no doubt have done so, although Albright, the moving spirit for both franchises, made some grandstand plays probably to redeem himself. The citizens of Oregon City will no doubt feel much relieved to know this matter has been settled. The company offers to pay all costs and attorney fees and dismisses all suits now pending against the city.

When Sickness Comes

To the head of the family—the bread winner, the omnipresent thought is "Have I safely provided for the wife and little ones?"

Nine times out of ten, "No" is the answer. It is then too late, however, to do anything. The essential thing to do is to prepare now for what may occur at any time. An investigation of the Massachusetts Mutual's new policies and bonds, will, without a doubt, bring to your notice a contract that will exactly suit your case.

If interested, send a postal, giving your name, address, occupation and date of birth, when an illustration will be sent you, showing EXACTLY what the company will do for you. No guess work about it, as the dividends are paid ANNUALLY and not withheld for twenty years or so, and then not paid unless the contract is in force AT THAT TIME.

A Typical South African Store.

O. R. Larson, of Bay Villa, Sundays River, Cape Colony, conducts a store typical of South Africa, at which can be purchased anything from the proverbial "needle to an anchor." This store is situated in a valley nine miles from the nearest railway station and about twenty-five miles from the nearest town. Mr. Larson says: "I am favored with the custom of farmers within a radius of thirty miles, to many of whom I have supplied Chamberlain's remedies. All testify to their value in a household where a doctor's advice is almost out of the question. Within one mile of my store the population is perhaps sixty. Of these, within the past twelve months, no less than fourteen have been absolutely cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This must surely be a record." For sale by G. A. Harding.
